

LOOKING UP SITE FOR CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL

Land Near the County Training School Considered—The High School and Finances

The health department expenses connected with contagious diseases was $2000 more for the first six months of the present year than for the corresponding months of any preceding year. The great need of a hospital for the care of contagious diseases is becoming more and more pronounced each year and it is hoped that some action will be taken by the city council before the state board of health is obliged to issue another warning.

Numerous hospital sites have been viewed by the municipal council and Dr. Simpson of the state board of health during the last month or so, but nothing definite has been done toward the purchase or seizure of a site. It is understood, however, that a site comprising 60 acres, mostly in Chelsea, the old Bowers estate, so called, is foremost in the minds of the investigators, but there are drawbacks that may be impossible to overcome.

It would be possible, it is stated, to erect a hospital on the site and have it nearly half a mile from the nearest building, which would be the Middlesex county training school. It is understood that the land can be purchased at a fairly reasonable price, but the water supply is the big obstacle in the way. It would be necessary to have city water and city sewers. The county commission had the Middlesex street sewer extended to the county school some time ago and in order to enter that sewer it would be necessary to get the permission of the county commission. It would probably require a special act of the legislature to extend the water service over the city line. The fact remains, however, that some action aiming at the erection of a contagious hospital will have to be made within a very short time if the state board of health will know the reason why.

The Financial Statement

The financial statement for the month of June has just been issued by the finance department and reveals the fact that a great deal of the money appropriated for this year remains unexpended. The sum of $218,000, including the $20,000 loan or order passed yesterday, has been borrowed thus far this year, and this is exclusive of the $325,000 borrowed for the water department.

All of the $218,000 went to the street department and that department has remaining unexpended, loans and appropriations inclusive, $160,918.60. The total appropriation was $310,830.00 and of that amount $200,000.00 remains unexpended. The sum of $160,918.60 is a big sum of money to spend within the next few months, but Mr. Morse has a lot of work to do, and, of course, there are some outstanding bills that will reduce this very healthy unexpended roll.

The city, according to the report, was $302,000 nearer than on Jan. 1, when the distance from the debt limit was $382,179.45. The report gives the total valuation, personal and real estate, as $6,875,514.03; the gross city debt less sinking funds, as $3,506,445.00; and the excess in valuation of all city property over the gross debt of the city was $3,369,068.53.

The New High School

It was stated today at city hall that a great many people living in Kirk and June street, believed they will have to move for a year to come and few, if any of them, have made any preparations to move. The fact remains, however, that they will have to move within two months and it is up to the city council or the school board to see that they are not inconvenienced. It was also stated that a number of the property owners in those streets are under the impression that the city will have to pay the value of the property in the event of seizure. This, too, is a big mistake and it is the duty of the city council to explain these things away to the property owners in these streets.

Mr. Elliott of the school committee is an expert real estate man and he says he has never known of a case where a man has been selling as high as his assessed value. It was stated today, but not authoritatively, that the knights of Columbus might return to their old quarters in the Associate building until they have secured a new home.

RESTORE PEACE AND ORDER IN MEXICO

Carranza to Issue Amnesty Law—First Narrative Account of Capture of Mexico City

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The first narrative account of the capture of Mexico City was received today by Gen. Carranza's agency from Vera Cruz. It states that the early engagements, in which it was reported that the Carranza troops were defeated, were minor fights during which Gen. Gonzalez was distributing his army for the final effort.

"The actual fighting began on the morning of Thursday, July 8, at Tepaxtlan and from that time until the final capture of the city, the Carranza troops fought on a continuous basis, and the fighting was not interrupted," says the report.

"The fighting of July 8 did not end until the enemy were behind their entrenchments at the Grand canal and at Corro Gordo. There was a heavy artillery bombardment of Corro Gordo all day, but none of the shells reached the city proper, owing to the distance.

"At 4 o'clock on the morning of July 9 fighting was renewed with a heavy artillery fire which shortly silenced the enemy artillery. Immediately the Zapata guns had ceased firing an infantry charge was ordered and after a severe fight the entrenchments of the Zapatistas were carried and the constitutionalist soldiers smashed their way into Villa de Guadalupe. In Guadalupe Gen. Gonzalez immediately established general headquarters and while this was going on more heavy fighting was under way and a strong force on the east side of the city assaulted and carried Penon Hill, and continued the advance until the outlying houses of the city proper were reached.

"On the morning of July 10, Gen. Carranza advanced Villistas into the city followed by reconnoitering parties when it was found that the enemy had evacuated. During Saturday night a strong force of constitutionalists was detached to pursue retreating Zapatistas, who were overtaken at Tlalpam and defeated.

Fled in Panic

"At 10 o'clock on the morning of July 11 the constitutionalist forces under Gen. Muehena entered Mexico City only to find that the officials of the so-called convention government had fled in panic to Cuernavaca. At once Gen. Gonzalez issued a manifesto, made public yesterday, with regard to the conduct of the city during the period of pacification and readjustment. He also issued the decree of amnesty for all military and civil offenders. In the four days of fighting the enemy's losses were more than 3000 killed and many more wounded and missing.

"No representations have been made since the capture of the capital by the Carranza forces, asking for moral support of the United States but some move along that line is not unexpected."

Another column of Villa's forces, meanwhile, according to advices to his agents here, is continuing the campaign toward Mexico City. After the capture of Queretaro yesterday it is claimed they completely isolated Obregon from his base of supplies.

A statement issued by the Villa agency follows:

"The confidential agency, on authority from Gen. Villa wishes to deny emphatically the report that he is to relinquish his position as commander in chief, in favor of Gen. Jose Isabel Robles, or that there is any movement among his generals aiming at such action."

AMNESTY LAW TO RESTORE PEACE

WASHINGTON, July 11.—General Carranza has ordered erection of a wireless station at Chapultepec to insure constant communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz. American Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz so reported today, after having been in direct communication with the Brazilian minister in the capital.

Food supplies, chiefly corn, are arriving in the city, Mr. Silliman added, and Gen. Gonzalez has announced that he will give preference to supply trains over troop trains entering the city.

Consul Silliman also confirmed other despatches from Mexico City that Gen. Gonzalez had captured the water works, which had been cut off by the Zapata forces evacuating the city.

Another message to the state department said Villa evidently has evacuated Aguas Calientes, his forces which had been in conflict with Gen. Obregon's troops near that point proceeding northward.

Gen. Carranza will issue an amnesty decree to Mexicans who will return "to the true path." His agency here today received this despatch from Vera Cruz:

"With reference to the occupation of Mexico City, Gen. Pablo Gonzalez will afford all kinds of guarantees to natives and foreigners. He has instructions from me severely to punish all crimes against property."

"Within a few days I will, in my capacity of first chief, issue an amnesty law in an endeavor to have these in error, return to the true path and to restore peace and order in the republic."

IMPORTANT GAIN BY GERMANS AT VERDUN

Berlin Claims Victory—Paris Reports Germans Checked—43 British Ships Sunk in June

The German thrust at Verdun has resulted in an important gain of ground, according to the current official statement from Berlin. In the Argonne the Germans report having captured French positions along a front of a mile and four-fifths, the gain extending to a depth of three-fifths of a mile. The hill known as No. 235 also was taken, the statement says.

The Germans took 2581 prisoners and two field cannon and destroyed the usefulness of eight other cannon, they declare.

The latest French official statement claims that the Germans in the Argonne have been definitely stopped.

Paris Claims Germans Checked

After a heavy bombardment, the Germans attempted the re-capture of the trenches near Piken taken by the British on July 5, but were easily repulsed, according to the Paris statement.

Italian Victory

Reports of an Italian victory in the Carnic Alps with two miles of Austrian trenches captured, have been received by a Geneva newspaper.

43 British Ships Sunk in June

Figures given out in Berlin show the sinking of 43 merchant vessels by German submarines during the month of June, the tonnage of destroyed shipping, including fishing craft, totalling 125,000 tons.

Check for German Crown Prince

The battle line in France is furnishing for the moment the only news of the pronounced military activity. The German struggle for Verdun is regarded by observers on the side of the entente allies as on in earnest, with assaults in both the Argonne and the Woivre.

Latest French reports record a check for the German crown prince in his attacks in the former region.

Quiet On Eastern Front

Almost complete silence veils the situation in the eastern war theatre. Petrograd reports no engagements in southern Poland or eastern Galicia and both Vienna and Berlin declare conditions in this territory are unchanged.

Italian Air Raid

Rome reports the situation along the Austro-Italian front unaltered, the brief official statement only chronicling a raid by Italian airmen on a large Austrian camp in the neighborhood of Gorizia which is declared to have been successful.

Austrian statement says there have been several artillery engagements and that an infantry attack was repulsed near Redipaglia.

Germans Strengthen Constantinople

German engineers are strengthening the defenses of Constantinople on a huge scale according to advices through Mytilene received in London.

FRESH AMMUNITION AND REINFORCEMENTS MAY SOON REVIVE ACTIVITY

LONDON, July 14, 12.35 p. m.—For more than a week now the Austro-German offensive in Galicia and Poland has been hanging fire, while the Russians, their centre having fallen back on a more advantageous line in the heights to the north of Krasnik, apparently are awaiting the next move of the Teutonic forces.

Fresh ammunition and reinforcements may bring a sudden revival of activity in this war theatre, but meantime the western front by reason of the uncertainty as to which side plans a general offensive will offer the greatest possibilities of interesting developments.

The French claim their front in the Argonne forest, after being denied by a violent attack by the army of Crown Prince Rupprecht, is now quiet.

TO KILL WALSH

HUBERT M. POTTER DEAD

Letter Also States That Bombs Have Been Placed in State House

BOSTON, July 14.—An afternoon paper announces the receipt of an anonymous communication in which the writer, describing himself as a German spy, states that two bombs have been placed in the state house and another in the custom house tower and that these will explode "about Friday." Also the governor is to be killed, according to the message, which was crudely lettered with a lead pencil.

It was turned over to the police who recently examined a similar threat against the custom house without determining whether the writer was a crank or a so-called practical joker.

MANSFIELD IN COURT

FORMER PROPRIETOR OF FERN-CROFT INN AND TWO WAITERS PLEADED NOT GUILTY

SALEM, July 14.—Harry K. Mansfield, formerly a tavern keeper at Middleton and Henry A. Allen and Charles Conrad, waiters in his employ, pleaded not guilty today to two indictments charging them with conspiring to place names on the voting list of Middleton. The district attorney stated that similar indictments had been returned against Morris Taylor, Lyman S. Wilkins and H. E. Howe, town assessors and that they would plead to them later.

THE THAW CASE

Concluding Arguments --Thaw May Know His Fate Tonight

NEW YORK, July 14.—Harry K. Thaw may know by tonight whether he is to be set free as the outcome of his nine years' fight to prove that he is sane, or whether he is to be sent back to the Matteawan asylum as insane.

The state had closed its case and there remained only the submission of rebuttal evidence, which, it was announced, would occupy only a few minutes, the arguments of the attorneys and Justice Hendrick's charge to the jury.

As the jury is acting really in an advisory capacity, Justice Hendrick may disregard any verdict if may render.

It was reported today that if Justice Hendrick decided that Thaw is sane the state would at once take an appeal.

During the latter part of Mr. Cook's summing up, United States Senators Ollie James of Kentucky and Hughes of New Jersey entered the court room and took seats on the bench with Justice Hendrick.

Arguments for Thaw

Mr. Stanchfield, counsel for Thaw began by declaring that neither he or the court was concerned with the previous actions of Thaw. "The question," said Mr. Stanchfield, "is whether he is sane today."

Counsel then took up the remark made on the stand yesterday by Dr. Austin Flint, chief alienist for the state, that "the unwritten law does not go here." He said that legally Dr. Flint was right, but that technically he was wrong. He related several cases, among them that of the late Gen. Sleskies. In an attempt to show that aroused passion, resulting in killing had often been excused by juries. Aroused passion and intense hatred of a man who had wronged the woman he loved, said Mr. Stanchfield, caused Thaw to kill Stanford White.

Mr. Stanchfield read to the jury a portion of a decision by Justice Jenks in a litigation in which Thaw was concerned. In this the justice pointed out that Thaw, having been acquitted of murder, his commitment to Matteawan was not in the nature of punishment but was for the purpose of restraining an alleged insane person who, at large, might be a menace to the peace of the community. Such a commitment, according to Justice Jenks, was valid only so long as the person committed might remain insane.

Mr. Stanchfield discussed the case of Thaw in every detail, including the finding of the commission appointed by the federal courts, to examine Thaw while he was in New Hampshire, subsequent to his deportation from Canada.

SCHOOL CONFERENCE HELD

AFTERNOON SESSIONS FOR HIGH SCHOOL FAVORED—SEIZURE OF KIRK STREET PROPERTY

A conference opening at 3:30 o'clock and closing long after the "uplifting shops" had closed their doors was held in the public reception room at city hall last night. The hearing had to do with the acquisition of land for the new high school and plans for the school. The question of caring for the overflow, about 50 pupils in all, while the new high school is being built was the most important question to be settled last evening and it seemed the consensus of opinion that afternoon sessions of the high school would be the safest and surest way out of it. Parties to the conference included the municipal council, school committee, Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools; Principal Cyrus W. Irish of the high school, and a committee from the Knights of Columbus.

Simple Solution Dissolves Hair Growths

There is only one safe and sure way of getting rid of the face, arms or neck, and that is to dissolve them. To do this, simply get an ounce of simple solution from your druggist, apply the solution with the finger tips to the hairs, keeping them moist for a few minutes, you will soon see the hair shrivel up and dissolve away entirely. After washing, you will find the skin is left soft and smooth as velvet.

The mayor opened the conference by reading a letter signed by John W. Stevens and Edward W. Trull, president and secretary of the O'Leary home in Kirk street, stating that $5500 should be allowed by the city if the property is taken.

Joseph Bourke, of the Genoa club and Knights of Columbus, said he had talked with Mayor Murphy relative to the sale of the club property, prior to May 15, and when the high school proposition was in a semi-secret stage. Later it became generally known and the matter was taken up with the city. Mr. Bourke explained that the Genoa club is a Massachusetts corporation made up exclusively of members of the Knights of Columbus. This club leased the property to the local council of the Knights of Columbus. The committee from the Knights of Columbus included Mr. Bourke, William F. Thornton, Police Sergeant Hugh Maguire, Daniel O'Brien and Joseph Cronin. They were given two months in which to vacate the premises. Asked if the money to be paid for the premises would be forthcoming this year, Mayor Murphy said it certainly would. The club, it is understood, will buy land and erect a new home. In the meantime it will be necessary to find temporary quarters.

Number of Pupils

Principal Irish of the high school said that he had had applications for admission from about 1855 pupils and he expects that about 1500 of that number will materialize. There will be no room for at least 75 of that number, and that is the number that at least three additional rooms would be required unless afternoon sessions of the high school were decided upon. He said it might be possible to put the classes around in corners of the hall if a place could be found for elocution and drill, and the mayor asked if the hall at the Genoa club would be large enough for those purposes. Mr. Bourke stated that hall was 40 by 60 feet and that Dr. Lambert said, was not room enough for the girls to drill in. Commissioner Morse wanted to know how long the elocution and drilling for the girls had been going on at the high school and Mr. Irish said they had been in vogue for some twenty or twenty-five years. Mr. Morse allowed they might be dispensed with for the time being and in fact he thought the girls would be just as well off if the drills were dispensed with. Mr. Irish said if that were done it would cause a greater protest than if Latin, Greek and algebra were dispensed with.

Then there ensued further discussion of the afternoon session scheme to take care of the overflow and it was finally decided that the afternoon session would be the easiest way out. Supt. Molloy said it is planned to have the new building accommodate 2400 pupils, which added to the 550 of the present building, makes about 3000. Total number of rooms in the old and new schools would be about 100 and 100. A long array of figures were presented and it was finally decided that the plans could be prepared while the buildings are being razed and it was understood that the city would proceed to business at once. The plan will be to seize all of the land and then settle with the owners, peacefully or otherwise.

STEERS ON WILD RAMPAGE

GREAT EXCITEMENT AT BRIGH-TON—ONE CHARGED LOCOMO-TIVE—HURLED 30 FEET

BOSTON, July 14.—While being transferred from the Brighton stock yards to the abattoir, shortly before 12:30 yesterday afternoon, five Maine steers broke away and ran wild through the district.

One of the animals reached the main line of the Boston & Albany railroad, raced toward an oncoming express train and was thrown 30 feet by the collision. Another was captured near Faneuil. The third was brought to bay after a terrific battle on the lawn of station 14 on Washington street. It was not until after 8 o'clock last evening, however, that the other two were rounded up on Washington street near Commonwealth avenue.

The big steers, crazed with heat and thirst and with the attempts of hundreds of men and boys to capture them, raced madly through the district, men-acing life and damaging property. Not since the time, many years ago, when 35 Texas steers broke loose, has the Brighton district been aroused to such a high pitch of excitement as yesterday.

ESCORT OF AEROPLANES

MACHINES FOLLOWED FUNERAL OF COMPOSER OF MARSEILLAIS IN PARIS

PARIS, July 14, 11:30 a. m.—With impressive ceremony the remains of Capt. Claude Joseph Rouget de Lisle, composer of the Marseillaise, were placed today in the Hotel des Invalides. Thousands stood with heads uncovered as the coffin, upon a gun carriage, of the revolutionary period, passed under the Arc de Triomphe and across the Alexander bridge to the Esplanade.

President Poincare, all the members of the cabinet, the presidents of the senate and chamber and the highest officials of the government, marched behind the gun carriage while a detachment of dragons led the way. While the cortege was passing the hospitals in the hotels along the Avenue des Champs Elysees every balcony and every window was filled with wounded men and in the dense crowds on the pavement many maimed soldiers and many bearded reservists were to be seen.

There were no cheers or manifestations until the procession passed the grand palace when the republican guards and struck up the "Marseillaise." "Vive La France!" and "Vive L'Armee!" shouted the crowd in a spontaneous burst of enthusiasm. A bottle of aeroplanes flying low.

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

Your Complexion

Every woman owes it to herself, her family, her friends, and the world at large to be as beautiful as she can. If she will spend half the time studying how she may make herself attractive as she does in useless wishing she was naturally a famous beauty, the result would be found most gratifying. As the face is the most noticeable feature, it should receive the most attention. And while I mean expression, features and complexion, when I speak of the face, it is too big a subject to treat all at once, so this talk is all about the complexion.

If you are troubled with pimples or a moody complexion, you must look within for the cause. Regulation of the bowels frequently cures complexion. In washing the face use the best soap. Outward is valuable as a cleansing agent, and it also whitens the skin. Use hot water and wash carefully, removing the dirt from every pore. Remove all traces of soap. Wash with cold water to close the pores and stimulate the skin. Then use cold cream.

Don't buy something any druggist tells you is the best cream just because he makes more profit on it. Don't use a cream just because someone else uses it. Find out what cream suits your skin and continue its use. You, yourself, can do much toward acquiring the name of beauty which nature has seemingly left unfinished.

YESTERDAY A SCORCHER

THE DAY A RECORD BREAKER FOR JULY 13—NO PROSTRATIONS

According to the figures of the United States weather bureau, yesterday was the hottest day of the year; it was the hottest July 13 in the weather bureau's history, with one single exception, and that was in 1894, when the high mark of 97 degrees was reached for a short period during the afternoon.

The intense heat struck Lowell yesterday and while no prostrations were reported, the weather was very uncomfortable. From an early morning minimum of 69 degrees, the mercury began climbing very rapidly, touching 80 by noon and 89 at 3 p. m. About 5 o'clock Page's thermometer in Merrimack square registered 94 degrees. In the sun at the Locks & Canals it was 102. At 6 o'clock a shift in the wind caused a drop of several degrees and the temperature was comfortable during the night.

NEW AUTO RECORD

E. C. Patterson Goes From Chicago to New York in 35 Hours and 43 Minutes—Four in Car

NEW YORK, July 14.—Friends of E. C. Patterson, publisher of the New York Herald, claimed today that Mr. Patterson had set a new record for an automobile run between New York and Chicago of 35 hours and 43 minutes. The best previous time made by relay drivers was said to be a trifle more than 39 hours. Mr. Patterson made the same run last year in 41 hours and 17 minutes. He left Chicago at 2:52 p. m. Monday and reached New York at 3:35 p. m. yesterday. The route was through Bryan, Cleveland, Erie, Buffalo, Syracuse, Utica and Albany. Two speedometers he carried gave the total distance as 1015 miles and 1025 miles, respectively. The machine carried four persons.

"THE SPIRIT OF 1776"

Dr. Anna Shaw Probably Will Not Attempt to Prevent Sale of Auto at Auction

NEW YORK, July 14.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, probably will not attempt to save her little yellow automobile from sale at auction at Medford, Pa., next Tuesday, to satisfy a tax assessment, according to a statement she issued here today. The car, named Eastern Victory, was presented to Dr. Shaw by a group of her followers here. It was seized at Moylan, Pa. Dr. Shaw's residence, on Monday and is to be sold at auction to pay a tax assessment of $120 levied upon Dr. Shaw in 1913.

The suffrage leader declined to make out a list of her property subject to taxes on the ground that to tax her without giving her the right to vote "would be heaping injury upon tyranny."

EVERY DAY ETIQUETTE

"Should a lady be introduced to a young man or the man to a lady? Also if invited to a party by a young man who does not dance, ought he to feel offended if I dance with another young man?" were Polly's two queries.

"The gentleman should always be introduced to the lady, and your escort should certainly not be offended," answered her aunt.

"Should girls ask young men to call or should the men ask the girls?" asked Gwen.

"If a man shows a girl some attention, she may ask him to call and leave it to him to follow up the invitation by making for a special night," was her mother's advice.

"Does the maid of honor walk with the best man, and when going to the wedding do they ride together in the same carriage?" inquired Joe, about to wed.

"The maid of honor rides with the bridesmaids in one carriage and the best man rides with the groom in another," said his brother.

"At a dinner is it proper for the woman to sit on the right or left of the man?" asked Mabel.

"A man offers his right arm to the lady whom he is to take to dinner, and the lady sits at his right," advised her brother.

"Is it polite for persons alone on a train to monopolize a whole seat?" inquired George.

"Commuters should certainly not occupy an entire seat for each person while allowing others to stand," said his father.

"Please tell me if the engagement ring is worn during the ceremony or if the wedding ring is placed on the finger over the engagement ring?" asked Alice.

"It is customary to remove the engagement ring just during the ceremony, leaving the finger clear for the wedding circle, and afterwards putting the engagement token over it," said her mother.

LABOR PEACE IN CHICAGO

PAINTERS AND METAL WORKERS AGREE TO ARBITRATE—OTHERS TO FOLLOW

CHICAGO, July 14.—Complete labor peace in Chicago was in prospect today for the first time in years, with the announcement that painters and metal workers who have been on a strike for more than two months had agreed to arbitrate. More than ten thousand union painters will be affected by making for a settlement. The striking electrical workers also are expected to arbitrate on their wage controversy.

CINCINNATI MOURNS OVER THE VICTIMS OF TORNADO

SEARCHING FOR BODIES IN THE RUINS

CINCINNATI, O., July 13.—With twenty-two known dead, ten missing a property loss that will exceed $1,000,000, Cincinnati is making a valiant effort to recover from the wind and rainstorm that hurled havoc upon the city. The wind blew at seventy miles an hour. The Kentucky side of the river was hit as hard as Cincinnati was, and it is not recovering as quickly. The street car companies on that side have been asked to keep all of their power shut off for fear of bringing numerous hanging wires to life, while the lighting system covers such a large area that it has been impossible to repair it completely. The damage to Newport, Covington, Bellevue, Dayton, Fort Thomas, Fort Mitchell, Latonia and Ludlow, on the Kentucky side, it is believed, will almost equal the amount of damage wrought in Hamilton county. In the central part of Kentucky the storm was severe. Many buildings being leveled and crops damaged. Throughout southern Ohio, except in and near Cincinnati, little damage was done, except crops, which suffered heavily. Central Ohio suffered severely. Washington courthouse was hardest hit. More than a score of buildings were badly damaged there. Throughout Fayette county growing crops were leveled and many buildings were damaged. At Buckeye lake, between Columbus and Newark, many yachts, motorboats and other small craft were swamped and sunk and many cottages tumbled over. Two steamboats were sunk in the Ohio river at Cincinnati, about a hundred houses were leveled to the ground and a half dozen church spires were toppled over. Few houses entirely escaped damage.

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory, are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

TO AID THE WOUNDED

MISS ANNE MORGAN, SISTER OF J. P. MORGAN, TO SAIL FOR EUROPE EARLY IN AUGUST

NEW YORK, July 13.—Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, and one of the wealthiest women in the world, will sail for Europe early in August to engage in hospital work among the wounded French soldiers. She will proceed to Paris, where she will devote part of her immense fortune to relief work. Miss Morgan was delayed in sailing by the shooting of her brother by Frank Holt.

THE FRENCH MAID SAYS:

Keeping Things Hung Up

"My kitchen is a sorry sight most of the time," complained Marjorie. "I seem to have no order whatever, and everything is around in helter skelter fashion. I try hard to keep things picked up, too, but there is something wrong."

"Perhaps your trouble is that you have not hooks enough," ventured Marjorie as she looked up from her mending. "Try having hooks everywhere and hooks for every separate thing. When there are no brooms or brush closets, the brooms and brushes are always in the way and out of place, unless suspended on hooks. Special holders for brooms can be purchased for a few cents in any hardware store."

"The carpet sweeper, mop, etc., can be suspended without any trouble by inserting a screw eye at the top. When the kitchen is very crowded, cup hooks, screwed along the ends of the sides of the kitchen table, afford handy places on which to hang the potato masher, kitchen scissors, graters, strainers, egg heater and numerous other articles that are in frequent use."

"Hooks in the stairways that lead from the cellar or into the attic will be found quite convenient for articles that have no hiding place and yet are used too seldom to be kept about the house or living rooms. A hook placed outside of the bathroom window is very convenient for the suspension of articles and brushes used in the bathroom. A little hook placed in the framework of the front door affords a convenient rest for the mail box and door keys. The telephone book for writing memorandums of numbers is of ready access if suspended near the telephone."

"Unnumerable places for hooks can be found. New uses and places will be discovered every day. If any article is always in the way and never seems to have a place, the best way to solve the problem is to hang it up. For instance, even those patterns that persist in littering up the sewing room would be a lot less trouble if slipped into a bag and hung on a hook."

VESSEL SUNK BY MINE

Captain and Four Members of Crew of Swedish Schooner Dany Were Killed According to Report

LONDON, July 14, 10.30 a. m.—The captain and four members of the crew of the Swedish schooner Dany were killed when the vessel was sunk by a mine off Fleetsness Lighthouse, according to a Reuter despatch from Stockholm.

NOT OF ONE MIND

G. A. R. Veterans Disagree in Selection of Meeting Place

When it comes to the selection of a meeting place all members of the G. A. R. in Lowell are not of the same mind. This fact was made manifest at a conference held in the mayor's reception room at city hall last night on the question of the advisability of giving over the reading room in the basement of the Memorial hall to the G. A. R. posts. Members of Post 120, which post was permanently located in Memorial building, object to the use of the reading room in the basement for G. A. R. meetings, while members of Posts 120 and 133 are in favor of the proposition. Members of Post 42 are in favor of using the old councilmanic chamber at city hall, a room that has been practically in disuse since the commission form of government went into effect. The Spanish War Veterans, too, are in favor of using the councilmanic chamber and the proposition to give over the reading room in the library basement to the G. A. R. posts does not seem to be a very popular one. Librarian Chase spoke in opposition to it at the conference and stated, in the course of his remarks, that at least 500 or 600 men visit the reading room during the day.

Those present at the conference last night included Commander John H. Caverly and Franklin S. Pevey of Post 135, George E. Worthen of Post 42, Commander Frank B. Flanders and William L. Dickey of Post 120, Commander Alexander D. Mitchell, Gilbert F. Hunt and J. P. Crowley of the Spanish War Veterans, Louis Munroe of the Sons of Veterans, Mrs. Bessie Cummings of W. R. C. No. 75, John A. Bailey, Solon W. Stevens, C. H. McIntyre and A. P. Sawyer of the Lowell Historical society.

Capt. George E. Worthen of Post 42 said that certain members of the Grand Army had suggested that the G. A. R. be allowed the reading room in the basement, but he was opposed to it. He said: "It would be too much like a submarine." "And I prefer to be an aeroplane. I think it is too late to change our quarters. Six years from now, perhaps, none of us will be alive. It occurred to me today that perhaps we might be allowed the use of the old common council chamber in city hall. I would not like to see any change made in Memorial hall."

Frank B. Flanders, commander of Post 120, was in favor of the proposition.

C. B. COBURN CO.

63 MARKET ST.

John H. Caverly, commander of Post 135, said: "We are now in the top story of the Cook & Taylor building and we hear some complaint even there about stair climbing. There is a time coming, perhaps, when we would like to meet on the lower floor."

William L. Dickey, also of Post 120, said he had suggested to members of the Grand Army and also to members of the council that it would be very nice if the veterans could get down on a lower floor, "and I think," he said, "the basement in Memorial hall would be the proper place, providing it could be brought about without too great inconvenience or expense. I am speaking for myself, not for the Grand Army and I feel that if we had quarters on the lower floor it would be very pleasant for the veterans who are unable to climb the stairs without great exertion and I think arrangements ought to be made so that the veterans might smoke. That was one of the drawbacks in the old quarters. We couldn't smoke."

Alexander D. Mitchell, commander of Gen. Ames camp, U. S. W. V., was in favor of the common council chamber for the G. A. R. Mr. Mitchell was opposed to doing away with the public reading room.

Capt. Worthen was heard again and said that the basement of the Memorial building would not be a fit place to smoke. "We would not want to smoke up the library," he said, "and I am firmly opposed to the proposed move."

Mrs. Bessie H. Cummings of W. R. C. No. 75, favored making the last days of the veterans as comfortable as possible. She hoped the corps would be allowed to meet in its old place. "If Post 42 is the only one to be considered, we have no business here," said Commander Flanders of Post 120, "but I came here with the hope of finding a future home for our post. I have looked the situation over and I am convinced that using the Memorial building in the basement and the banquet hall close by would accommodate the Grand Army of the city of Lowell. But if only one post is to be considered, I suppose it is useless for me to offer any further argument as to the advisability of using the Memorial building in the basement for the benefit of the G. A. R."

The Lowell Historical society was not a previously known factor in the conference, but the society was represented by its president, Solon W. Stevens, and other members, including Alfred Sawyer, Charles H. McIntyre, P. H. Appleton and John H. Bailey. They asked that the society be reinstated in its former quarters on the second floor of the Memorial building. The council took all of the matters under advisement.

Builders of the "Big Ditch"

There has just been issued by the Historical Publishing Company of Washington, D. C., a magnificent illustrated history of the construction and builders of the Panama Canal. The editor of this great history is Mr. Ira E. Bennett, with associate editors, John Hays Hammond, celebrated mining engineer; Capt. Philip Andrews, U. S. N.; Rupert Blue, Surg. Gen. U. S. Public Health Service; J. Hampton Moore, Pres. Atlantic Deeper Waterways Ass'n; Patrick J. Lennox, B. A., and William J. Showalter.

One of the most interesting portions of the book is that dealing with the feeding of the immense army of laborers. A few paragraphs concerning one of the foods chosen and supplied by the Commissary Department, are quoted (beginning page 428) as follows:

"Visitors to the canal who were privileged to get a glimpse of the routine inner life will recall a familiar picture of workmen going to their places of labor carrying round yellow tins.

"Often, as they went, they munched a food poured from the tin into the hand. This food, which played no inconsiderable part in 'building' the canal, was the well-known article of diet, 'GRAPE-NUTS.'

"The mention of Grape-Nuts in this connection is peculiarly pertinent. Not merely because Grape-Nuts is a food—for of course proper food was an integral part of the big enterprise—but because it is a cereal food which successfully withstood the effects of a tropical climate. This characteristic of Grape-Nuts was pretty well known and constituted a elegant reason for its selection for use in the Canal Zone.

"This food is so thoroughly baked that it keeps almost indefinitely in any climate, as has been demonstrated again and again.

"One finds Grape-Nuts on transoceanic steamships, in the islands of the seas, in Alaska, South America, Japan, along the China coast, in Manila, Australia, South Africa, and on highways of travel and the byways of the jungle—in short, wherever minimum of bulk and maximum of nourishment are requisite in food which has to be transported long distances, and often under extreme difficulties.

"The very enviable reputation which Grape-Nuts has attained in these respects caused it to be chosen as one of the foods for the Canal Zone."

Grape-Nuts FOOD

—scientifically made of prime wheat and malted barley, contains the entire goodness of the grain, including those priceless mineral elements so essential for active bodies and keen brains, but which are lacking in white flour products and the usual dietary.

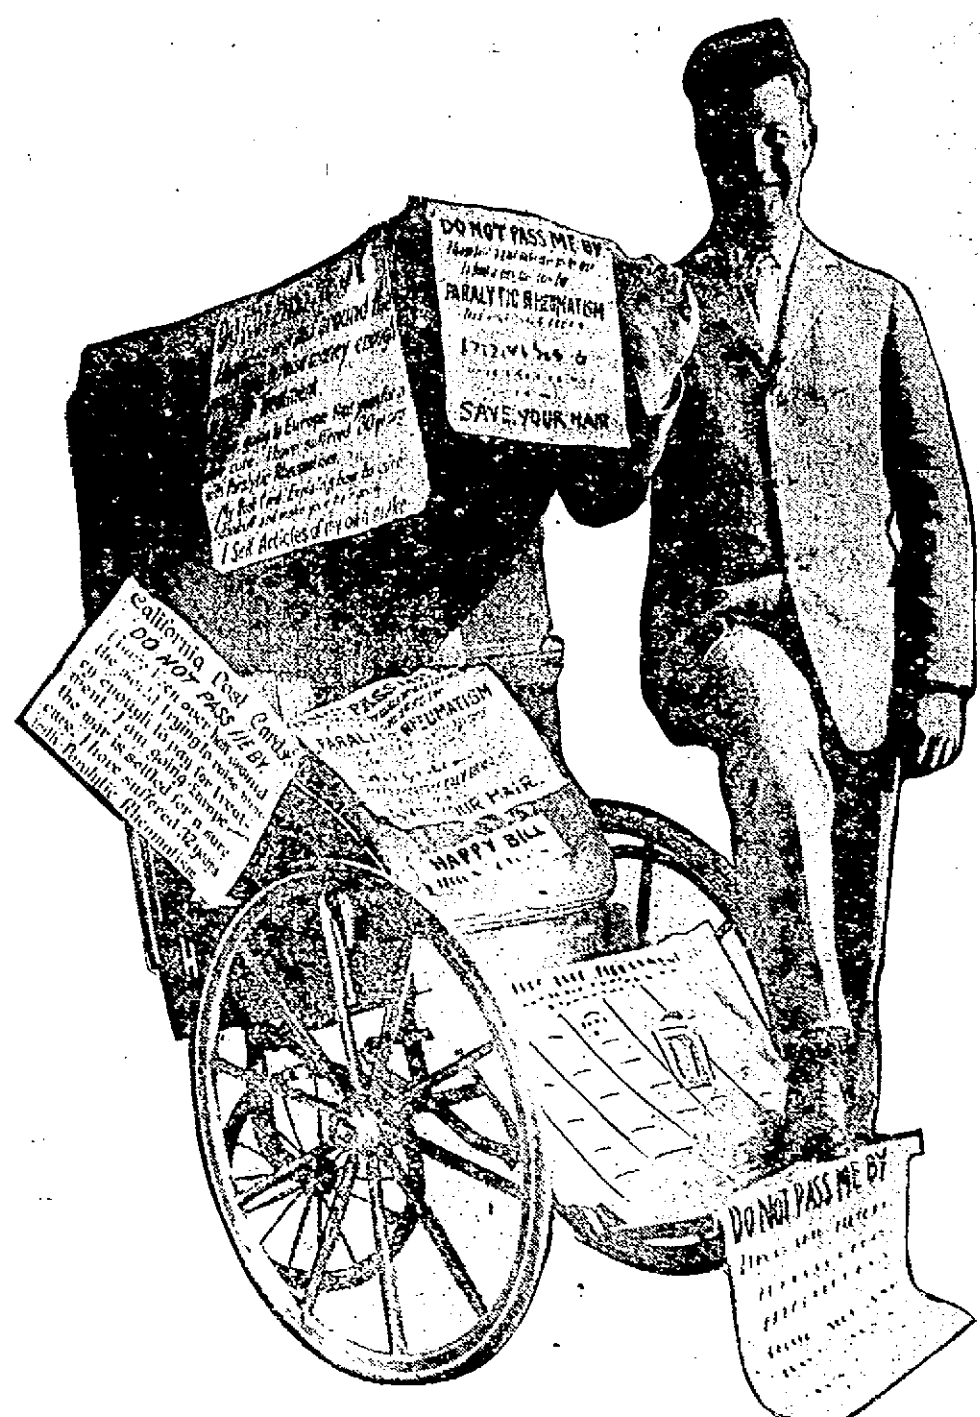

There's a reason why Grape-Nuts food was chosen by the Canal Commissariat. There's a reason why Grape-Nuts is a favorite food of hustling people everywhere!

GIAKOS IN COURT

Fined for Larceny But Held as Witness—Other Cases

Athanasios Giakos, the man being held in $2000 bonds as a witness in the Demos murder case, was brought from the Lowell jail to police court this forenoon and arraigned before Judge Enright to answer to a complaint charging him with the larceny of cloth and yarn valued at nearly four dollars from the Boot Mills. Through his counsel, D. J. Donahue, he pleaded guilty and was fined $10, which he paid.

Major Noyes, corporation detective and prosecuting officer in the case, informed the court that when Supt. Welch and state officers went to the tenement at 2 Elm place to investigate the murder case, they found the rolls of cotton cloth in Giakos' closet. After a short examination a complaint was made against him and he produced bankbooks calling for $800 as surety. The defendant has been unable to secure the $2000 bail, however, and was taken back to the Lowell jail to await the murder trial.

Stubborn Girl
The case of Laura Goyette, charged with being a stubborn child, was somewhat prolonged by the introduction of family troubles and occupied considerable of the court's time. Witnesses for the government, including the girl's father and mother, who live in Hall street, testified that the defendant recently left home and roomed with a companion on Dodge street. When living at home, said her parents, she was in the habit of remaining out late nights.

The girl attributed the trouble to her father's actions. She said he became intoxicated frequently and used abusive language toward the mother and children. This was admitted by Mr. Goyette. As the defendant is only 15 years of age, Judge Enright advised her to go back to her parents and placed her on probation for one year. Arthur L. Eno for the government and George H. Alford for the defendant.

Frank G. O'Brien was the first of a number of men to be brought into court on charges for failing to pay fines imposed for drunkenness and other offenses. O'Brien was fined $15 nearly three months ago and has had several chances to pay it but failed to do so. The suspension of the fine was revoked and in default of payment O'Brien was committed to jail. Probation Officer Slattery stated that he has a list of other delinquents who will be haled into court unless they live up to the terms of probation.

Mrs. William J. Carney appeared as complainant against her husband for assault and battery. The case was continued until July 21 for trial.

Charged with threatening his wife by claiming that he would "get her yet," Patrick Kelley was arraigned and had his case continued one month for sentence. In the meantime he promised to keep away from her and behave himself.

Six drunken offenders were promptly disposed of by Judge Enright, Deputy Downey and Acting Clerk Toye.

MAN ARRESTED AT MIDDLEBORO ON CHARGE OF ROBBING BARRE PLAINS OFFICE

MIDDLEBORO, July 14.—Victor Magoun was arrested at a local hotel today, charged with robbing the postoffice at Barre Plains on July 8. Stumps and Barre Plains money order blanks were found in his room, it is alleged.

MEAT CARGOES DETAINED

FORMAL REPRESENTATIONS TO ENGLAND AS RESULT OF PROTEST BY PACKERS

WASHINGTON, July 14.—After conferences with representatives of the leading American meat packers today, state department officials said formal representations would be made to Great Britain for the release of neutral meat cargoes detained by British naval authorities. The character of the representations has not been decided.

NO ATTEMPT TO GET FRANK
ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—Reports that a mob would attempt to take Leo M. Frank, serving a life sentence for the Mary Phagan murder from the state prison farm at Milledgeville and lynch him have not been confirmed by developments. Three companies of state militia were held in readiness at Milledgeville to protect Frank if necessary, were today allowed to return to their homes.

PLAYGROUND SUPERVISORS
A meeting of the playground supervisors has been called for this evening at 5 p. m. in the room of the park department, city hall, to talk over the work and make plans for the season. Some of the new members will receive preliminary instructions. Patrick J. Reynolds will preside. The attendance at the playgrounds to date has been most gratifying and the work is going ahead smoothly.

CHURCH PICNICS TODAY
The members of the Newbury Central Congregational church, men, women and children, numbering about 200, went on their annual outing to Canobie Lake park this morning. Two special cars conveyed the party to the resort, where a most pleasant day was spent. Rev. Sarah Dixon was in charge of the

MARTUCCI, ONE ARMED GOLFER, MAKES RIVALS SIT UP AND TAKE NOTICE

NEW YORK, July 13.—A great deal of interest was caused at the Metropolitan open golf tournament at Fox Hills recently by the appearance of Louis W. Martucci, the one armed golfer. Despite his handicap, Martucci was able to get tee shots to the 200 yard mark, and his approaching and putting would do credit to a champion. With his left arm missing the young caddy master from the Essex County club scored an 80 and 82. With a short club Martucci drives a very long ball and his putting is good, but he experiences a lot of trouble getting out of bunkers because of his handicap.

DEATHS

STRIKE IS THREATENED

RHODE ISLAND CARMEN'S UNION SENDS ULTIMATUM TO THE COMPANY

PROVIDENCE, July 14.—A threat of a general strike which would affect all the street railway lines in Rhode Island was made late yesterday by the committee representing the Carmen's union which has been in conference for a month with officials of the Rhode Island company.

The committee delivered an ultimatum that unless the three men whom they had named should be accepted by the railroad company as arbitrators of the questions in dispute before midnight Wednesday, a general strike would be declared.

The arbitrators desired by the union are ex-Chief Justice Charles Matteson, Col. Harry Cutler, a former member of the general assembly, and ex-Representative Harry Baldwin.

July 2500 men are involved.

STRIKE AT BRIDGEPORT

HEAD OF ARMS COMPANY BLAMES THE GERMAN FOR BIG TIE UP

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 14.—The strike situation at the plant of the Remington Arms Co., where union organizations are disputing matters of jurisdiction, and which threatens, unless settled, to involve several thousand iron workers in the city, and to tie up shipment of war munitions, was close to a standstill today. Labor leaders present in the city did not look for any important developments pending word from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who has been asked to intervene in the trouble, or the mass meeting of machinists set for Friday night when the question of a general strike in the city will be taken up.

The bone of contention, the labor men say, is the matter of affiliation of the millwrights employed by the Stewart Construction Co., which is working on new buildings for the arms company, both the carpenters and the metal working trades claiming them.

Maj. Walter W. Penfield, U. S. A., retired, head of the arms company, expresses the belief that the difficulties are due to the work of German sympathizers who wish to hinder the shipment of war munitions. "There is not the shadow of a doubt," he said, "that this whole thing is the work of German or German sympathizers. I am not speaking from hearsay or suspicion. I have good reasons to know just what I am talking of."

$5,000,000 IN MISSING WILL

NORTH ADAMS, July 14.—A search is being made for the will which is said to have been left by the late Albert C. Houghton, the local millionaire, who with his daughter, Mary C. was killed in an automobile accident in June, 1914.

The estate is said to be worth $5,000,000.

Letters of administration have been applied for by both of the surviving daughters, but detectives are working on the case in an effort to discover what has become of a will which an attorney said he drew for the millionaire.

SHIPS AT SEA WARNED OF BOMBS PLANTED BY "HOLT'S PARTNER"

Warning to look out for bombs concealed in their holds was flashed from the naval wireless towers at Arlington to two ships at sea, which sailed from New Orleans July 8. Both the vessels, the British steamships Howth Head and Baron Napier, cleared with cargoes of mules for the British army, the former for Dublin and Belfast via Norfolk, and the latter direct for Avonmouth. Sending of the warning was ordered by Secretary Daniels upon receiving a telegram from a New Orleans newspaper saying a letter to that paper, signed "Pearce, Holt's partner," indicated that explosives had been placed aboard those vessels. The radio message was sent broadcast over the sea, with the idea that if it is not picked up directly by the Howth or Baron Napier some other ship in the neighborhood might relay it.

ROBBED HOTEL GUEST
PROVIDENCE, July 14.—For the alleged holding up and robbery of Miss Gertrude Grant of South Weymouth, Mass., at the Forest House in West Greenwich, Fred McCormick, aged 23, was held for the grand jury yesterday in $5000 bonds.

The prisoner was identified as the man who entered her apartments, beat her and stole $100. The man's sister testified against his alibi that he was at home.

CAMP SWEEP AWAY
NEW CASTLE, Wyo., July 14.—The camp of a biological survey engaged in exterminating prairie dogs near here was swept away last night by a cloudburst. A man named Dussell is reported drowned. Others escaped by climbing trees.

IS SITUATION CRITICAL?

It is noteworthy that in all our dealings with Germany the American press has been practically united, and that the press forecasts and judgments have been in line with the policies of the administration. The newspapers have therefore given a very fair estimate of the degree of importance to be awarded to various phases of the situation, and even before President Wilson had spoken officially, the public can pretty accurately judge the situation.

Keeping this in mind, it is significant that the press does not on the whole regard the present situation as critical, though it is admitted that the most serious consequences may crop out daily. America is certainly dissatisfied with the answer of Germany, but there is a well grounded hope that some basis of agreement will be decided on, or that at the worst, the animosity of the two great nations will be shown in a negative rather than a positive manner. Most Americans look upon America's complications as the accidental result of being mixed up in a fight between two other nations, and there is no real desire here for active participation on either side.

It is also dawning on the American public that the German government must consider the spirit of the German people in making a reply to American demands. There is good ground to suppose that the German people are incensed for the time being towards everything American, and the German government dare not make concessions that would be detrimental to the German cause. It would seem futile to hope for the complete abandonment of the submarine blockade, and America can only hope to secure greater concessions, maintaining its protest against any infringement of its rights and hoping the while that there will be no further outbreaks.

Recent war developments have also complicated the situation and made the position of the American government more difficult. It will be recalled that President Wilson from the first has insisted on the law of warning and search of merchantmen by submarines. On two or three occasions recently a submarine has been attacked or sunk without warning by an innocent looking trawler or merchant ship, and Germany has been afforded proof of her assertions that the submarine cannot observe the ordinary rules of naval warfare without risk of immediate destruction. It looks as though some concessions may be made on the ground that new modes of warfare make for a contrary to international law and obnoxious to feelings of humanity.

There is no reason to suppose that President Wilson looks upon the situation as critical. Despite the predictions of Mr. Bryan, there is no prospect of war with Germany, and such a war though possible, is not at all probable. Even though our government should regard the evasion of Germany as grave in the extreme, nothing more drastic than the severing of diplomatic relations is as yet contemplated, though in that case Germany might prefer open hostility. When the American press speaks of war as improbable, it considers mostly the attitude of Washington. What the attitude of Berlin would be should our government demand a final answer can only be surmised, and one man's guess is as good as another's. It now looks as though America will send a final note, affirming our unchanging stand for principle. This will be in the nature of an ultimatum to Germany and will set forth certain rights upon which the United States will insist even at the risk of an open rupture between the two nations.

LO! THE ALIENISTS

We recently called attention to the sarcastic references to "Americanism" in court trials, made by an English attorney, and based on our practice of employing alienists. A splendid illustration of the absurdity referred to is afforded by the evidence in the Thaw trial last Monday. Dr. Flint, the eminent "alienist" who was testifying against Thaw was asked by Judge Hendrick how a layman could determine whether Thaw was a paranoiac, and replied that the layman would have to make his choice "between which alienist he would believe." If this is not a cue for the medical profession to agitate the abolishing of the paid alienist, something is wrong with the profession. When we see men who have been the head of great institutions, the authors of books on mental diseases and nation-wide authorities testifying on different sides and to absolutely contrary phases of their own profession, the layman may be pardoned for being skeptical. Neither justice nor the medical profession is helped much by the spectacle of the "paid alienist" who coins picturesque phrases and speaks professionally on subtle forms of insanity "for a consideration."

An amusing feature of this same subject was afforded in the cross-examination of Dr. Flint. The dissection of Thaw's mentality had declared that the subject differs from "constitutional inferiority" but being called on for an explanation he declared that he did not know what he meant, as he had just invented the phrase. Was it not at a previous Thaw trial that the term

"brainstorm" was used? Surely an alienist who is not ready to invent three or four new phrases and explain them in terms that only an alienist can understand is not of much value to either side. It would be interesting to get the explanation of some alienist on the mental attitude of another alienist who invents phrases that he does not understand in a trial that may mean liberty or life incarceration for a fellow mortal.

WATCH THE CRANKS

War or no war, the cranks we have with us always. Just now some of them are pro-German and some of them are pro-English, and some are neither. Some are advocates of war and some of peace, but all are badly balanced mentally and hence are extremely dangerous. The crank would blow up a mill during a labor trouble, he would blow up a church at a time of unemployment, he would blow up an ammunition factory at time of war. He always has some crazy doctrine, and he is ready to blow up something in support of it. When the atmosphere is surcharged with agitation and there is something that moves the souls of men, he is in his element. Just now all the cranks that have already developed will be tempted to action, and a new crop will spring up from day to day.

A letter to a New Orleans paper a few days ago threatened death to J. P. Morgan and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice and the destruction of two steamers going to England. A letter to the Boston police threatened the new custom house tower and the German ships interned in the harbor. These are but a few of the many crazy notions of the cranks who have been played upon by the interested agitators for one belligerent cause or another. It is a long time for the police in all cities to keep an eye on individuals who have displayed extreme tendencies on previous occasions, and on any movement that might be an incentive to crime by working on the disordered minds of the morbid and abnormal.

A PUBLIC HALL

In one breath Commissioner Duncan condemns the school board for having no definite idea as to the new high school—for which, by the way, the very definite sum of $700,000 has been appropriated—and in the next he proposes that the new high school contain a public hall. The proposition is fantastic and faulty, and should not be entertained for a moment. While it is true that there is a growing movement for the greater use of school buildings, a public hall such as Lowell needs should be a building apart and used for no other purpose. The assembly hall of a high school might with propriety be given over to semi-public use occasionally, as the present high school hall is, but it would be decidedly improper to hold great public functions, political rallies, conventions, etc., in a high school. Such things should be housed in a public hall, that would be of incalculable benefit to the Lowell of the future. The lack of such a hall is now a serious detriment, and prevents our competing with many less important cities, in many particulars. We have many fine private halls, but we have no hall that can take the place of a public hall. Yet, if we must be forever without a public hall, let us not build one in the high school that is to be sometime in the immediate or distant future.

FEEDING GERMANY

That Germany has been securing great quantities of food from this country in spite of the English blockade is borne out by the request of Sir Edward Carson that the British prize court condemn two steamers loaded with provisions from America bound for Copenhagen. In all forty of such vessels had been held up and had been found to contain farm products, meat and lard, together with products used in the manufacture of war munitions. Germany has done wonders in supplying her food products, but she still evidently imports considerable quantities, from this country and elsewhere. Possibly she also finds an opportunity to import some munitions of war. At any rate, Germany has never assumed towards the United States the defiant pose she has assumed towards practically all other powers. There are many secret chapters of this war which may and may not be written, and many think that German resourcefulness is finding ways to elude the blockade which English has declared on all German ports.

The Lawrence Evening Tribune, established 1859, has just celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary by bringing out a splendid anniversary edition that in its literary, mechanical and pictorial features is worthy of the paper and the occasion. One section traces the development of the Tribune from humble beginnings, one tells the story of the city which the Tribune has served well for quarter of a century, and one is an enlarged and elaborated news section. All are worthy of special attention. The Sun heartily congratulates its down river contemporary, and wishes it many more years of success and prosperity.

There is a strong suspicion in Lowell that the farmers of the immediate vicinity did not welcome the recent rain a whit more enthusiastically than the members of our municipal council, for the heavy rains and the swollen river gave a splendid excuse for the postponement of the bridge project. Engineer Denman had stated that unless the bridge were started promptly, he could not undertake the job. If there had been no flood the work could not have been started for some time as the plans are not ready; but the freshest will go for an excuse for a badly tangled job.

Once again in the high school matter, there is a disposition to talk and do nothing until the public patience is exhausted. The municipal council waits for the school board and vice versa, and there is a disposition for everybody to leave the preliminary planning to everybody else. The sightseeing trips out of town do not promise material results, but then they look as though the city was about to do something.

There is nothing in Mexico only a "situation" and if that has changed, there are no indications of it. The situation is merely anarchy under many such names as Villa, Carranza, Oregon and the rest.

Mayor Murphy says they have a "general idea" for a high school. The cost has been set down at $700,000. Contractors must look up to that figure.

There is a big difference between the icy trenches again.

But after he gets married he is lucky if this life lets him have a drawer to stow away what little he owns.

Two Fairs at Half Fare;
Railroad Rates Cut In Two

The railroads have greatly reduced their fares and made it possible for you to see both the San Francisco and San Diego Expositions on one ticket. By way of the Burlington Route (C. & N. W. R. R.) the cost of a railroad ticket to California and back will be only about one-half the usual price, and you can take in the incomparable Colorado scenery, including the Royal Gorge, see Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Salt Lake City on the way, stopping off at any point desired.

Returning, you may enjoy a sea trip to the coast, to Portland, see Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane, and either Glacier National Park or Yellowstone Park—the wonders of the world.

You don't take a trip like this very often. You should see the best scenery en route and not spend any more than is necessary to do it. Tell me when you plan to go, how long you can stay, and let me make up an itinerary to fit your particular needs. Let me explain how and why the Burlington can serve you best. I'll be glad to do it. JULY

Oh! beautiful days of bright July,
With balmy air and sunny sky,
What jewel is there in nature's bow,
More precious than thy pleasant hours.

The orioles sing their sweetest song;
The robins warble all day long,
Up amid the leafy trees
Where plays the gentle summer breeze.

Through the mead does the little meadow brook run,
Sparkling as gold in the noon-day sun,
Seeking the pretty forest glade,
Where lies the greatest wealth of shade.

Then crossing again the fresh green lea,
On homeward journey to the sea.

Each flower lifts up a dainty face,
As though brimful of pure, sweet
Its message of love it would tell to all,
Of those who will listen, both great and small.

And nature's beautiful spacious room
Is filled with flowers' sweet perfume.
All of nature it seems is breathing
The fragrance of a happy summer day.

And its blessings surround us everywhere.
Peace and joy are the guests of each fair day,
That passes so quickly forever away.
And thus with gladness does each one cry—
"Oh! welcome fair days of the bright July!"

THE TWISTED TYPE

Types have a very embarrassing habit of becoming transposed, and sometimes the twist given the letters in newspapers is mistakes in spelling and punctuation are found in the papers where stories of news are written and set up in type in a continual race against time to "make an edition" in a case of hurry. Sorry, hurry, as the news is "railroaded" into the paper.

A friend can be converted into a foe by the simple dropping of the letter "r." Men tried and true are easily made tired and blue. Motion picture films are made into films in a twinkling of an eye, and a can person can be turned into a clam without much trouble.

During the late war in the Balkans the Bulgarian army played a prominent part in the fighting and one night the cable news stated that the Bulgarian army would invade a town with a game that could hardly be written, let alone pronounced. One paper ran the story in black faced type, on the page under the largest headline it runs on that page, and the readers were surprised to learn, the following morning that "Burglars" would enter the town in question.

An amusing twist of type once developed in proof sheets, and it was merely luck that the paper did not print the item and cause a sensation. It was in Carthage, Missouri, and the Confederate Memorial day had been celebrated in the usual manner. In writing about the parade and the old soldiers who had worn gray uniforms in the war between the states, the reporter mentioned the "battle-scarred" veterans, who had marched through the streets.

When the proofs of the story came from the composing room, the type made them "battle-scarred" veterans, and the printer, who had been back to the composing room with the request for a revised proof. These came down and the "battle-scarred" veterans had grown into "battle-scarred" veterans. Back to the printer went the proofs and on the third attempt they were finally referred to as the "battle-scarred veterans."

In El Paso, the newspapers, in abbreviating the Southern Pacific railroad, called the "Escape" too long ago, however, in an item about the road system, the type in one of the papers made it the "Escape," but there was nothing in the item to indicate from what it "escaped."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. E. KELTH THEATRE

The ideal place in which to witness a melodrama is in this summer weather, is the D. E. Kelth theatre. Those who saw "Cora" there yesterday afternoon can testify to the admirable service which cool air is, every three minutes, lifted into the theatre, and then once it has become slightly warmed, removed. From all parts of the floor come these little jets of delightfully cool air. The motion picture feature is "Cora" in which Miss Emily Stevens, a niece of Miss. Maudie Madden Piske, appears in the title role. The piece is in five parts and over 250 separate scenes are thrown upon the screen. It tells of the struggles of a "rough girl," but recently orphaned, and of her triumph as a grand opera star. Steady, persistent work and a spirit that carried her through all her difficulties proved to be stumbling blocks to her success. Miss Stevens is equal to the task given her and her surrounding company is of the very best. "Cora" is a one-act picture, many elements of the unusual to it, and it will be watched with keenest interest. It is essentially modern in spirit, and yet it is reverently pictured. Other good pictures which will hold the attention are "An Innocent Thief," "The Broken Pledge," "A Romance of California," and the very funny Chaplin special. Beginning tomorrow afternoon and continuing the remainder of the week, Max Fighman and Lois Meredith will appear in "My Best Girl."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Today is the last day of the exceptionally long and entertaining program at the Merrimack Square theatre. This is the last time to see Blanche Sweet who has won such popularity in Lowell, in her impersonation of Christine in the newly released Paramount feature, "The Clue," produced in five acts. The other pleasing number in the bill is "The Girl Who Came to Stay," a one-act picture, which will also be shown at this cool theatre today for the last time. They include the third and complete complete in itself, of the life problem serial, "Who Pays?" The title of the episode is "Justice." Do not miss it, when the weekly showing the latest important events of wide interest taken in every part of the world and the most recent and funniest scenes of the serial, "Who Pays?" will also be seen today for the last time. OWL THEATRE

Florence Turner, the darling of the old vaudeville company, will be welcomed on the Owl theatre program today and tomorrow, in a great three-act drama called "The Murdock Trail." This is a well written and finely acted drama, telling a convincing story in a frank and concise manner. The events are detailed in a clear and understandable manner, and is acted by an all-star group of well known movie stars. Five other reels will complete the show for these two days. A Keystone comedy will finish off the show as usual, which is one of the finest in the city for these two days. Come Friday and Saturday, Marguerite Fischer in "The Lonesome Heart."

ROYAL THEATRE

"The Streets of New York," the great sensational drama in three parts, depicting the snares and pitfalls of America's greatest city, will be the main-play feature on the Wednesday and Thursday program at the Royal theatre. A picked troupe of actors have been specially engaged for the task, and they have made a good piece of work. The scenery is true to life, the atmosphere of New York's picturesque Bowery, etc., is shown to the bulk. "The Golden Rule" is a serial beautiful and many other features complete a great ten-reel show. Friday and Saturday, "The Exploits of Elaine" will be shown.

ELITE CABARET AT STANLEY'S

Stanley's on-the-Merrimack should prove a mecca for Lowell people on Friday night of this week, for the attraction there is to be one of those big cabaret performances, given by several premier entertainers from Boston. Manager John F. Carney has lined these performers and it will undoubtedly result in a large attendance. Violet Cousins, Evelyn Whelan, Walter Taylor and others will contribute to the cabaret, while McWilliams and Warner will give of their demonstrations of modern acrobatics and the cabaret will end with two dance numbers. No better way could one spend the Thursday half-holiday than attending Stanley's in the afternoon and enjoying one of the excellent menus served by Caterer F. T. Latta, and then attend the cabaret in the evening. Lowell night is Friday.

SAUNDERS' OUTING

Tomorrow will be one of the red letter days for the clerks of Saunders' market, as they are to enjoy a trip to Beverly Beach. Big Junco cars have been secured to take the audience of more than 100 clerks in this big market from Lowell to the beach. This will be their fourth annual outing, and the first one for the regular manager, Mr. Gregory Kelly. Mr. Kelly is one of the greatest organizers in this part of the country for carrying on business, and with this ability in that direction it is expected he will be equally successful in catering to the amusement of the clerks. The excursionists will start from Lowell at 12 o'clock tomorrow morning. The arrangements have been made to have a beautiful dinner served at one of the popular hotels, and it is anticipated by the clerks that the trip will be a most enjoyable one. The manager has also arranged for a good time with the clerks. The several comedians employed at the market will entertain the clerks from the moment they board the cars, till they return in the evening.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

EDITED BY GEORGE H. ROBERTSON

NOTE—In these columns every Wednesday Mr. George H. Robertson, America's foremost automobile authority, will give expert advice to motorists on how to repair and operate their machines. Automobile readers of THE SUN are invited to send in questions or problems they may wish to have answered. Such questions will receive attention in due time. Address all communications to Automobile Editor, Sun, Lowell, Mass. Communications must contain the signature and address of the sender, though not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

What carburetor is used on a 1914 Cadillac? How many miles should I get from a gallon of gas? What kind of oil or graphite is best to use in differential and transmission case of this machine? My foot brake does not hold good when brake bands get wet. They are all right when dry. How would you remedy this? S. C. W.

Kindly let me know how to lap in a piston. Also, when fitting piston rings, should the ends touch or should there be a small space between the ends when rings are sprung into place? A. R.

Would advise the services of a high class repair man to lap in the pistons. Also, if you mention rings from ten to twenty thousands of an inch.

Kindly let me know how to eliminate noise which comes from top close to the differential. A few months ago I had a new gear put on the drive shaft. Since then have been troubled with noise. Of course, you can't expect a new and an old gear to mesh noiselessly, because the old one is worn to a certain extent and will have a slight back-lash. Be sure both gears run true.

A master vibrator tends to intensify the current which the fly-wheel magnet supplies. This increased intensity develops a heavier explosion, thus increasing the power of the motor. The tire you mention cannot be used on the front wheel unless you stretch it unreasonably. A 31x32 will fit the wheel properly.

I have a Cadillac 1911. While coasting down hill my clutch disengages gear while in "high" and jumps into neutral, especially when the road is rough. Can you explain the cause? You will find that the spring checks with lock the shifting lever bars in position should be either taken up or new springs installed. Unless these checks have the proper tension behind them the throw of the gears and the vibration of the car will tend to pull the lever into the neutral position.

In coasting down hill gears in high clutch disengage the lever will shift into neutral position by itself. This will happen only on rough roads. W. A. S.

You will find that the shifting rod locks which are supposed to hold the shifting rods in place need tightening up or need replacing of new springs. These locks must have the proper

You undoubtedly purchased a poor grade of gasoline. If the gravity of the gasoline is below 60 you will find that it will not vaporize easily and naturally will cause the motor to run unevenly. Water or dirt in the gasoline will cause the same trouble.

Saxon Six

The Best Touring Car Value in the World

Here is positively the most compelling TOURING CAR VALUE ever offered. That is our claim. We make it unreservedly. And we back it up with these reasons:

The Saxon "Six" is the first five-passenger six-cylinder car at a price as low as $785. It has a small bore high speed motor of wonderful flexibility, smoothness and power.

Nor is this car "just another automobile." It is a Saxon—stylish, individual. In its distinction of appearance, construction and performance it has been a surprise to every person who has seen it.

Remember too, the Saxon "Six" is a fully equipped car. There is no extra charge for electric starter and lights, or speedometer, or any one of a number of other desirable conveniences. All these are a part of the car—at the price of $785. And all are of uniformly high grade.

The Saxon "Six" is in no sense a small car. It is big and roomy, remarkable in its riding ease and steadiness. It has a long wheelbase—112 inches; plenty of leg room; plenty of width; seating comfort for five adults. In size—in all-around specifications—it compares with cars selling around $1250.

their haulage problems must invariably conclude that efficiency and economy can only be achieved by sending Dobbin back to the farm," says a prominent automobile manufacturer.

"Not that the horse hasn't still his place in the world's work—he has. But, as a sole reliance in delivery service, he is permanently and definitely 'has been.' He hasn't the speed, the strength or the stamina to keep up with the demands of the time. And when all the items are figured up, he is also more expensive to maintain.

"Some business men do not yet see beyond the fact that a motor truck costs more than horses to start with. They do not stop to consider the greater carrying and ground covering capacity of the truck—for instance the fact that a truck will travel 31 to 35 miles while its horse-hauled carrying equivalent is going seven or eight miles.

NORMAL SCHOOL AFIRE
BRIDGEWATER, July 14.—Fire started about 8 last evening in the stockroom on the lower floor of the main building of the Bridgewater Normal school. The loss is about $1000.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION
By a Stomach Specialist

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonsful of diluted magnesia, which is the most effective and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask at Liggett's pharmacy for this blood-purifying agent, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.

POPULATION OF MASSACHUSETTS ANNOUNCED BY CHIEF GETTEMY
—725,823 IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 14.—The population of Massachusetts, as shown by the census taken this year, is 2,646,768, according to preliminary figures issued by Charles F. Gettemy, director of the state bureau of statistics. This is an increase of 28,822, or 8.3 per cent, in the last five years, as compared with an increase of 12.1 per cent in the previous five-year period and 7.1 per cent between 1900 and 1905. Of the total population, 2,577,949 or 69.3 per cent are distributed among the 35 cities. Seventy-seven towns and one city, Lancaster, show a decrease in the last five years.

According to Mr. Gettemy, the lessening in the rate of increase is largely due to the falling off in immigration. The population of Boston is given as 725,823, an increase of 58,233.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI
A meeting of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni was held at the college hall in Merrimack street last evening with President J. J. Richardson in the chair. It had been planned to nominate the officers at last night's meeting, but the affair was postponed until the night of the annual reunion, August 12, at which time the election will also be held. A committee consisting of the following was appointed to revise the by-laws of the organization: J. A. N. Carver, Arthur Groux, Tanerode, Blanchette, A. D. Lamoureux and Arthur L. Eno, Esq.

LOCAL DEALERS BUSY

GARAGE AND SUPPLY MEN ENJOYING PROSPEROUS SEASON—OTHER NOTES OF INTEREST

The local garage and supply men are still loud in their praise of the recent Fourth of July celebration. Even the most sanguine of them did more business because of this splendid event than they dared hope for. The celebration meant the sale of a very large number of tires and general automobile accessories. The vulcanizing departments of the various local repair shops are working overtime in order to turn out the jobs promptly. Those who were instrumental in any way in making this celebration such a success deserve unstinted thanks and praise for their untiring efforts to boom and advertise Lowell.

Mr. Burgess of the Burgess Motor company, Middlesex street, is still receiving compliments over the splendidly decorated Saxon car which he entered in the parade. Many considered this entry one of the most appropriate of the day. In fact when it passed Gov. Walsh it so appealed to his patriotism that he saluted it. By the active part which Mr. Burgess took in this parade he has won himself a high place among Lowell's live boosters.

Mr. C. N. Rice has opened up a well equipped and completely stocked supply house at 280 Central street, formerly known as the Farragut house. The interior of the store has been carefully repaired and presents a new appearance. All of the stock in this new shop is entirely fresh and new. Mr. Rice is local agent of the high class Racine tire which is guaranteed for 4000 miles. At this supply house can be bought the well known and well recommended "Texaco" gasoline, the gasoline tank which is of the Bowser type, is conveniently situated near the curb.

The Sawyer Carriage company's shops, Worthen St., have no place for the dross; there everyone works with snap and zest, and it is necessary to have a car worked in a hurry, the amount of work this shop does in such a finished manner. Mr. Chandler, the manager, reports every department busy.

The peculiar weather of late has sent many motorists very hurriedly to the Donovan Harness company for new auto tops. In this line this year this Market street company has had a record season.

Have you noticed the Saxon roadster on the street inscribed on the sides and rear with the story of one of the latest achievements of this car? This car, which may be seen and inspected at the local agency, 610 Middlesex street, is an ordinary stock car which was driven 200 miles every day over all kinds of roads for 30 consecutive days. After this thorough and grueling test the sturdy little car was found to be in first class running order and none the worse from the strenuous work it had performed. The fact speaks well for its endurance qualities.

One of the best equipped auto repair shops in the city is that of the Red Arrow Motor Supply company, 548 Moody street, the proprietor of which is G. Bourke, formerly of the Lowell Motor Mart. Mr. Bourke has a staff of skilled workmen, capable of undertaking all kinds of repairing. A complete stock of auto supplies will be found at this supply house.

Mr. J. Rochette of the Lowell Motor Mart reports the following recent sales of Ford cars: One to Mr. Bradley, Dr. Rochette; roadster to Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson of Forge Village, and a touring car to Mr. Colburn.

Three photographs of the three Lippard-Stewart trucks of the C. B. Colburn company which took part in the Fourth of July parade are now displayed in the window of the Colburn company, Market street, and are attracting considerable attention. It will be remembered that it was a car of the Lippard-Stewart make which won the first prize for the best commercial feature in the parade. These photographs show the cars just as they appeared in the parade.

TO SERVE WITH EDISON
SEC. DANIELS CONSIDERS LONG LIST OF EXPERTS—WRIGHT AND MAXIM WOULD SERVE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Gossip continued today as to the make-up of the proposed civilian advisory board of inventors and technical experts as proposed by Secretary Daniels, to assist in working out naval problems. The only selection thus far announced is Thomas A. Edison, who will head the board.

The names of a score or more of possible new members of the advisory council, many of them recognized experts in special lines of inventive and research work, are under consideration, but Secretary Daniels said that he would not announce the selections until after their acceptances had been received.

The secretary said he was certain that when the board had been finally selected it would be "composed of men of such prominence as to make the country feel that what it is possible for the human mind to devise will be devised for our navy."

WRIGHT AND MAXIM MENTIONED
NEW YORK, July 14.—Orville Wright, who was among those suggested to Secretary Daniels as possible members of the proposed civilian advisory board of inventors and technical experts, was quoted here today as saying that he would accept membership in the board if invited. He said that he had not as yet received such an invitation.

Hudson Maxim, whose name also was suggested to Mr. Daniels, said he would be glad to serve on the new board. "It is a mighty good idea," said Maxim. "I do not know what the powers of the board will be, but I am sure it will be a great benefit to the government and I think it is the duty of every patriotic American to serve if he is asked."

LOWELL MAN ARRESTED
FOR DRIVING AUTO WITHOUT REGISTRATION CERTIFICATE—REGISTERED AS JOHN T. LOCKE

John T. Locke of this city had a disagreeable experience in Nashua, N. H., shortly after midnight yesterday which necessitated his remaining in the police station of that city until a few minutes before the opening of yesterday's session of police court, when he secured bail in the sum of $50. Locke, it is claimed, was driving his touring car without lights at 12:15 o'clock and was accosted by a patrolman. He was taken to the police station and booked on an alleged charge of driving a motor vehicle without having a registration certificate. When arraigned in court Locke was fined $10 and costs, which totalled $15.33.

WAS ROBBED OF AWARD

FANS AGREE THAT INDIANAPOLIS
LIGHTWEIGHT DESTINED CHARLEY
WHITE—BUT CALLED A DRAW

BOSTON, July 14.—Milburn Saylor, the Indianapolis lightweight, was robbed of a well earned victory over Charley White of Chicago in their 12-round bout at the Atlas A. A. last night when referee Billy Roche of New York declared the contest a draw.

When Roche announced his decision, there was a howl from the fans. Roche said after the bout that he based his decision on two knock-downs by White but White only scored one.

It took some nerve for a referee to stand before a crowd and give such a decision. There was hardly another person in the arena that figured White entitled to a draw.

The Chicago boxer was such a top-heavy favorite that there was little wagering on the contest. The best that any of the fans gave White was one round of the sixth, when he put Saylor down with a left hook to the jaw. Three of the other rounds were even and Saylor was entitled to the honors in the other eight.

It was a great contest, one of the best lightweight battles in this city in a long time. There was action from start to finish and Saylor did the best work he ever has in this city.

phia on Friday

CHICAGO, July 14.—Pitcher "Big Ed" Walsh, a veteran star of the Chicago Americans, who has not been started in a game for more than a year, will try to make his "come back" appearance on Friday. It was announced today. He will oppose the Philadelphia club in his initial appearance of the season.

LOWELL POLICE WON

Took League Game From Somerville in that City Yesterday—Score Was 11 to 0

The Lowell police baseball team journeyed to Somerville yesterday and defeated the Somerville blue jackets by the score of 11 to 0. A feature of the game was the pitching of Mooney, while Murphy performed in fine style at the other end of the battery. Yesterday's lineup was as follows: Pitcher, Kelley; 1b, Lynch; 2b, Murphy; 3b, Moloney; 4b, McNulty; 5b, Quinn; 6b, Donovan; 7b, White; 8b, the latter player is driver of the Somerville police patrol, loaned Lowell to complete the necessary nine. Tuesday the Lowell police will play Lawrence at Spaulding park.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Lawrence will play here tomorrow.

Four out of five is going some after such a slump as Lowell experienced.

"Home-Town Willie" yelled Jesse from the bench at Empire Aubrey.

Downfall the speed merchant, didn't get a chance to show yesterday.

Shorty Dee had an off day yesterday without any doubt. He was badly in the air.

Stuffy Carroll is well sick-named. He was inclined to be quite stuffy in yesterday's game.

Perhaps "Billy I" didn't show the roads to the old folks at home? Willie was very much in the game, both ways.

One thing that will make Manager Ketchner popular is the fact that he will fight uphill and never give up until the last man is out.

You never can tell about Snubner. Twice of late he has had three and two before wallowing the ball out for a long hit.

Pahey is playing like a house on these days. He knocked down a sure two bagger and got a man at third yesterday and put the game on ice.

There were hits in every variety: 11 singles, five doubles, two three baggers, three home runs. The fans certainly do enjoy a free hitting game.

Three on bases and Snubner makes a three bagger. Two out in the 10th and Estes makes a home run winning the game. That's the kind of base ball you read about but seldom see.

Lowell fans may rave, rant and roar at old Jesse Burkett until they're black in the face and they'll never miss the old veteran but let George Donnelly open up with "How did you like that Pop?" and Jesse's goat is gone. Jesse will stand for anything but being called "Pop."

Burkett sat on the bench carefully studying manager Ketchner. Charlie was something new to Jesse and the latter's best efforts to get the Lowell manager's goat were rewarded with a smile that wouldn't come off, even when things were breaking bad. First he called "Seaside." Then he said, "You're one of those Hugh Duffy, hard luck fellows. Finally he yelled out, "If I knew you were so lucky I'd pay you money, just to let you along to annoy me. But it all rolled off Ketchner like water off a duck's back.

The Delaware County league, which exploited Home Run Baker early in the season, has released Long Larry McLean, who has been playing here ever since his escape from Manager McGraw of the Giants.

John D. Rockefeller would give a barrel of money if he could eat a quarter's worth for breakfast.

The New England league followers are beginning to take quite a little notice of Danny McGeehan, Manchester's second baseman. McGeehan is the smallest man in the circuit, a 5 ft. 10 in. Rabbit, Johnny Evers or al, but he is a pretty big lad with the stick and in the field. What's more, he's a hard worker and his play is improving all the time.—Boston Journal.

Our old friend Walter Abernethy has been displaced as manager of the Lowell club. It was hardly his fault that the team did not make 2003 showing, however. There was dissension in the ranks after "Cuke" Barber gave up the ghost and it will probably continue until there is a vast change in the club roster.—Haverhill Record.

Nobody has accused your old friend Walter of not making good and if there was dissension at it has disappeared with the appearance on the scene of Manager Ketchner.

RESOLUTE AND VANITE RESUME BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY—VANITE MUCH IMPROVED

NEW YORK, July 14.—The cup defense candidates, Resolute and Vanite, have renewed their battles for supremacy, and in the races held to date Resolute has a slight edge over her rival. Vanite, however, has shown much improvement, and though she has trailed Resolute in all but one of their encounters to date, it has been because of more skillful managing of the other yacht and not because of superior sailing qualities. In the race off Greenwich, Conn., on the Long Island sound, Resolute defeated Vanite over a thirty mile course by 1 minute 6 seconds, actual time. This time was increased to 2 minutes 17 seconds on corrected time. In no race of their present series has Resolute enjoyed a wider margin over her rival, and it is safe to say that ere long Vanite's commander will catch the secret of Resolute's starts and then will give the N. Y. Y. C. sloop a harder fight. Yachtsmen are watching with keen interest the performances of the sloops. Picture shows finish of Greenwich race, Resolute leading Vanite over line.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—With play in the singles matches narrowing down to the final round, several star players were to be pitted against each other in today's contests in the Panama-Pacific exposition tennis tournament.

Clarence Griffin of San Francisco, doubles champion of the Pacific northwest, was to meet H. Norris Williams, 2nd, of Harvard university, national singles champion and Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, former national singles champion, was to play Willis Davis of San Francisco. McLoughlin and Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles, national doubles champions, were to make their first appearance today in the doubles matches.

BASEBALL WORLD SUSPENDS

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 14.—The Baseball World, a weekly publication which was alleged to have conducted baseball pools throughout the country, suspended publication yesterday.

the past. With five innings gone and the score 4 to 1 against Lowell and all indications pointing to defeat, Lowell got three men on base with one out when Snubner Greenhalge, after having thrown three and two called on him, smashed the ball out to the center field fence for a three-sacker, sending in three runs ahead of him. A moment later when Bowcock hit a grounder to McCleskey, Snubner beat out Jeff's throw to the plate, making the score a tie.

Then again in the first of the ninth with the score a tie and Worcester with three on bases, and only a single needed to send in two runs, Gardella sent a grass-out directly over third base at a mile a minute pace and good for two bases 99 times out of 100. Howard Pahey lunged at the flying sphere and knocking it down and himself over, picked up ball and himself and got onto the bag in time to catch the runner at third; spilling Worcester's last and best chance to win.

Finally in the 10th with the first two men out on flies to Lowell, who made pretty catches of both, Estes sent the ball over the left field fence for a home run, winning the game. Some of the things were breaking bad and made his boys fight uphill, with success.

Lohman and Daniels were the opposing pitchers, and while Worcester walloped Lohman twice as hard as the home team hit Daniels, and was added along by several errors into the bargain, Lowell pulled out with a majority of runs, and it's the runs that count. At times it looked as if both pitchers might be pulled out but they weren't. Daniels was entitled to remain on the mound on account of his batting for he hit safely twice, which is something unusual for a pitcher.

In the field Lowell was outplayed by the visitors. Fottelger made Worcester's only error at the very opening of the game, and it resulted in a run. Dees and Estes were the offenders on the Lowell end. Shorty was way off color, though Estes made two errors, his homerun at the finish squared accounts.

RANCH 101 HERE FRIDAY

BIG WILD WEST SHOW WITH JESSE WILLARD COMING—THE FEAT-URES

Scenes from the life of the far west, both past and present, are, it is announced, accentuated in the performance of Miller Bros. & Arlington's 101 Ranch Wild West Show, which Lowell will have an opportunity to see, in conjunction with Jess Willard, the cowboy world's champion, and his company of sparring, on Friday at the fair grounds on Gorham street. Willard, of course, is the much-discussed, much-heralded offering of the season, and easily ranked first among the interest-arousing features of the big show. Willard is a cowboy by training and instinct, and in the 101 Ranch show he is simply getting back to first principles. He will be seen at both performances in this city, first in his original role as a cowboy, and later in a boxing bout with one of his sparring partners, and in ring costume, when he will illustrate just how he gave Jack Johnson the knockout blow that gave the Kansas the world's championship.

Among the other offerings made possible by a big congress of cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, Mexicans and other wild west people, is an attack on a pioneer's train of "prairie schooners" by Sioux Indians led by Chief Iron Tail whose war experiences date back to the Custer battle and whose profile adorns the new "Buffalo" nickel; the capture and punishment of a horse-thief, according to the summer traditions of the early days on the frontier; a

CUSHING IS CONFIDENT

SPRINGFIELD, July 14.—In the general lineup the younger men are with me and the older men with Mr. McCall, but I shall be nominated with quite a margin to spare," said Lieut. Gov. Cushing, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, at a fair-sized gathering of leading members of the party in this city at Hotel Kimball last night.

200 IN PANIC AT FIRE

FITCHBURG, July 14.—The explosion of a lighted lamp at the home of John Seal, 246 Kimball street, last night, created a panic among 200 men, women and children who were attending an auction sale on the premises.

In the excitement that followed several women and children were knocked down and trampled upon, but no one was seriously injured.

PRINCES AT PUPDOM THAT WON HONORS AT SOUTHAMPTON SHOW

The Southampton (N. Y.) kennel exhibit brought out an unusual number of classy canines, and the experts were not slow to compliment the managers of the show. The prize winners, as usual, were dogs of undoubted merit. The illustration shows three of the leading winners. They are the white curly coated poodle Don Pedro, the spirited and sporty Airedale terrier, Miss Rex, and the dachshund, Miss C. Note the strong, well formed forelegs of the Airedale.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

There is said to be forming in Pawtucketville a company of cavalry for warlike purposes; for what other purpose it can have since the Fourth has passed and St. Patrick's day is so far away?

For several Sundays of late squads of horsemen have been seen riding and harrying in the back woods and fields, earnestly trying to perfect themselves in the art of horsemanship. Led and tutored by Ed Dean, who from the fact of being an accomplished rider is supposed to be the leader, the young men are fast getting familiar with the work. As the men emerge from their ranks in Fourth avenue they present a noble appearance, and become the targets of small boys' applause and the recipients of the admiring glances of the young ladies. It was with the Kaiser ensues the Pawtucketville troop will no doubt be ready. If it does not, Pawtucketville in its fight for a new bridge, and could lead in an assault upon her traditional enemies. Some have suggested that the troop be employed as auxiliary to the police in running down fruit thieves who are long will begin operations in this district. Officer Frank Marshall will welcome their assistance in this. Others say, since they cannot have a traffic officer at the square, that the troop be detailed at that point. Tom Varnum allows they are all right if they keep off his cabbages. Conale says he's looking 'em over. Tom Murphy, with a view of joining the troop, included a little private practice, but the horse he mounted has developed spinal trouble. Joe Perkins says the troop couldn't scatter a flock of sheep. And so it goes. Future events may occasion further remarks upon this latest Pawtucketville sensation.

Money and Society

Money is a great thing. It's a necessary commodity. It possesses a power for good and for evil. Used for good, it's a blessing. Used for evil, it's a curse. These are self-evident truths. The disposition to waste it is common, and from it the thrifty profit. Accepting the testimony of those whose wealth is great it then often becomes a burden; and those who possess it not at all need not anyone's testimony to know that its absence is also a burden. The gift to a hungry man between the extremes—that sufficiency that spells independence, that state that makes of his money his servant, that spirit that considereth the poor, that pleasure it gives without return of self-reproach, that feeling that what one has was honestly and legitimately earned, is the state which everyone may legitimately strive to attain.

There is no gaudy influence of the broadening and elevating influence of wealth and the power it yields for good under such influence. Neither is there any doubt of the debasing influence of money and the evil purposes it subserves. For its possession men and women sell their souls; for it no crime or self-abasement is too great or too low. For money men will sacrifice love and friendship and with piles of money hope to buy it back. For it and the artificial atmosphere it affords some prize above all else, the opportunity for getting into "society." Most men, however rich, do not care for this; it is peculiarly a woman's ambition; and money being generally the magical key that opens the door she is not slow in opening it when she has the price. The following represents a type not wholly unknown in our own community. "There was no lady there whose husband was worth more than a hundred thousand dollars," said the woman whose financial advance had admitted her into the charmed circle of the hundred thousand dollar set. When her husband was a twenty-dollar a week clerk she had social ambitions and as a consequence in salary and finally began to accumulate money the wife's ambition for society grew accordingly. If her husband, as he most likely will, continues to increase his wealth, his wife will ever look down on her present $100,000 friends, for her eye is upon the circle that admits nobody worth less than half a million. But the poor woman will never reach the goal of her ambition for there will always be, out of her reach, the circle unattainable, and a few indeed that money cannot buy.

And here's another picture: I know a man who in his youth and early manhood went to middle age was popular, his social and intellectual qualities brought him hosts of friends. There were few honors within the power of his fellow citizens to give he couldn't have had for the mud of his head. He was an intellectual giant and is today his personal power to be of inestimable use to his fellowmen, those who knew him felt. His earning capacity was great. Fortune ever attended him in his chosen calling. Yet still in his prime, he came into the possession of a great amount of property—call it a million, if you please. Directly he gave up position, power, calling and the ever-broadening opportunity for great public service. He seemed like the oyster when it closes its shell. For the sake of that million it seemed as though he deliberately retired from the world. That million seemed to be as a barrier between the past and present, between him and every social connection, between him and his former friends; and the sequel has been that in this instance his fortune ripened while his friendships decayed. Today in the city where he dwells this remarkable man, it is said, has scarcely a personal friend. No friend seemed to see him. He visits none. To be sure, there is nothing in possessing a million that should separate a man from his true friends. Why should it? But in this case, strange as it seems, the coming of this man's million has done just the opposite. Against this barrier of those of many of his millionaire friends, who, seemingly, at least, have whole armies of friends out of which may be found a few real ones. How much in these days may we abridge the truth of the old biblical statement, that the love of money is the root of all evil?

Bob Breckinridge

The untimely death of Robert Breckinridge which occurred on the seventh instant was a shock to his friends and acquaintances, many of whom had been long aware of the serious condition of his health; some, indeed, being ignorant of the nature of his malady so rapidly did it develop. Not since the death of George Coburn has an event so saddened the employees of the Courier-Citizen company who from an association of nearly ten years have recalled the disposition of his unfailing, obliging spirit, and for his attainments, which were such a valuable asset of the paper he represented. The church which he regularly attended and in which he took an active interest, will experience a sense of loss in his absence—an acute loss, too, as we recall the example of this nature of young men neglectful of their church and religious duties and obligations. Among his associates wherever his daily vocation called him he will be missed. In the hearts of his intimate friends there is a void, an aching void, caused by the passing of this nature of him with rare and lasting memories of him who was their friend.

Deep and respectful sympathy is felt with the parents, brother and sister of our late friend. We know how vain were human words to help assuage a sorrow or to ease the grief of those who are so nearest and dearest to Robert Breckinridge perhaps can feel some consolation and take some pride from the knowledge of the love and esteem in which their late son and brother was held; and in the fact that a life of clean and honest living and earnest purpose was not lived in vain. The Lord liveth. The Lord taketh away; but, blessed be His name, the gift remaineth!

The River

The river for the past week has been affording us a spectacle unusual for the summer season. Such a consistent high flow of water is unprecedented so far as the memory of the oldest inhabitant records. It has been a magnificent sight and still is owing to a break in the dam, causing the water to rush unobstructed and filling the rapids below. The river reached its highest mark on Saturday, registering more than seven feet above the dam which is seven feet above the mouth of July, and throughout its course took on many characteristics of a genuine spring freshet. July has certainly made a record for herself thus early in her career for rainfall, and with more than two weeks of life remaining has a chance to clinch it by setting a new record. The rain has been a welcome and much-needed visitation and has conferred upon us, aside from things beautiful to look at, very material benefits for men to be thankful for.

Baseball Better

I believe that there's a feeling that our baseball team, which has been in the cellar for a long, long time, will be in a pleasant position before long, and will demonstrate that its lowly standing was all a mistake. Certainly the owners of the club have done and are doing all within their power to better conditions. The new manager looks good. It looks certain that indifference, boneheadism and disorganization in any form, if it exists, will receive due attention from him. No player on the team should think that he is a bigger man than his manager. A little rigid discipline, a few earnest words, may serve wonderfully in instilling the proper spirit into a team which has no license to be hugging the last place in the N. E. league race. Come out of it, boys!

MAN IN THE MOON.

THE WIGGINVILLE SEWER

RESIDENTS DEMAND RELIEF FROM CONDITIONS THAT HAVE BECOME UNBEARABLE

That "there's a sewer stench in South Lowell compared with which the odor from the rendering works is a perfume rare," was the statement made by a South Lowell resident last evening. A hearing was held before the municipal council on a petition to extend the sewer in Spruce street, South Lowell, to the Concord street. The hearing was more or less a matter of form as the council at its regular meeting earlier in the day voted to borrow $12,000 for the extension of the sewer in question.

James C. Reilly represented the petitioners last evening. He thought it was not necessary to make any very extended speech in explanation of conditions in South Lowell. All of the council members, he said, had visited the locality for which better sewer facilities were asked and undoubtedly were impressed with the necessity of abating the filth and nuisance. He thought that from Spruce street to the Concord street a section of the sewer should be placed that would later be made permanent. "In view of the action taken by the municipal council, today, he said, 'I presume it is not necessary for us to go into as great detail as would have seemed necessary in the past.'"

Reilly explained that two owners of land would require easement on their property. One parcel was in Acton street, and $10 would satisfy the owner. This land is owned by Emma Laurin of New York city. The other lots are in Woburn street and are owned by Rosanna Hurtubise of Winnipeg, Ont. Mr. Reilly said it would be necessary to take 500 feet of this land and that it is assessed at three cents a foot. He said that members of the South Lowell Improvement association would look after these parcels of property.

Arthur and Archie Brin, brothers, told of the horrible odors caused by the stagnant sewage. They declared that condition are unbearable and that the sewer or stagnant water stench has the smell from the rendering works faded to a shadow and Arthur said that to stand it is equivalent to a "human boiling-up" whatever that means.

Enoch Gaumont said the brook running through them has been polluted for the past three or four years, or since the Boyston street sewer entered it. Others who told of the odor that smells to heaven for vengeance included Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Donnelly and Miss Lefebvre.

Sydney Menard, president of the South Lowell Improvement association, made a strong plea for immediate action in the abatement of the nuisance. He considered the odors to be very unpleasant and told of a man who is suffering from typhoid fever, which he said might be due to conditions there. "We have a man here," said Mr. Menard, pointing to a gentleman on the side seats, who pays $100 a year in taxes, and what does he get? A dry well."

It was understood, before the hearing finished, that the work of extending the Spruce street sewer and of making the necessary improvements to abate the nuisance would be begun as quickly as possible.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH FELL FROM STAGING

MEN'S CLASS OF LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY CONDUCTED A LAWN PARTY

A successful lawn party was conducted by the men's class and the ladies' benevolent society of the Calvary Baptist church on the church grounds last evening, and the result of the affair was very gratifying to the organizers, for the attendance was large and the receipts which will go toward the church building fund, were very substantial.

The officers of the general committee were as follows: Richard Gumb, chairman; Walter Colby, secretary; Harry Lomas, treasurer. Those in charge of the various booths were as follows: Mrs. J. M. Charney, Mrs. John Phillips, Mrs. C. H. Fradd, Mrs. Dorothy Dodge, Mrs. Harry Lomas, Mrs. H. A. Moller, Mrs. J. C. Butcher, H. E. Merriam, Walter Gumb, Mrs. A. T. Diller, Mrs. J. W. PLOT TO LYNCH FRANK

MILITIA ORDERED READY AT MACON, GA.—ROADS GUARDED TO STATE PRISON FARM

ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—Three companies of state militia at Macon were ordered held at their armory last night in readiness to proceed to the Milledgeville state farm, where Leo M. Frank is confined.

Gov. Harris announced the action after reports had been circulated that a plan was under way to attack the prison and lynch Frank.

The orders were issued by Adj. Gen. Nash, who, the governor explained, had blanket instructions to call out troops to protect state property.

Roads to Milledgeville from Atlanta, Marietta and other towns were guarded last night by county police. Frank recently began serving a life term for the murder of Mary Phagan, after his sentence of death was commuted by Gov. Slaton.

THREE CHILDREN RESCUED

Coal Yard Employees Save Two and Policeman Third in Swift-Running River in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, July 14.—Annie Karas, aged 14, and her brothers John and Joseph, aged 12 and 6, respectively, whose home is 67 Brook street, were rescued from drowning in the Spicket river, near the East Lawrence street bridge, yesterday afternoon after they had been swept off their feet by the swift running water. Henry Lange and Fred Cote, employees at a coal yard close by, went into the stream and caught the two boys as they floated down and Policeman Patrick J. Morrissey waded into the water to his shoulders and secured the girl, who had clung to a stationary object.

HEIRS' SALE OF THE TAYLOR PROPERTY IN TWO SEPARATE PARCELS. FIRST PARCEL LOCATED AT NOS. 68-71 EXETER ST., CONSISTS OF A TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 4000 SQ. FEET OF LAND. SECOND PARCEL, AT NO. 67 EXETER ST., IS A COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 4000 SQ. FEET OF LAND.

FIRST PARCEL AT 3 O'CLOCK

An up-to-date two-tenement house with seven rooms, bath and pantry with each. The flats are well arranged, every room airy and well lighted, excellent closet room, front and back stairs, separate front and back doors, side porch, and good, dry cellars. The house is in excellent shape inside and out, it being built but a few years ago for its present owners. The flats rent for $15 each, making a yearly rental of $360. The lot has a large frontage on Exeter street, with an area of about 4000 square feet. Good yard room, all in lawn, with concrete walk around the house.

This parcel should interest the home-seeker, where he could occupy one tenement and have the income of the other.

Terms—$350 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

SECOND PARCEL AT 3.15 O'CLOCK

A two-story cottage house with slated roof, having eight rooms, pantry, bath and storeroom. On the first floor are hallway, parlor, sitting room, dining room, kitchen, bath, pantry and side vestibule. On the next floor are three large square chambers, well lighted also storeroom, and above is a finished attic. This cottage is in splendid shape, inside and out, and is occupied by its present owners, and would easily rent for $15 per month. The lot, which is practically a corner one, has a good frontage, with an area of about 4000 square feet. Large lawn, several fruit trees, cherry, peach and pear and small shrubbery. This little home would have to be seen to be appreciated, and if you want to locate in Centralville, here is your opportunity.

Terms: $250 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. Now, then, Mr. Home-seeker and speculator, the above two parcels will be offered for absolute sale, regardless of any condition of the weather, and it is up to you to attend the sale, for it is seldom you get an opportunity to purchase this kind of property at absolute sale. The properties are within 15 minutes' walk of Merrimack square, near to many large industries, schools and churches.

All inquiries must be made of the auctioneer, who has full charge.

LOUIS GINGRAS INJURED WHILE AT WORK IN WILMINGTON—SENT TO HOSPITAL

Louis Gingras, residing at 783 Moody street, suffered a painful accident yesterday afternoon while at his work for the Scovell Boiler Works at Wilmington. Mr. Gingras, with another workman, was stationed on a staging. He was holding a motor in his arms, and was pitched to the ground, a height of about 12 feet, when the staging broke. He received several bad lacerations on the body, but fortunately did not fracture any bones. His companion was uninjured. Mr. Gingras was removed to his home and later to the Lowell hospital for treatment.

WOMAN AND CHILD DEAD

DIED FROM GAS POISONING IN BOSTON—UNSIGNED NOTE ADDRESSED TO S. ORRINGTON, ME.

BOSTON, July 14.—An unsigned note addressed to Edward Powers, South Orrington, Me., is the only clue which Medical Examiner Magrath and the Boston police have to the identity of the woman and child found dead of gas poisoning on the top floor of the lodging house at 67 Revere street, West End, yesterday afternoon.

The note states the writer's intention of committing suicide by gas, and indicates that family troubles led to the act. No name is signed to the note nor was there anything in the effects of the woman and child which assisted the medical examiner in establishing an identity.

ARGENTINE BEEF

Conditions Governing Competition Are To Be Disclosed at Hearing in Chicago Today

NEW YORK, July 14.—Conditions governing the competition between the meat packers of Chicago and South American concerns shipping Argentine beef to this country are to be disclosed in a hearing before the interstate commerce commission opening here today.

A. H. Benjamin of New York, agent of the Compania Sanguinosa de Buenos Aires and the Frigorificos Uruguayos, has asked the commission to give them facilities to sell beef in New York and elsewhere in the east which will enable them to meet the competition of the American packers.

The eastern trunk line railroads involved in Mr. Benjamin's complaint included the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and the Lehigh Valley.

The complainants asked the interstate commerce commission to direct the railroads to give them a refrigerator car service that is owned by the railroads and not by the American packers and that the flat car service which they formerly enjoyed in New York harbor be restored.

This is an important matter to the public, Mr. Benjamin said, "it is Argentine beef that is being sold at the price of American beef. If there were no supply of Argentine beef here American beef would be selling at least four cents a pound above the present price."

BOY'S BODY RECOVERED

The body of John Wozniak, aged 7 years, who was drowned in the Merrimack river Saturday afternoon, was found floating in the river about a half mile from where the accident occurred, this morning. The gruesome find was made at 2.45 o'clock by Albert Florey, Undertaker A. D. Doucette was notified and the body was removed to his morgue in Moody street and subsequently to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wozniak, 75 West Fourth street.

Aurora Vigean of Pelletier & Ledoux are spending two weeks at the beach. Sapiro Nicolatos of Roy & O'Heir is spending two weeks at Crystal Lake. Walter Doherty of the Caesar Misch store is enjoying a week's vacation.

AFFECTING POLYGAMY

Judge Howell Gives Opinion on Children Born of Plural Wives—Must be Acknowledged by the Father

OGDEN, Utah, July 14.—That children born of plural wives cannot be legally recognized as heirs unless they have been acknowledged by the father as his children, is the construction placed by Judge James A. Howell, on the Utah statutes affecting polygamy. The opinion was brought out in his instructions to the jury considering the case of Albert Geddes, or Eccles against the David Eccles estate by which the 16-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Geddes is endeavoring to establish helpship to the Eccles estate on the ground that David Eccles was his father by a plural marriage in 1893 and that he acknowledged him as his son.

Judge Howell is a Mormon as also are the plaintiff and defendants in the suit. The judge instructed the jury to consider only evidence regarding the alleged plural marriage affecting the possibility of the acknowledgment having been made. This is the first construction of the status of children of plural marriages since Utah became a state. The court holds that the acknowledgement need not be public but is binding even if made in secret and confidentially.

CAR CRASHED INTO AUTO

DEBHAM, July 14.—An automobile and electric car came together yesterday on Washington st., this town, yesterday, causing injuries to three men and giving two score persons a good scare. The accident occurred near the Stevens greenhouses, near where a similar accident happened two years ago.

Eliah D. Gilman was driving the auto, Howard Barry and Stephen Hunt, passengers, were injured, as was Oscar A. Benson, the motorman. At the foot of a hill a car of the Bay State Street Railway, bound for Forest Hills, crashed into the rear of the auto, hurling it across the street, over a board walk and through a fence, where it stopped on the brink of a 25-foot embankment. The auto had been run on the car tracks to pass a hay wagon and a farm wagon on either side of the road.

SWALLOWED DIAMOND RING

WORCESTER, July 14.—Henry Lamareau, aged 26, of Buxton was arrested last night on complaint of Rudolph Libby, a jeweler at 153A Front street, who accused Lamareau of swallowing a diamond ring and swallowing it when hard pressed by Libby and the police after running out of the store with the ring. He held on a charge of drunkenness and larceny.

EXTREME HEAT IN ALASKA

JUNEAU, Alaska, July 14.—Extreme heat has prevailed during the last ten days in southeastern Alaska. The weather bureau thermometer has registered as high as 90 degrees in the shade, and the 100 degree mark has been reached by street thermometers. Forest fires are raging along Lynden canal and the glaciers have been discharging ice at an extraordinary rate. At this time of the year the sun shines 20 of the 24 hours each day and to absence of the usual southwest winds is attributed the excessive heat.

FIRE IN CONCORD, MASS.

CONCORD, July 14.—An explosion of a gas machine used for heating iron resulted late yesterday in a fire which destroyed the laundry on Commonwealth avenue, Concord Junction, conducted by Mrs. Eva Bartlett of Marlboro. The loss is estimated at $300.

THE BRITISH NEED OF MUNITIONS TURNS CHURCH INTO WORKSHOP

A SHELL FACTORY IN CHURCH VESTRY

EDINBURGH, July 13.—The Rev. Percival McKenzie, rector of St. James' Scottish church, Goos Green, has turned the little vestry of the church into a factory for the making of war munitions. About a dozen able-bodied men, of the business and professional classes chiefly, have placed their services at the disposal of the rector. The photo shows parishioners at work on submarine periscopes.

Harry K. Thaw Is Sane

LOOKING UP SITE FOR CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL

Land Near the County Training School Considered—The High School and Finances

The health department expenses connected with contagious diseases was $2000 more for the last six months of the present year than for the corresponding months any preceding year. The great need of a hospital for the care of contagious diseases is becoming more and more pronounced each year and it is hoped that some action will be taken by the city council before the state board of health is obliged to issue another warning.

Numerous hospital sites have been viewed by the municipal council and Dr. Stimpson of the state board of health during the last month or so, but nothing definite has been done toward the purchase or seizure of a site. It is understood, however, that a site comprising 60 acres, mostly in Chelmsford, the old Bowers estate, so called, is foremost in the minds of the investigators, but there are drawbacks that may be impossible to overcome. It would be possible, it is stated, to erect a hospital on the site and have it nearly half a mile from the nearest building, which would be the Middlesex county training school. It is understood that the land can be purchased at a fairly reasonable price, but the water supply is the big obstacle in the way. It would be necessary to have city water and city sewers. The county commission had the Middlesex street sewer extended to the county school some time ago and in order to enter that sewer it would be necessary to get the permission of the county commission. It would require a special act of the legislature to extend the water service over the city line. The fact remains, however, that some action aiming at the erection of a contagious hospital will have to be made within a very short time or the state board of health will know the reason why.

The Financial Statement

The financial statement for the month of June has just been issued by the finance department and reveals the fact that a great deal of the money appropriated and borrowed this year remains unexpended. The sum of $218,000, including the $20,000 loan order passed yesterday, has been borrowed thus far this year, and this is exclusive of the $225,000 borrowed for the water department.

All of the $218,000 went to the street department and that department has remaining unexpended, loans and appropriations inclusive, $450,918.60. The total appropriation was $310,880.04 and of that amount $260,462.45 remains unexpended. The sum of $450,918.60 is a big sum of money to spend within the next few months, but Mr. Morse has a lot of work to do, and, of course, there are some outstanding bills that will reduce this very healthy unexpended roll.

The city, according to the report, was $302,419.41 from the debt limit July 1, $75,760.00 nearer than on Jan. 1, when the distance from the debt limit was $382,179.49. The report gives the total valuation, personal and real estate, as $6,875,614.09; the gross city debt less sinking funds, as $3,506,445.73, and the excess in valuation of all city property over the gross debt of the city was $3,369,068.31.

The New High School

It was stated today at city hall that a great many people living in Kirk and Anne street believed they will not have to move for a year to come next fall, if any of them, have made any preparations to move. The fact remains, however, that they will have to move within two months and it is up to the city council or the school board to acquiesce with this fact immediately. It was also stated that a number of the property owners in those streets are under the impression that the city will have to pay them 25 per cent. more than the assessed value of the property in the event of seizure. This, too, is a big mistake and it is the duty of the city council to explain these things away to the property owners in these streets. Mr. Elliott of the school committee is an expert real estate man, and he says he has never known of property in Kirk or Anne streets selling as high as its assessed value. It was stated today, but not authoritatively, that the Knights of Columbus might return to their old quarters in the Associate building until they have secured a new home.

NO DECISION ON POLICY

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Pending the return of President Wilson from Cornish, N. H., it was believed here today there would be no further developments in the situation that has arisen between Germany and the United States over German submarine warfare.

Just when the president would return to take up with his cabinet the latest German note was not definitely known, but the president in a despatch to Secretary Tumulty said that he would be here soon. The supposition is that he will be in Washington the last of the week and that the sub-

JURY GAVE ITS DECISION

HARRY K. THAW

Fate of Prisoner Now Rests With Justice Hendrick Who Can Set Him Free—Legal Aspect of Trial

NEW YORK, July 14.—The case of Harry K. Thaw, whose mental status was up for determination in the supreme court by a jury before Justice Hendrick, went to the jury at 2:33 p. m., today, after a brief charge by the court.

Justice Hendrick's charge to the jury lasted hardly more than ten minutes. He reviewed, with great brevity, the legal aspects of the case and told the jurors that they were to consider all the evidence. They were not to concern themselves, the court charged, with any previous acts of Thaw as such.

"The question to be determined," Justice Hendrick said, "is whether Thaw is sane now."

The justice did not intimate whether he would be guided wholly by the verdict in determining Thaw's mental condition. The jury is acting in a capacity purely advisory to the court. Justice Hendrick can reverse their verdict, should he deem it contrary to the evidence.

The jury declared Thaw sane. Justice Hendrick reserves decision as to the disposition of Thaw.

ARGUMENTS IN THAW CASE

NEW YORK, July 14.—Harry K. Thaw may know by tonight whether he is to be set free as the outcome of his nine years' fight to prove that he is sane, or whether he is to be sent back to the Matteawan asylum as insane.

The state had closed its case and there remained only the submission of rebuttal evidence, which, it was announced, would occupy only a few minutes. The arguments of the attorneys and Justice Hendrick's charge to the jury. Counsel believed that the case would be in the hands of the jury by afternoon and that a verdict would be rendered before night.

As the jury is acting really in an advisory capacity, Justice Hendrick may disregard any verdict it may render.

It was reported today that if Justice Hendrick decided that Thaw is sane the state would at once take an appeal.

During the latter part of Mr. Cook's summing up United States Senators Otis James of Kentucky and Hughes of New Jersey entered the court room and took seats on the bench with Justice Hendrick.

Arguments for Thaw

Mr. Stanchfield, counsel for Thaw began by declaring that neither he or the court was concerned with the previous actions of Thaw. "The ques-

The German thrust at Verdun has resulted in an important gain of ground, according to the current official statement from Berlin. In the Argonne the Germans report having captured French positions along a front of a mile and four-fifths, the gain extending to a depth of three-fifths of a mile. The hill known as No. 285 also was taken, the statement says.

The latest French official statement claims that the Germans in the Argonne have been definitely stopped.

BERLIN OFFICIAL REPORT

CAPTURE OF FRENCH POSITIONS IN FOREST OF ARGONNE WITH 2551
PRISONERS

BERLIN, July 14, via London, 4:16 p. m.—The German official statement issued today announces the capture yesterday of French positions in the forest of the Argonne for a width of three kilometers (1.6 miles), and for a depth of one kilometre, and also that the Germans stormed Hill 255. The Germans claim they made 2551 prisoners, took two field cannon and rendered eight cannon useless.

The text of the statement follows: "Western theatre of war: Fresh hand grenade attacks near the sugar refinery at Souchez were repulsed during the night.

"The French blew up without result a few mines in the neighborhood of Treux, west of Craonne, and at Certe in the Champagne our bombardment with hand grenades preventing them from settling themselves into the mined positions.

"In the Argonne a German attack resulted in complete success northeast of Vienne-Chateau. Our troops took by storm the enemy positions in the hills extending over a width of three kilometres and a depth of one kilometre. Hill No. 285, La Fille Morte, is in our possession. Twenty-five hundred and eighty-one unharmed prisoners, including 51 officers, fell into our hands. In addition, 300 wounded were taken under our care. Two field cannon, two revolver cannon, six machine guns and a large quantity of tools were captured. Our troops advanced as far as the positions of the French artillery and rendered eight cannon useless.

Eastern theatre of war: Between the Nieman and the Vistula our troops obtained some local successes in the neighborhood of Kalvaria, southeast of Kolno, at Prazanyz, and south of Mlaw.

"Southeastern theatre of war: There is no change with the German troops."

First Narrative Account of Capture of Mexico City

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The first narrative account of the capture of Mexico City was received today by Gen. Carranza's agency from Vera Cruz. It states that the early engagements, in which it was reported that the Carranza troops were defeated, were minor fights during which Gen.

Gonzales was distributing his army for the final effort.

"The actual fighting began on the morning of Thursday, July 8, at Tepic, and from that time until the final constitutional forces lost not a foot of ground but gained consistently and uninterruptedly," says the report.

"The fighting of July 8 did not end until the enemy were behind their entrenchments at the Grand canal and at Correo Gordo. There was a heavy artillery bombardment of Correo Gordo 215

JOHN J. DILLON DEAD

FORMER COUNCILMAN PASSED AWAY THIS AFTERNOON—
SERVED FROM WARD 5

The many friends of John J. Dillon, a well known resident of this city, will be grieved to learn of his death which occurred at his home in Andrews street today. The deceased had been confined to his bed for some time, and while his death was not unexpected it will cast a gloom over his wide circle of friends who admired his life for many sterling traits of character. He was 47 years of age, and in days gone by was prominent in the political activities of Ward 5. He served with credit in the common council three successive terms. His wife and a daughter, Mary Dillon, survive him. Funeral notice later.

All drug stores close tomorrow at 1:30 for the annual outing.

SCHOOL CONFERENCE HELD

AFTERNOON SESSIONS FOR HIGH SCHOOL FAVORED—SEIZURE OF KIRK STREET PROPERTY

A conference opening at 9.30 o'clock and closing long after the "tipping shop" had closed their doors was held in the public reception room at city hall last night. The hearing had to do with the acquisition of land for the new high school and plans for the school. The question of caring for the overflow, about 75 pupils in all, while the new high school is being built was the most important question to be settled last evening and it seemed the consensus of opinion that afternoon sessions of the high school would be the safest and surest way out of it. Parties to the conference included the mayor, school committee, Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools; Principal Cyrus W. Irish of the high school; and a committee from the Knights of Columbus.

Simple Solution
Dissolves
Hair Growths

There is only one safe and sure way of getting rid of the face, arms or neck, and that is to dissolve them. To do this, simply get an ounce of safe solution from your druggist, apply the solution with the finger tips to the hairs, keeping them moist for a few minutes. You will soon see the hairs shrivel up and dissolve away. After washing, you will find the skin is left soft and smooth as velvet.

The mayor opened the conference by reading a letter signed by Solon W. Stevens and Edward W. Trull, president and secretary of the O'Leary home in Kirk street, stating that $3500 should be allowed by the city if the property is taken.

Joseph Bourke, of the Genoa club and Knights of Columbus, said he had talked with Mayor Murphy relative to the sale of the club property, prior to May 15, and when the high school proposition was in a semi-secret stage. Later it became generally known and the matter was taken up with the club. Mr. Bourke explained that the Genoa club is a Massachusetts corporation made up exclusively of members of the Knights of Columbus. The committee from the Knights of Columbus included Mr. Bourke, William F. Thornton, Police Sergeant, Hugh Maguire, Daniel O'Brien and Joseph Cronin. They were given two months in which to vacate the premises. Asked if the money to be paid for the premises would be forthcoming this year, Mayor Murphy said it certainly would. The club, it is understood, will buy land and erect a new home. In the meantime it will be necessary to find temporary quarters.

Number of Pupils
Principal Irish of the high school said that he had had applications for admission from about 1850 pupils and he expects that about 1800 of that number will materialize. There will be no room for at least 15 of that number, and there's the rub. He said that at least three additional rooms would be required unless afternoon sessions of the high school were decided upon. He said it might be possible to put the classes around in corners of the hall if a place could be found for elocution and girls' drill, and the mayor asked if the hall at the Genoa club would be large enough for those purposes. Mr. Bourke stated that hall was 40 by 60 feet and that Dr. Lambert said, was not room enough for the girls to drill in. Commissioner Morse wanted to know how long the elocution and drilling for the girls had been going on at the high school and Mr. Irish said they had been in vogue for twenty or twenty-five years. Mr. Morse asked if they might be dispensed with for the time being and in fact he thought the girls would be just as well off if the drills were cut out permanently. Mr. Irish said if that were done it would cause a greater protest than if Latin, Greek and algebra were dispensed with.

Then there ensued further discussion of the afternoon session scheme to take care of the overflow and it was finally decided that the afternoon session would be the easiest way out.
Supt. Molloy said it is planned to build the new building accommodate 2000 pupils, which added to the 850 of the present building, makes about 3300. Total number of rooms in the old and new schools would be between 30 and 100. A long array of figures were presented and it was finally decided that the plans could be prepared while the buildings are being razed and it was understood that the city would proceed to business at once. The plan will be to seize all of the land and then settle with the owners, peacefully or otherwise.

STEERSON WILD RAMPAGE

GREAT EXCITEMENT AT BRIGHTON—ONE CHARGED LOCOMOTIVE—HURLED 30 FEET

BOSTON, July 14.—While being transferred from the Brighton stockyards to the abattoir, shortly before 12.30 yesterday afternoon, five Maine steers broke away and ran wild through the district.

One of the animals reached the main line of the Boston & Albany railroad, raced toward an oncoming express train and was thrown 30 feet by the collision. Another was captured near Fenwick. The third was brought in by a boy after a terrific battle on the lawn of station 14 on Washington street. It was not until after 8 o'clock last evening, however, that the other two were rounded up on Washington street near Commonwealth avenue.

The big steers, crazed with heat and thirst and with the attempts of hundreds of men and boys to capture them, raced madly through the district, menacing life and damaging property. Not since the time, many years ago, when 23 Texas steers broke loose, has the Brighton district been aroused to such a high pitch of excitement as yesterday.

SHOT BY JEALOUS LOVER

ELIZABETH G. HEALEY DYING IN BOSTON HOSPITAL—AFTER FIRING JOHNSON SHOT HIMSELF

BOSTON, July 14.—Jealous because he claims he found a man in her room, Walter R. Johnson, 75 years old, of 20 Waltham street, fired three shots last evening from a .32-caliber revolver at his sweetheart, Miss Elizabeth G. Healey. The shooting took place on the second floor of the house, 25 Lupton street, South End. After firing at the girl, Johnson tried to commit suicide, firing a fourth shot at his own head.

The girl is lying in the city hospital. Johnson, whose forehead was barely grazed by the shot he fired at himself, is a prisoner at the West End station police station, charged with assault with intent to kill.

MACHINES FOLLOWED FUNERAL OF COMPOSER OF MARSEILLAISE IN PARIS

PARIS, July 14, 11.30 a. m.—With impressive ceremony the remains of Capt. Claude Joseph Rouget de Lisle, composer of the Marseillaise, were placed today in the Hotel des Invalides. Thousands stood with heads uncovered as the coffin, upon a gun carriage of the revolutionary period, passed under the Arc de Triomphe down the Avenue des Champs Elysees and across the Alexander bridge to the Esplanade.

President Poincare, all the members of the cabinet, the presidents of the senate and chamber and the highest officials of the government marched behind the gun carriage while a detachment of dragoons led the way.

While the cortege was passing the hospitals in the hotels along the Avenue des Champs Elysees every balcony and every window was filled with wounded men and in the dense crowds on the pavement many maimed soldiers and many bronzed reservists home on leave saluted the bier and the president of the republic in solemn silence.

There were no cheers or manifestations until the procession passed the grand palace when the republican band struck up the "Marseillaise" and the crowd in a spontaneous burst of enthusiasm.

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

Your Complexion

Every woman owes it to herself, her family, her friends, and the world at large to be as beautiful as she can. If she will spend half the time studying how she may make herself attractive as she does in useless wishing she was naturally a famous beauty, the result would be found most gratifying.

At the face is the most noticeable feature, it should receive the most attention. And while I mean expression, features and complexion, when I speak of the face, it is too big a subject to treat all at once, so this talk is all about the complexion.

If you are troubled with pimples or a muddy complexion, you must look within for the cause. Regulation of the bowels frequently cures complexion ills. In washing the face use the best soap. Glycerin is valuable as a cleanser, and it also whitens the skin.

Use hot water and wash carefully, removing the dirt from every pore. Remove all traces of soap. Dash on cold water to close the pores and stimulate the skin. Then use cold cream.

Don't buy something any druggist tells you is the best cream just because he makes more profit on it. Don't use a cream just because someone else uses it. Find out what cream suits your skin and continue its use. You, yourself, can do much toward acquiring the name of beauty which nature has seemingly left unfinished.

YESTERDAY A SCORCHER

THE DAY A RECORD BREAKER FOR JULY 14—NO PROSTRATIONS

According to the figures of the United States weather bureau, yesterday was the hottest day of the year; it was the hottest July 13 in the weather bureau's history, with one single exception, and that was in 1891, when the high mark of 97 degrees was reached for a short period during the afternoon.

The intense heat struck Lowell yesterday and while no prostrations were reported, the weather was very uncomfortable. From an early morning minimum of 69 degrees, the mercury began climbing very rapidly, touching 80 by noon and 89 at 3 p. m. About 5 o'clock Fahrenheit's thermometer registered 94 degrees. In the sun at the Locks & Canals it was 102 in the shade. At 6 Canals it was 102. At 6 o'clock a shift in the wind caused a drop of several degrees and the temperature was comfortable during the night.

NEW AUTO RECORD

E. G. Patterson Goes From Chicago to New York in 35 Hours and 43 Minutes—Four in Car

NEW YORK, July 14.—Friends of E. G. Patterson, a publisher of this city, claimed today that Mr. Patterson had set a new record for an automobile run between New York and Chicago of 35 hours and 43 minutes. The best previous time made by relay drivers was said to be a trifle more than 39 hours.

Mr. Patterson made the same run last year in 41 hours and 17 minutes. He left Chicago at 2.52 a. m. Monday and reached New York at 2.35 p. m. yesterday. The route was through Bryan, Cleveland, Erie, Buffalo, Syracuse, Utica and Albany. Two speedometers he carried gave the total distance as 1015 miles and 1925 miles, respectively. The machine carried four persons.

"THE SPIRIT OF 1776"

Dr. Anna Shaw Probably Will Not Attempt to Prevent Sale of Auto at Auction

NEW YORK, July 14.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, probably will not attempt to save her little yellow automobile from sale at auction at Media, Pa., next Tuesday, to satisfy a tax assessment, according to a statement she issued here today. The car, named Eastern Victory, was presented to Dr. Shaw by a group of her followers here. It was seized at Moylan, Pa., Dr. Shaw's residence, on Monday and is to be sold at auction to pay a tax assessment of $120 levied upon Dr. Shaw in 1913.

The suffrage leader declined to make out a list of her property subject to taxes on the ground that to tax her without giving her the right to vote "would be heaping injury upon tyranny."

"In the spirit of 1776," her statement reads, "she declined to be a party to any act which violated the national constitution."

NOBLES OF MYSTIC SHRINE

SEATTLE, Wash., July 14.—The election of officers promised to be the feature of today's session of the 41st annual council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

In the contest for the 1916 convention, Isabella Temple, Buffalo, N. Y.; Crescent Temple, Trenton, N. J.; and possibly Modern Temple, Detroit, are contenders. Present indications favor the Buffalo temple.

"VALE WEEK" CELEBRATION
SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale university was on the program to make the principal address at the celebration of "New Haven Day" at the Pan-Pacific exposition today. General Practitioner of New Haven was to preside at the exercises.

"Yale Week" was inaugurated last night with a banquet of the Yale Alumni association of North California at which Dr. Hadley was the guest of honor.

Friday will be observed as "Yale day" at this exposition.

EVERY DAY ETIQUETTE

"Should a lady be introduced to a young man or the man to the lady?"

Also if invited to a party by a young man who does not dance, ought he to feel offended if I dance with another young man?" were Polly's two queries.

"The gentleman should always be introduced to the lady, and your escort should certainly not be offended," answered her aunt.

"Should girls ask young men to call or should the men ask the girls?" asked Grace.

"If a man shows a girl some attention, she may ask him to call and leave it to him to follow up the invitation by asking for a special night, was her mother's advice.

"Does the maid of honor walk with the best man, and when going to the wedding do they ride together in the same carriage?" inquired Joe, about to wed.

"The maid of honor rides with the bridesmaids in one carriage and the best man rides with the groom in another," said his brother.

"At a dinner is it proper for the woman to sit on the right or left of the man?" asked Mabel.

"A man offers his right arm to the lady whom he is to take to dinner, and the lady sits at his right," advised her brother.

"Is it polite for persons alone on a train to monopolize a whole seat?" inquired George.

"Commuters should certainly not occupy an entire seat for each person while allowing others to stand," said his father.

"Please tell me if the engagement ring is worn during the ceremony or if the wedding ring is placed on the finger over the engagement ring?" asked Alice.

"It is customary to remove the engagement ring just during the ceremony, leaving the finger clear for the wedding circle, and afterwards putting the engagement token over it," said her mother.

CYCLISTS INJURED AT PEPPERELL

Russell Wright and a companion named "Nate" both of Pepperell are at the Groton hospital suffering from injuries sustained when the motorcycle on which they were riding collided with an automobile at the "four corners" in Pepperell. The auto was owned by a Nashua business man. Young Leary sustained a severe injury to his leg and Wright was badly shaken up and bruised.

The Sunday permit of Mary S. French, 119 Chelmsford street, was surrendered and cancelled.

CINCINNATI MOURNS OVER THE VICTIMS OF TORNADO

SEARCHING FOR BODIES IN THE RUINS--

CINCINNATI, O., July 12.—With twenty-two known dead, ten missing a property loss that will exceed $1,000,000, Cincinnati is making a valiant effort to recover from the wind and rainstorm that hurled havoc upon the city. The wind blew at seventy miles an hour. The Kentucky side of the river was hit as hard as Cincinnati was, and it is not recovering as quickly. The street car companies on that side have been asked to keep all of their power shut off for fear of bringing numerous dangling wires to life while the lighting system covers such a large area that it has been impossible to repair it completely. The damage to Newport, Covington, Bellevue, Dayton, Fort Thomas, Fort Mitchell, Latonia and Ludlow, on the Kentucky side, it is believed, will almost equal the amount of damage wrought in Hamilton county. In the central part of Kentucky the storm was severe, many buildings being leveled and crops damaged. Throughout southern Ohio, except in and near Cincinnati, little damage was done, except crops, which suffered heavily. Central Ohio suffered severely. Washington courthouse was hardest hit. More than a score of buildings were badly damaged there. Throughout Fayette county growing crops were leveled and many buildings were damaged. At Buckeye lake, between Columbus and Newark, many yachts, motorboats and other small craft were swamped and sunk and many cottages tumbled over. Two steamboats were sunk in the Ohio river at Cincinnati, about a hundred houses were leveled to the ground and a half dozen church spires were toppled over. Few houses entirely escaped damage.

MRS. LYON'S AGES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory, are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

MISS ANNE MORGAN, SISTER OF J. P. MORGAN, TO SAIL FOR EUROPE EARLY IN AUGUST

MISS ANNE MORGAN

NEW YORK, July 13.—Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, and one of the wealthiest women in the world, will sail for Europe early in August to engage in hospital work among the wounded French soldiers. She will proceed to Paris, where she will devote part of her immense fortune to relief work. Miss Morgan was delayed in sailing by the shooting of her brother by Frank Holt.

THE FRENCH MAID SAYS:

Keeping Things Hung Up

"My kitchen is a sorry sight most of the time," complained Marjorie, who seems to have no order whatever, and everything is around in helter skelter fashion. I try hard to keep things picked up, too, but there is something wrong.

"Perhaps your trouble is that you have not hooks enough," ventured Marie, as she looked up from her mending. "I've hanging hooks everywhere and hooks for every separate thing. When there are no brooms or brushes, the brooms and brushes are always in the way and out of place unless suspended on hooks. Special holders for brooms can be purchased for a few cents in any hardware store.

"The carpet sweeper, mop, etc., can be suspended without any trouble by inserting a screw eye at the top. When the kitchen is very crowded, cup hooks, screwed along the ends of the sides of the kitchen table, afford handy places on which to hang the potato masher, kitchen scissors, graters, strainers, egg beater and numerous other articles that are in frequent use.

"Hooks in the stairways that lead from the cellar or into the attic will be found quite convenient for articles that have no abiding place and yet are used too seldom to be kept about the house or living rooms. A hook placed very convenient for the suspension of articles and brushes used in the bathroom. A little hook placed in the framework of the front door affords a convenient rest for the mail box and door keys. The telephone book for writing memorandums of numbers is of reader access if suspended near the telephone.

"Innumerable places for hooks can be found. New uses and places will be discovered every day. If any article is always in the way and never seems to have a place, the best way to solve the problem is to hang it up. For instance, even those patterns that persist in littering up the sewing room would be a lot less trouble if slipped into a bag and hung on a hook."

VESSEL SUNK BY MINE

Captain and Four Members of Crew of Swedish Schooner Daisy Were Killed According to Report

LONDON, July 11, 10.20 a. m.—The captain and four members of the crew of the Swedish schooner Daisy were killed when the vessel was sunk by a mine off Icelandic lightships, according to a Reuters despatch from Stockholm.

NOT OF ONE MIND

G. A. R. Veterans Disagree in Selection of Meeting Place

When it comes to the selection of a meeting place all members of the G. A. R. in Lowell are not of the same mind. This fact was made manifest at a conference held in the mayor's reception room at city hall last night on the question of the advisability of giving over the reading room in the basement of the Memorial hall to the G. A. R. posts. Members of Post 42, which post was permanently located in Memorial building, object to the use of the reading room in the basement for G. A. R. meetings, while members of Posts 129 and 185 are in favor of the proposition. Members of Post 42 are in favor of using the old councilman's chamber at city hall, a room that has been practically in disuse since the commission form of government went into effect. The Spanish War Veterans, too, are in favor of using the councilman's chamber and the proposition to give over the reading room in the library basement to the G. A. R. posts does not seem to be a very popular one. Librarian Chase spoke in opposition to it at the conference and stated, in the course of his remarks, that at least 500 or 600 men visit the reading room during the day.

Those present at the conference last night included Commander John H. Caverly and Franklin S. Pevey of Post 185, George E. Worthen of Post 42, Commander Frank B. Flanders and William L. Dickey of Post 129, Commander Alexander D. Mitchell, Gilbert H. Hunt and J. E. Crowley of the Spanish War Veterans, Louis Munroe of the Sons of Veterans, Mrs. Bessie Cummings of W. R. C. No. 75, John A. Bailey, Solon W. Stevens, C. H. McIntyre and A. P. Sawyer of the Lowell Historical society.

Capt. George E. Worthen of Post 42 said that certain members of the Grand Army had suggested that the G. A. R. be allowed the reading room in the basement, but he was opposed to it, he said. "It would be too much like a submarine," and I prefer to be a neoplane. I think it is too late to change our quarters. Six years from now, perhaps, none of us will be alive. It occurred to me today that perhaps we might be allowed the use of the old common council chamber in city hall. I would not like to see any change made in Memorial hall."

Frank B. Flanders, commander of Post 129, was in favor of the proposal.

tion, "knowing that we are getting to be old men," he said, "we know we are not good stair climbers any more and several post members have told me they couldn't attend post meetings because they were unable to climb the stairs."

John H. Caverly, commander of Post 185, said: "We are now in the top story of the Cook & Taylor building and we hear some complaint even there about stair climbing. There is a time coming, perhaps, when we would like to meet on the lower floor."

William L. Dickey, also of Post 129, said he had suggested to members of the Grand Army and also to members of the council that it would be very nice if the veterans could get down on a lower floor, "and I think," he said, "the basement in Memorial hall would be the proper place, providing it could be brought about without too great inconvenience or expense. I am speaking for myself, not for the Grand Army and I feel that if we had quarters on the lower floor it would be very pleasant for the veterans who are unable to climb the stairs without great exertion and I think arrangements ought to be made so that the veterans might smoke. That was one of the drawbacks in the old quarters. We couldn't smoke."

Alexander D. Mitchell, commander of Gen. James camp, U. S. W. V., was in favor of the common council chamber for the G. A. R. Mr. Mitchell was opposed to doing away with the public reading room.

Capt. Worthen was heard again and said that the basement of the Memorial building would not be a fit place to smoke. "We would not want to smoke up the library," he said, "and I am firmly opposed to the proposed move."

Mrs. Bessie H. Cumings of W. R. C. No. 75, favored making the last days of the veterans as comfortable as possible. She hoped the corps would be allowed to meet in its old place.

"If Post 42 is the only one to be considered, we have no business here," said Commander Flanders of Post 129, "but came here with the hope of finding a future home for our post. I have looked the situation over and I am convinced that the reading room in the basement and the banquet hall close by would accommodate the Grand Army of the city of Lowell. But if only one post is to be considered, I suppose it is useless for me to offer any further argument as to the advisability of using the Memorial building basement for the benefit of the G. A. R."

The Lowell Historical society was not a previously known factor in the conference, but the society was represented by its president, Solon W. Stevens, and other members, including Alfred P. Sawyer, Charles H. McIntyre, F. H. Appleton and John H. Bailey. They asked that the society be reinstated in its former quarters on the second floor of the Memorial building. The council took all of the matters under advisement.

Builders of the "Big Ditch"

There has just been issued by the Historical Publishing Company of Washington, D. C., a magnificent illustrated history of the construction and builders of the Panama Canal. The editor of this great history is Mr. Ira E. Bennett, with associate editors, John Hays Hammond, celebrated mining engineer; Capt. Philip Andrews, U. S. N.; Rupert Blue, Surg. Gen. U. S. Public Health Service; J. Hampton Moore, Pres. Atlantic Deeper Waterways Ass'n; Patrick J. Lennox, B. A., and William J. Showalter.

One of the most interesting portions of the book is that dealing with the feeding of the immense army of laborers. A few paragraphs concerning one of the foods chosen and supplied by the Commissary Department, are quoted (beginning page 428) as follows:

"Visitors to the canal who were privileged to get a glimpse of the routine inner life will recall a familiar picture of workmen going to their places of labor carrying round yellow tins.

"Often, as they went, they munched a food poured from the tin into the hand. This food, which played no inconsiderable part in 'building' the canal, was the well-known article of diet, 'GRAPE-NUTS.'

"The mention of Grape-Nuts in this connection is peculiarly pertinent. Not merely because Grape-Nuts is a food—for of course proper food was an integral part of the big enterprise—but because it is a cereal food which successfully withstood the effects of a tropical climate. This characteristic of Grape-Nuts was pretty well known and constituted a coherent reason for its selection for use in the Canal Zone.

"This food is so thoroughly baked that it keeps almost indefinitely in any climate, as has been demonstrated again and again.

"One finds Grape-Nuts on transoceanic steamships, in the islands of the seas, in Alaska, South America, Japan, along the China coast, in Manila, Australia, South Africa, and on highways of travel and the byways of the jungle—in short, wherever minimum of bulk and maximum of nourishment are requisite in food which has to be transported long distances, and often under extreme difficulties.

"The very enviable reputation which Grape-Nuts has attained in these respects caused it to be chosen as one of the foods for the Canal Zone."

Grape-Nuts FOOD

—scientifically made of prime wheat and malted barley, contains the entire goodness of the grain, including those priceless mineral elements so essential for active bodies and keen brains, but which are lacking in white flour products and the usual dietary.

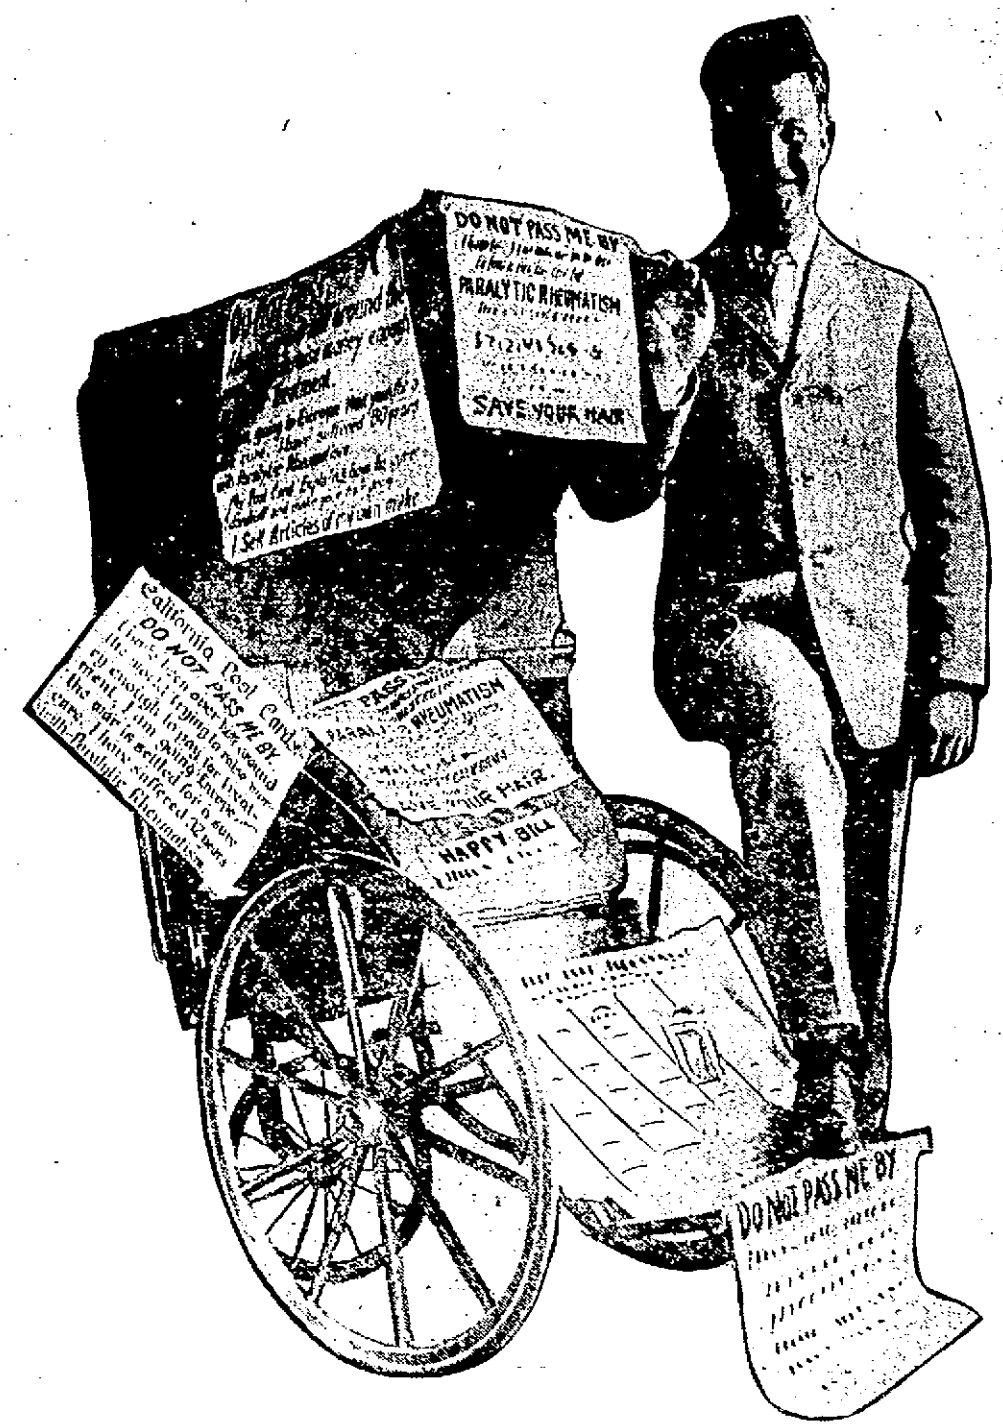

There's a reason why Grape-Nuts food was chosen by the Canal Commissariat. There's a reason why Grape-Nuts is a favorite food of hustling people everywhere!

TO KILL WALSH

Letter Also States That

Bombs Have Been Placed in State House

BOSTON, July 14—An afternoon paper announces the receipt of an anonymous communication in which the writer, describing himself as a German spy, states that two bombs have been placed in the state house and another in the custom house tower, and that these will explode "about Friday." Also the governor is to be killed, according to the message which was crudely lettered with a lead pencil.

It was turned over to the police who recently examined a similar threat against the custom house without determining whether the writer was crank or a so-called practical joker.

The grand jury on two indictments charged them with conspiring to manipulate the voting list of Middlebury and influencing citizens to vote on the license question at the town election in March. Each furnished bonds of $500 for appearance at a trial.

The district attorney stated that the indictments had been returned against Morris Tyler, Lyman S. Watkins and H. E. Howe, town assessors, and that they would plead to the charges later.

HUBERT M. POTTER DEAD

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT
STATE AID DROPPED DEAD
SOUTH LYDEBORO, N. H., TODAY

Hubert M. Potter, for many years superintendent of state aid for the city of Lowell, dropped dead today at South Lyndeboro, N. H.

The deceased who was 83 years of age was about to make a visit to mother in Vermont, who is 89 years of age, and expired as he was about to step onto the train at the South Lyndeboro depot.

The funeral will take place on Monday from his home in South Lyndeboro.

Mr. Potter celebrated the 50th anniversary of his marriage last April having been married at the age of 25 years. He left Lowell six years ago to settle in Lyndeboro, where he had been a rior was a regular resident of state and for about years. He had a most creditable record as a soldier during the C.

war. He entered the service as the 3th Vermont Infantry and was captured with his regiment at F. per's Ferry. Afterward he served the regular infantry and had his shot off in battle. He was a for-member of Post 155, C. A. R., of city.

TWO EXCURSION PART

ONE WENT TO REVERE AND THE OTHER TO CANOBIE LAKE THIS MORNING

Two groups of picnickers left the city this morning to spend the day at the seashore or lakeside. Shortly after 8 o'clock over 100 members of the Rosary sodality of the Immaculate Conception church, with a number of children, assembled at the corner of East Merrimack and High streets and boarded two special cars which conveyed them to Revere beach. Dinner was enjoyed and a delightful afternoon was spent at the various places of amusement.

Text Specifies That Violations of LONDON, July 11, 12.32 p. m.—Text of the price of coal today's bill, which was issued today, specifies that coal may not be sold at the month at a price exceeding four shillings, ($31) a ton more than the price at which the same kind of coal was sold during the 12 months ending July 30, 1914. Violations of the agreement are punishable by a fine not exceeding $500.

The measure was introduced in house of commons yesterday by Mr Runciman, the president of board of trade.

The first branch in the Neath district of the South Wales coal fields, there totalling many thousands, is due to continue work.

GIAKOS IN COURT

Fined for Larceny But Held as Witness—Other Cases

Athanasios Giakos, the man being held in $2000 bonds as a witness in the Demos murder case, was brought from the Lowell jail to police court this forenoon and arraigned before Judge Enright to answer to a complaint charging him with the larceny of cloth and yarn valued at nearly four dollars from the Hoott mills. Through his counsel, D. J. Donahue, he pleaded guilty and was fined $10, which he paid.

Major Noyes, corporation detective and prosecuting officer in the case, informed the court that when Supt. Welch and state officers went to the tenement at 2 Elm place to investigate the murder case, they found the rolls of cotton cloth in Giakos' closet. After a short examination a complaint was made against him and he produced bankbooks calling for $800 as security. The defendant has been unable to secure the $2000 bail, however, and was taken back to the Lowell jail to await the murder trial.

Stubborn Girl

The case of Laura Goyette, charged with being a stubborn child, was continued by the introduction of family troubles and occupied considerable of the court's time. Witnesses for the government, including the girl's father and mother, who live in Hall street, testified that the defendant recently left home and roomed with a companion on Dodge street. When living at home, said her parents, she was in the habit of remaining out late nights.

The girl attributed the trouble to her father's actions. She said he became intoxicated frequently and used abusive language toward the mother and children. This was admitted by Mr. Goyette. The defendant is only 19 years of age. Judge Enright advised her to go back to her parents and placed her on probation for one year. Arthur L. Eno for the government and George H. Allard for the defendant.

Frank G. O'Brien was the first of a number of men to be brought before court on charges for failing to pay fines imposed for drunkenness and other offenses. O'Brien was fined $15 nearly three months ago and has had several chances to pay it but failed to do so. The suspension of the fine was revoked and in default of payment O'Brien was committed to jail. Probation Officer Slattery stated that he has a list of other delinquents who will be haled into court unless they live up to the terms of probation.

Mrs. William J. Carney appeared as complainant against her husband for assault and battery. The case was continued until July 21 for trial. Charged with threatening his wife by claiming that he would "get her yet," Patrick Kelley was arraigned and had his case continued one month for sentence. In the meantime he promised to keep away from her and behave himself.

Six drunken offenders were promptly disposed of by Judge Enright. Deputy Downey and Acting Clerk Toye.

FORMAL REPRESENTATIONS TO ENGLAND AS RESULT OF PROTEST BY PACKERS

WASHINGTON, July 14.—After conferences with representatives of the leading American meat packers today, state department officials said formal representations would be made to Great Britain for the release of neutral meat cargoes detained by British naval authorities. The character of the representations has not been decided.

NO ATTEMPT TO GET FRANK

ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—Reports that a mob would attempt to take Leo M. Frank, serving a life sentence for Mary Phagan's murder from the state prison, were today confirmed by developments. Three companies of state militia were held in readiness at Macon throughout the night to proceed to Milledgeville to protect Frank if necessary, were today allowed to return to their homes.

The officials of the state farm reported from Milledgeville that the usual quiet prevailed during the night.

PLAYGROUND SUPERVISORS

A meeting of the playground supervisors has been called for this evening at 5 p. m. in the room of the park department, city hall, to talk over the work and make plans for the season. Some of the new members will receive preliminary instructions. Patrick J. Reynolds will preside. The attendance at the playgrounds to date has been most pleasing and the work is going ahead smoothly.

CHURCH PICNICS TODAY

The members of the Tewksbury Centre Congregational church, men, women and children, numbering about 200, went on their annual outing to Canobie Lake park this morning. Two special cars conveyed the party to the resort, where a most pleasant day was spent. Rev. Sarah Dixon was in charge of the group.

MARTUCCI, ONE ARMED GOLFER, MAKES RIVALS SIT UP AND TAKE NOTICE

NEW YORK, July 13.—A great deal of interest was caused at the Metropolitan open golf tourney at Fox Hills recently by the appearance of Louis W. Martucci, the one armed assistant to David Hunter at the Essex County Country club. Despite his handicap, Martucci was able to get tee shots to the 200 yard mark, and his approaching and putting would do credit to a champion. With his left arm missing the young caddy master from the Essex County club scored an 80 and 82. With a short club Martucci drives a very long ball and his putting is good, but he experiences a lot of trouble getting out of bunkers because of his handicap.

STRIKE IS THREATENED

RHODE ISLAND CARMEN'S UNION SENDS ULTIMATUM TO THE COMPANY

PROVIDENCE, July 14.—A threat of a general strike which would affect all the street railway lines in Rhode Island was made late yesterday by the committee representing the Carmen's union which has been in conference for a month with officials of the Rhode Island company.

The committee delivered an ultimatum that unless the three men whom they had named should be accepted by the railroad company as arbitrators of the questions in dispute before midnight Wednesday, a general strike would be declared.

The arbitrators desired by the union are ex-Chief Justice Charles Matteson, Col. Harry Cutler, a former member of the general assembly, and ex-Representative Harry Baldwin.

Fully 2500 men are involved.

STRIKE AT BRIDGEPORT

HEAD OF ARMS COMPANY BLAMES THE GERMANS FOR BIG TIE UP

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 14.—The strike situation at the plant of the Remington Arms Co., where union organizations are disputing matters of jurisdiction, and which threatens, unless settled, to involve several thousand iron workers in the city, and to the up shipment of war munitions, was close to a standstill today. Labor leaders present in the city did not look for any important developments pending word from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who has been asked to intervene in the trouble, or the mass meeting of machinists set for Friday night when the question of a general strike in the city will be taken up.

The bone of contention, the labor men say, is the matter of affiliation of the millwrights employed by the Stewart Construction Co., which is working on new buildings for the arms company, both the carpenters and the metal working trades claiming them.

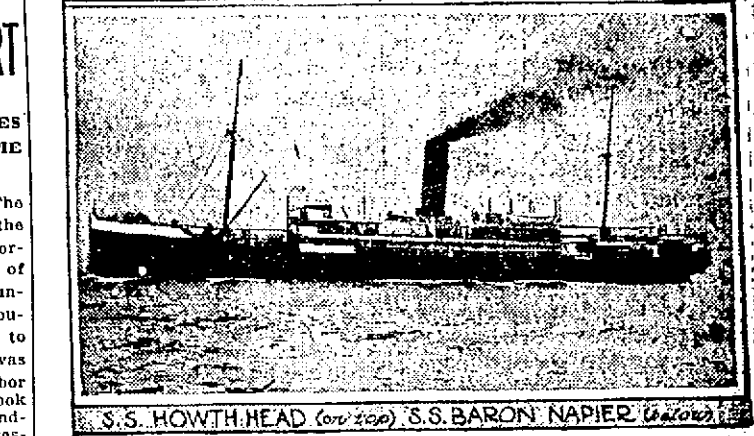

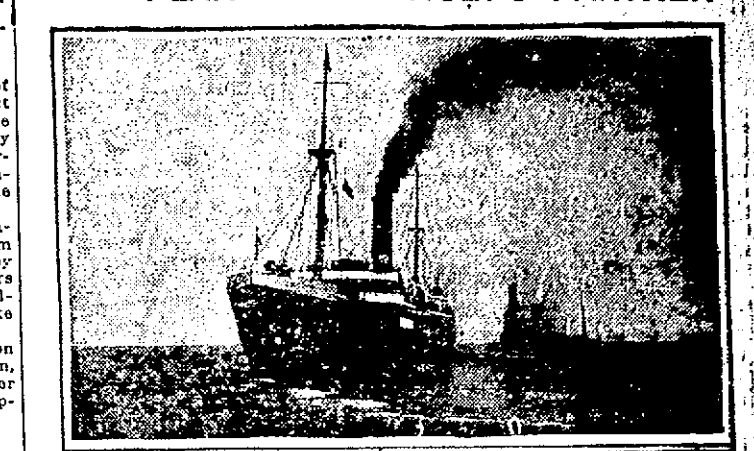

Maj. Walter W. Penfield, U. S. A., retired, head of the arms company, expressed the belief that the difficulties are due to the work of German sympathizers who wish to hinder the shipment of war munitions. "There is not the shadow of a doubt," he said, "that this whole thing is the work of Germans or German sympathizers. I am not speaking from hearsay or suspicion. I have good reasons to know just what I am talking of."

$500,000 IN MISSING WILL

NORTH ADAMS, July 14.—A search is being made for the will which is said to have been left by the late Albert C. Houghton, the local millionaire, who with his daughter, Mary C., was killed in an automobile accident in June, 1914.

The estate is said to be worth $500,000. Letters of administration have been granted by both of the superior courts, but detectives are working on the case in an effort to discover what has become of a will which an attorney said he drew for the millionaire.

SHIPS AT SEA WARNED OF BOMBS PLANTED BY "HOLT'S PARTNER"

Warning to look out for bombs concealed in their holds was flashed from the naval wireless towers at Arlington to two ships at sea, which sailed from New Orleans July 8. Both the vessels, the British steamships Howthhead and Baron Napier, cleared with cargoes of mules for the British army, the former for Dublin and Belfast via Norfolk, and the latter direct for Avonmouth. Sending of the warning was ordered by Secretary Daniels upon receiving a telegram from a New Orleans newspaper saying a letter to that paper, signed "Pearce, Holt's partner," indicated that explosives had been placed aboard those vessels. The radio message was sent broadcast over the sea, with the idea that if it is not picked up directly by the Howth or Baron Napier some other ship in the neighborhood might relay it.

ROBBER HOTEL GUEST

PROVIDENCE, July 14.—For the alleged holding up and robbery of Miss Gertrude Grant of South Weymouth, Mass., at the Forest House in West Greenwich, Fred McCormick, aged 27, was held for the grand jury yesterday in $5000 bonds.

The prisoner was identified as the man who entered her apartments, beat her and stole $100. The man's sister testified against his alibi that he was at home.

IS SITUATION CRITICAL?

It is noteworthy that in all our dealings with Germany the American press has been practically united, and that the press forecasts and judgments have been in line with the policies of the administration. The newspapers have therefore given a very fair estimate of the degree of importance to be awarded to various phases of the situation, and even before President Wilson had spoken officially, the public can pretty accurately judge the situation.

Keeping this in mind, it is significant that the press does not on the whole regard the present situation as critical, though it is admitted that the most serious consequences may crop out daily. America is certainly dissatisfied with the answer of Germany, but there is a well grounded hope that some basis of agreement will be decided on, or that at the worst, the animosity of the two great nations will be shown in a negative rather than a positive manner. Most Americans look upon America's complications as the accidental result of being mixed up in a fight between two other nations, and there is no real desire here for active participation on either side.

It is also dawning on the American public that the German government must consider the spirit of the German people in making a reply to American demands. There is good ground to suppose that the German people are incensed for the time being towards everything American, and the German government dare not make concessions that would be detrimental to the German cause. It would seem futile to hope for the complete abandonment of the submarine blockade, and America can only hope to secure greater concessions, maintaining its protest, against any infringement of its rights and hoping the while that there will be no further outrages.

Recent war developments have also complicated the situation and made the position of the American government more difficult. It will be recalled that President Wilson from the first has insisted on the law of warning and search of merchantmen by submarines. On two or three occasions recently a submarine has been attacked or sunk without warning by an innocent looking trawler or merchant ship, and Germany has been afforded proof of her assertions that the submarine cannot observe the ordinary rules of naval warfare without risk of immediate destruction. It looks as though some concessions may be made on the ground that new modes of warfare make for new conditions, though this may be contrary to international law and obnoxious to feelings of humanity.

There is no reason to suppose that President Wilson looks upon the situation as critical. Despite the predictions of Mr. Bryan, there is no prospect of war with Germany, and such a war though possible, is not at all probable. Even though our government should regard the evasion of Germany as grave in the extreme, nothing more drastic than the severing of diplomatic relations is as yet contemplated, though in that case Germany might prefer open hostility. When the American press speaks of war as improbable, it considers mostly the attitude of Washington. What the attitude of Berlin would be should our government demand a final answer can only be surmised, and one man's guess is as good as another's. It now looks as though America will send a final note, affirming our unchanging stand for principle. This will be in the nature of an ultimatum to Germany and will set forth certain rights upon which the United States will insist even at the risk of an open rupture between the two nations.

LO! THE ALIENISTS

We recently called attention to the sarcastic references to "Americanism" in court trials, made by an English attorney, and based on our practice of employing alienists. A splendid illustration of the absurdity referred to is afforded by the evidence in the Thaw trial last Monday. Dr. Flint, the eminent "alienist" who was testifying against Thaw was asked by Judge Hendrick how a layman could determine whether Thaw was a paranoiac, and replied that the layman would have to make his choice "between which alienist he would believe." If this is not a cue for the medical profession to agitate the abolishing of the paid alienist, something is wrong with the profession. When we see men who have been the head of great institutions, the authors of books on mental diseases and nation-wide authorities testifying on different sides and to absolutely contrary phases of their own profession, the layman may be pardoned for being skeptical. Neither justice nor the medical profession is helped much by the spectacle of the paid alienist who "chooses" picturesque phrases and speaks professionally on subtle forms of insanity "for a consideration."

An amusing feature of this same subject was afforded in the cross-examination of Dr. Flint. The dissector of Thaw's mentality had declared that the subject differs from "constitutional inferiority" but being called on for an explanation he declared that he did not know what he meant, as he had just invented the phrase. Was it not at a previous Thaw trial that the term

"brainstorm" was used? Surely an alienist who is not ready to invent three or four new phrases and explain them in terms that only an alienist can understand is not of much value to either side. It would be interesting to get the explanation of some alienist on the mental attitude of another alienist who invents phrases that he does not understand in a trial that may mean liberty or life incarceration for a fellow mortal.

WATCH THE CRANKS

War or no war, the cranks we have with us always. Just now some of them are pro-German and some of them are pro-English, and some are neither. Some are advocates of war and some of peace, but all are badly balanced mentally and hence are extremely dangerous. The crank would blow up a mill during a labor trouble, he would blow up a church at a time of unemployment, he would blow up an ammunition factory at time of war. He always has some crazy doctrine, and he is ready to blow up something in support of it. When the atmosphere is surcharged with agitation and there is something that moves the souls of men, he is in his element. Just now all the cranks that have already developed will be tempted to action, and a new crop will spring up from day to day.

A letter to a New Orleans paper a few days ago threatened death to J. P. Morgan and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, and the destruction of two steamers going to England. A letter to the Boston police threatened the new custom house tower and the German ships interned in the harbor. These are but a few of the many crazy notions of the cranks who have been played upon by the interested agitators for one belligerent cause or another. It is a good time for the police in all cities to keep an eye on individuals who have displayed extreme tendencies on previous occasions, and on any movement that might be an incentive to crime by working on the disordered minds of the morbid and abnormal.

A PUBLIC HALL

In one breath Commissioner Duncan condemns the school board for having no definite idea as to the new high school—for which, by the way, the very definite sum of $700,000 has been appropriated—and in the next he proposes that the new high school contain a public hall. The proposition is fantastic and faulty, and should not be entertained for a moment. While it is true that there is a growing movement for the greater use of school buildings, a public hall such as Lowell needs should be a building apart and used for no other purpose. The assembly hall of a high school might with propriety be given over to semi-public uses occasionally, as the present high school hall is, but it would be decidedly improper to hold great public functions, political rallies, conventions, etc., in a high school. Such things should be housed in a public hall, that would be of incalculable benefit to the Lowell of the future. The lack of such a hall is now a serious detriment, and prevents our competing with many less important cities, in many particulars. We have many fine private halls, but we have no hall that can take the place of a public hall. Yet, if we must be forever without a public hall, let us not build one in the high school that is to be sometime in the immediate or distant future.

FEEDING GERMANY

That Germany has been securing great quantities of food from this country in spite of the English blockade is borne out by the request of Sir Edward Carson that the British prize court condemn two steamers loaded with provisions from America bound for Copenhagen. In all forty of such vessels had been held up and had been found to contain farm products, meat and lard, together with products used in the manufacture of war munitions. Germany has done wonders in supplying her food products, but she still evidently imports considerable quantities, from this country and elsewhere. Possibly she also finds an opportunity to import some munitions of war. At any rate, Germany has never assumed towards the United States the defendant role she has assumed towards practically all other powers. There are many secret chapters of this war which may and may not be written, and many think that German resourcefulness is finding ways to elude the blockade which English has declared on all German ports.

The Lawrence Evening Tribune, established 1890, has just celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary by bringing out a splendid anniversary edition that in its literary, mechanical and pictorial features is worthy of the paper and the occasion. One section traces the development of the Tribune from humble beginnings, one tells the story of the city which the Tribune has served well for quarter of a century, and one is an enlarged and illustrated news section. All are worthy of special attention. The Sun heartily congratulates its down river contemporary, and wishes it many more years of success and prosperity.

There is a strong suspicion in Lowell that the farmers of the immediate vicinity did not welcome the recent rain a whit more enthusiastically than the members of our municipal council, for the heavy rains and the swollen river gave a splendid excuse for the postponement of the bridge project. Engineer Denman had stated that unless the bridge were started promptly, he could not undertake the job. If there had been no flood the work could not have been started for some time as the plans are not ready; but the freshest will do for an excuse for a badly tangled job.

Once again in the high school matter, there is a disposition to talk and do nothing until the public patience is exhausted. The municipal council waits, for the school board and vice versa, and there is a disposition for everybody to leave the preliminary planning to everybody else. The sightseeing trips out of town do not promise material results, but then they look as though the city was about to do something.

There is nothing in Mexico only a "situation" and if that has changed, there are no indications of it. The situation is merely anarchy under many such names as Villa, Carranza, Obregon and the rest.

Mayor Murphy says they have a "general idea" for a high school. The cost has been set down at $700,000. Contractors must look up to that figure.

Only a few months to the icy trenches again.

Luke McLuke says: There is a big difference between loud talk and forceful argument. There are lots of ideal husbands and ideal wives in the world. But they are seldom married to each other. But after he gets married he is lucky if his wife has less than a drawer to stow away what little he owns.

Two Fairs at Half Fare;
Railroad Rates Cut in Two

The railroads have greatly reduced their fares and made it possible for you to see both the San Francisco and San Diego Expositions on one ticket. By way of the Burlington Route (C. & N. W. R.) the cost of a railroad ticket to California and back will be only about one-half the usual price, and you can take in the incomparable Colorado scenery, including the Royal Gorge, see Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Salt Lake City on the way, stopping off at any point desired. Returning, you may enjoy a sea trip up the coast to Portland, see Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane, and either Glacier National Park or Yellowstone Park—the wonders of the world. You should see the best scenery en route and not spend any more than is necessary to do it. Tell me when you plan to go, how long you can stay, and let me make up an itinerary to fit your particular needs. Let me explain how and why the Burlington can serve you best. I'll be glad to do it. Write, telephone or call.

JULY

Oh! beautiful days of bright July,
With balmy air and sunny sky,
What jewel is there in nature's bow,
More precious than thy pleasant hours.

The orioles sing their sweetest song;
The robins carole all day long.
Up amid the leafy trees
Where plays the gentle summer breeze.

Through the mead does the little mead brook run,
Sparkling as gold in the noon-day sun,
Sparking the pretty forest glade,
Where lies the greatest wealth of shade.

Then crossing again the fresh green lea,
On homeward journey to the sea.

Each flower lifts up a dainty face,
As though brimful of pure, sweet
Its message of love it would tell to all,
Of those who will listen, both great and small.

And nature's beautiful spacious room
Is filled with flowers sweet perfume,
All of nature it seems is breathing
And its blessings surround us everywhere.

Peace and joy are the guests of each fair day,
That passes so quickly forever away,
And thus with gladness does each one
"Oh! welcome fair days of the bright July."

THE TWISTED TYPE

Types have a very embarrassing habit of becoming transposed, and sometimes the twist given the letters in newspapers is mistakes in spelling and transpositions are found in the papers where stories of news are written and set up in type in a continual race against time to "make" an edition.

It is a case of hurry, hurry, hurry, as the news is "railroaded" into the paper.

A friend can be converted into a fiend by the simple use of the letter "t." Men tried and true are easily made tired and blue. Motion picture films are made into films in a twinkling of an eye, and a calm person can be turned into a clam without much trouble.

During the late war in the Balkans the Bulgarian army played a prominent part in the fighting and one night the cable news stated that the Bulgarian army would invade a town with a name that could hardly be written, alone pronounced. One paper ran the story, in black faced type, on the page under the largest headline it could run on that page, and the readers were surprised to learn, the following morning, that "Burglars" would enter the town in question.

An amusing twist of type once developed in proof sheets, and it was merely luck that the paper did not print the item and cause a sensation. It was in Chicago, Missouri, and the Confederate Memorial day had been celebrated in the usual manner. In writing about the parade and the old soldiers who had worn gray uniforms in the war between the states, the reporter mentioned the "bottle-scared" veterans who had marched through the streets. From the proofs of the story came from the composing room, the type made them "bottle-scared" veterans. This of course was corrected and sent back to the composing room with the request for a revised proof. These came down and the "bottle-scared" veterans had grown into "bottle-scared" veterans. Back to the printer went the proofs and on the following day the story was printed as it should have been.

attempt they were finally referred to as the "bottle-scared" veterans. In El Paso, the newspapers, in abbreviating the Southern Pacific railroad, call it the "Espe." Not long ago, however, in an item about this railroad, again, the type in one of the papers made it the "Espe," but there was nothing in the item to indicate from what it escaped.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

H. P. KELTH THEATRE

The ideal place in which to witness a motion picture, in this summer weather, is the H. P. Kelth theatre. There the sav'ry "Cora" is shown today afternoon and evening. The admirable system whereby cooled air is, every three minutes, lifted into the theatre, and then, as it has become slightly warmed, removed. From all parts of the house come these little jets of delightfully cool air. The motion picture feature is "Cora," in which May Dorothy Stevens, a niece of Al. Marie Madden Pike, appears in the title role. The piece is in five parts and over 250 separate scenes are shown onto the screen. It is one of the struggles of a French girl, but recently orphaned, and of her attitude triumph as a grand opera star. Steady, persistent work and a spirit that carried her through all her difficulties, constituted the reason of her great success. Miss Stevens is equal to the task of the part, and her performance is of the very best. "Angel of Spring," a one-part picture, has many elements of the unusual to it, and it will be a most interesting interest. It is essentially modern in spirit, and yet it is reverently pictured. Other good pictures which will hold the attention are "An Innocent Thief," "The Broken Pledge," "A Romance of California," and the very funny Chaplin special. Beginning tomorrow afternoon and continuing the remainder of the week, Max Fleischer and Lois Meredith will appear in "My Best Girl."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Today is the last day of the exceptionally long and entertaining program at the Merrimack Square theatre. This is the last time to see Blanche Sweet who has won the popularity in Lowell, in her impersonation of Christine in the newly released Paramount feature, "The Clue," produced in five acts. The other exciting number which have been delighting local theatre-goers during the past two days will also be shown at this cool theatre today for the last time. They include the three stage plays, complete in itself, of the life problem serial, "Who Pays?" The title of this episode is "When Justice Sleeps." Do not miss it. The piece weekly showing the latest important events of wide interest taken in every corner of the world and the most recent and faithful capture of the commercial artist, Charlie Chaplin, will also be shown today for the last time. With the change of program at the Merrimack Square theatre comes for the remainder of the week, two of the very latest Paramount features. "Kidding," in five acts with Charlotte Walker in the leading role, and "Officer 666," another Paramount feature also shown in five interesting acts. On the legitimate stage, the sparkling comedy "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown" will complete the show for these two days. A key stone comedy will finish off the show as usual, which is one of the finest in the city for value to days, running Friday and Saturday. Marguerite Fischer in "The Lonesome Heart."

OWL THEATRE

Florence Turner, the darling of the old "Vaudeville" company, will be welcomed on the Owl theatre stage today and tomorrow in a grand three-act drama called "The Murdock Trail." This is a well written and finely acted drama, telling a convincing story in a clear and concise manner. The production is in the opinion of many dramatic critics, a masterpiece of realistic and funnier than the legitimate stage production. In addition to these ten acts of Paramount pictures the program for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will also include a Burns and Stoel comedy hit.

ROYAL THEATRE

"The Streets of New York," the great sensational drama in three parts depicting the snares and pitfalls of America's greatest city, will be the photo-play featured on the Wednesday and Thursday program at the Royal theatre. A picked troupe of actors have been specially engaged for the task, and the play is a real piece of work. The scenery is true to life, the atmosphere of New York's picturesque Bowery, etc., is shown to the audience. The address, the "Vaudeville" "Royal" and many other things will complete a great ten-reel show. Friday and Saturday, "The Exploits of Elaine" will be shown.

BIG CABARET AT STANLEY'S

Stanley's-on-the-Merrimack should prove a mace for Lowell people on Thursday of this week, for the attraction there is one of those big cabaret performances from Boston. Manager John F. Carney has gone to considerable expense in securing these performers, and his efforts will undoubtedly result in a large attendance. Violet Cousins, Harold Williams, Walter Taylor and others will contribute to the cabaret, while McWilliams and Warner will be the stars of their demonstrations of modern dancing. The admission will be 10 cents, and this will entitle everyone to two dances and a hot supper. Those who could not attend the Thursday half afternoon, enjoy one of the excellent menus served by Caterer Tailor, and then attend the cabaret at the evening. Lowell night is Friday.

SAUNDERS' OUTING

Tomorrow will be one of the red letter days for the clerks of Saunders' market, as they are to enjoy a trip to Revere beach. Big Jumbo cars have been engaged to take the hundred or more clerks in this big market from Lowell to the beach. This will be their fourth annual outing, and the first one for the popular manager, Mr. Gregory Saunders. Mr. Saunders is one of the greatest organizers in this part of the country for carrying on business, and with his ability in that direction it is expected that he will be equally successful in the pleasure trip. The amusement of the clerks. The excursionists will start from Lowell at 12 o'clock tomorrow morning, arriving at their destination, a long list of sports will be run off with prizes attached which will bring great pleasure to the participants and manager. Arrangements have been made to have a beautiful dinner served at one of the popular hotels, and it is anticipated by the clerks and their social manager that all previous records for a good time will be broken. The weather was very hot and fair weather for tomorrow and they will get all the moisture they want from old King Neptune when pushing back the waters. The several comedians employed at the market will entertain from the moment they board the trolleys till they return to the evening.

NOTE—In these columns every Wednesday Mr. George H. Robertson, America's foremost automobile authority, will give expert advice to motorists on how to repair and operate their machines. Automobile readers of THE SUN are invited to send in questions or problems they may wish to have answered. Such questions will receive attention in due time. Address all communications: Automobile Editor, Sun, Lowell, Mass. Communications must bear the signature and address of the sender, though not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

What carburetor is used on a 1914 Cadillac? How many miles should I get out of a gallon of gas? What kind of oil or graphite is best to use in differential and transmission case of this machine? My foot brake does not hold good when brake bands get wet. How many times should I change the oil? They are already changed.

The Cadillac car is equipped with a carburetor of its own design. If the car is in good shape, it should get between ten and fifteen miles out of a gallon of gasoline. There are many good greases on the market used for this purpose and any good grease will do the work. Would suggest that you replace the brakes with a good brand of brake lining.

It is easier to start on a Ford on its magneto or an Edison 6 v. storage battery? The Ford is designed to permit easy starting. A battery will mean additional expense and complications.

If I had four holes drilled in the exhaust pipe instead of letting the air go through the muffler, and had a lever run through the steering wheel to open and close same, would I be able to make fifty-eight to sixty miles per hour with a Ford car? A. B. C. This would tend to act as a sort of muffler cut-out and would no doubt relieve the back-pressure a little, but I do not think that with the car going you could safely attain that speed.

After running about twenty-five miles, with the engine going fine, I pulled up to the curb to make a stop. About ten minutes elapsed, when I tried to start again. The tank filled, started my engine and she seemed to pound and miss the rest of the way home.

You undoubtedly purchased a poor grade of gasoline. If the gravity of the gasoline is below 65 you will find that it will not vaporize easily and naturally will cause the motor to run unevenly. Water or dirt in the gasoline will cause the same trouble.

In coasting down hill gears in high clutch disengaged the lever will shift into neutral position by itself. This will happen only on rough roads.

You will find that the shifting rod locks which are supposed to hold the shifting rods in place need tightening up or need replacing with new springs. These locks must have the proper tension.

Kindly let me know how to lap in a piston. Also, when fitting piston rings, should the ends touch? Should there be a small space between the ends when rings are sprung into place?

Would advise the services of a high class repair man to lap in the pistons. The space you mention varies from ten to twenty thousandths of an inch.

Kindly let me know how to fit a master vibrator is on a Ford car? Also if 30x3 1/2 inch tires can be used on the front wheels of a Ford without making any changes to wheels? A. W. J. A master vibrator tends to intensify the current which the fly-wheel magnet supplies. This increased intensity develops a heavier explosion, thus increasing the power of the motor. The tire you mention cannot be used on the front wheel unless you change the wheel unreasonably. A 31x3 1/2 will fit the wheel properly.

I have a Cadillac 1911. While coasting down hill my clutch disengages gear while in "high" and jumps into neutral, especially when the road is rough. Can you explain the cause? A. You will find that the spring checks with lock the shifting lever bars in position should be either taken up or new springs installed. Unless these checks have the proper tension when the throw of the gears and the vibration of the car will tend to pull the lever into the neutral position.

"The constant increasing use of motor trucks is due to the fact that business men who take the pains to study

Saxon Six

The Best Touring Car Value in the World

Here is positively the most compelling TOURING CAR VALUE ever offered. That is our claim. We make it unreservedly. And we back it up with these reasons:

The Saxon "Six" is the first five-passenger six-cylinder car at a price as low as $785. It has a small bore high speed motor of wonderful flexibility, smoothness and power.

The Saxon "Six" is in no sense a small car. It is big and roomy, remarkable in its riding ease and steadiness. It has a long wheelbase—112 inches; plenty of leg room; plenty of width; seating comfort for five adults. In size—in all-around specifications—it compares with cars selling around $1250.

SAXON ROADSTER $3 95

Burgess Motor Co.

610 MIDDLESEX STREET TEL. 3030

Nor is this car "just another automobile." It is a Saxon—stylish, individual. In its distinction of appearance, construction and performance it has been a surprise to every person who has seen it.

Remember too, the Saxon "Six" is a fully equipped car. There is no extra charge for electric starter and lights, or speedometer, or any one of a number of other desirable conveniences. All these are a part of the car—at the price of $785. And all are of uniformly high grade.

LOCAL DEALERS BUSY

GARAGE AND SUPPLY MEN ENJOYING PROSPEROUS SEASON—OTHER NOTES OF INTEREST

The local garage and supply men are still loud in their praise of the recent Fourth of July celebration. Even the most sanguine of them did more business because of this splendid event than they dared hope for. The celebration meant the sale of a very large number of tires and general automobile accessories. The vulcanizing departments of the various local repair shops are working overtime in order to turn out the jobs promptly. Those who were instrumental in any way in making this celebration such a success deserve unstinted thanks and praise for their untiring efforts to boom and advertise Lowell.

Mr. Burgess of the Burgess Motor company, Middlesex street, is still receiving compliments over the splendidly decorated Saxon car which he entered in the parade. Many congratulations of the day. In fact when it passed Gov. Walsh it so appealed to his patriotism that he saluted it. By the active part which Mr. Burgess took in this parade he has won for himself a high place among Lowell's live boosters.

Mr. C. N. Rice has opened up a well equipped and completely stocked supply house at 280 Central street, formerly known as the Faragut house. The interior of the store has been carefully repaired and presents a new appearance. All of the stock in this new shop is entirely fresh and new. Mr. Rice is local agent of the high class Racine tire which is guaranteed for 4000 miles. At this supply house can be bought the well known and well recommended Texaco gasoline. The gasoline tank which is of the Lowery type, is conveniently situated near the car.

The Sawyer Carriage company's shops, Worthen St., have no place for the drones; there everyone works with snap and zeal, and it is necessary to have such workmen to turn out the amount of work this shop does in such a finished manner. Mr. Chandler, the manager, reports every department busy.

The peculiar weather of late has sent many motorists very hurriedly to the Donovan Harness company for new auto tops. In this line this year this Market street company has had a record season.

Have you noticed the Saxon roadster on the street inscribed on the sides and rear with the story of one of the latest achievements of this car? This car, which may be seen and inspected at the local agency, 610 Middlesex street, is an ordinary stock car which was driven 100 miles every day over all kinds of roads for 20 consecutive days. After this thorough and grueling test the sturdy little car was found to be in first class running order and none the worse from the strenuous work it performed. The fact speaks well for its endurance qualities.

One of the best equipped auto repair shops in the city is that of the Red Arrow Motor Supply company, 548 Moody st., the proprietor of which is A. G. Bourke, formerly of the Lowell Motor Mart. Mr. Bourke has a staff of skilled workmen, capable of undertaking all kinds of repairs. A complete stock of auto supplies will be found at this supply house.

S. L. Rochette, of the Lowell Motor Mart, reports the following recent sales of Ford cars: Couplet to Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson of Forge Village, and a touring car to Mr. Columb.

Three photographs of the three Lippard-Stewart trucks of the C. B. Coburn company, Market street, and one attracting considerable attention. It will be remembered that it was a car of the Lippard-Stewart make which won the first prize for the best commercial feature in the parade. These photographs show the cars just as they appeared in the parade.

CORNING, MO., INUNDATED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 14.—Rain, which reached the proportions of a cloudburst in Northwest Missouri yesterday, swelled the Tarkio river until it broke its dike and inundated Corning, Mo., 50 miles north of St. Joseph. Residents of Corning fled to the hills and merchants removed their stocks to upper stories. The town has 500 inhabitants.

In coasting down hill gears in high clutch disengaged the lever will shift into neutral position by itself. This will happen only on rough roads.

You will find that the shifting rod locks which are supposed to hold the shifting rods in place need tightening up or need replacing with new springs. These locks must have the proper tension.

WAS ROBBED OF AWARD

FANS AGREE THAT INDIANAPOLIS LIGHTWEIGHT BESTED CHARLIE WHITE—BUT CALLED A DRAW

BOSTON, July 14.—Milburn Saylor, the Indianapolis lightweight, was robbed of a well earned victory over Charlie White of Chicago in their 12-round bout at the Atlas A. A. last night when Referee Billy Roche of New York declared the contest a draw.

When Roche announced his decision, there was a howl from the fans. Roche said after the bout that he based his decision on two knock-downs by White but White only scored one.

It took some nerve for a referee to stand before a crowd and give such a decision. There was hardly another person in the arena that figured White entitled to a draw.

The Chicago boxer was such a top-heavy favorite that there was little wagering on the contest. The best that any of the fans gave White was one round, the sixth, when he put Saylor down with a left hook to the jaw. Three of the other rounds were even and Saylor was entitled to the honors in the other eight.

It was a great contest, one of the best lightweight battles in this city in years. There was action from start to finish and Saylor did the best work he ever has in this city.

"BIG ED" WALSH

Veteran Star of White Sox Will Attempt "Come Back" Against Philadelphia on Friday

CHICAGO, July 14.—Pitcher "Big Ed" Walsh, a veteran star of the Chicago Americans, who has not been started in a game for more than a year, will try to make his "come back" appearance on Friday. It was announced that there was action from start to finish and Saylor did the best work he ever has in this city.

LOWELL POLICE WON

Took League Game From Somerville In that City Yesterday—Score Was 11 to 9

The Lowell police baseball team journeyed to Somerville yesterday and defeated the Somerville blue jackets by the score of 11 to 9. A feature of the game was the pitching of Moloney, while Murphy performed in fine style as catcher of the battery. Yesterday's lineup was as follows: Lowell: Kelley, cf.; Sharkey, 1b.; Lynch, 2b.; Murphy, c.; Moloney, p.; McNulty, 3b.; Quinn, 2b.; Donovan, 1b.; and White, p. The latter player is driver of the Somerville police patrol, loaned Lowell to complete the necessary nine. Next Tuesday the Lowell police will play Lawrence at Spalding park.

RELEASED BY BRAYES

President Gaffney of the Boston National league club yesterday released outfielders Ted Cather and Larry Gilbert to the Toronto club of the International league. Cather, it is understood, has released unconditional, while there is an optional agreement in connection with Gilbert. They will join the Toronto club in a day or so.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Lawrence will play here tomorrow.

Four out of five is going some after such a slump as Lowell experienced.

"Home-Town Willie," yelled Jesse from the bench at Umpire Aubrey.

Pownall, the speed merchant, didn't get a chance to show yesterday.

Shorty Dee had an off day yesterday without any doubt. He was badly in the air.

Stuffy Carroll is well nicknamed. He was inclined to be quite stuffy in yesterday's game.

Perhaps "Billy I" didn't show the goods to the old folks at home? William was very much in the game, both ways.

One thing that will make Manager Keckner popular is the fact that he will fight uphill and never give up until the last man is out.

You never can tell about Snubber. Twice of late he has had three and two before walloping the ball out for a long hit.

Pukey is playing like a house afire these days. He knocked down a sure hit, a home run and a man at third yesterday and put the game on ice.

There were hits in every variety: 11 singles, two doubles, two three baggers and a home run. The fans certainly do enjoy a free hitting game.

Three on bases and Snubber makes a three bagger. Two out in the 10th and Essex makes a home run, winning the game. That's the kind of base ball you read about but seldom see.

Lowell fans may rave, rant and roar at old Jesse Burkett until they're black in the face and they'll never phase the veteran but let George Donnelly open up with: "How did you like that Pop? and Jesse's goat is gone. Jesse will stand for anything but being called 'Pop'."

Burkett sat on the bench carefully studying manager Keckner. Charlie was something new to him, but the latter's best efforts to get the Lowell manager's goat were rewarded with a smile that wouldn't come off, even when things were breaking but Essex called "Snubber." Then he exclaimed: "You're one of those tough Duff, hard luck fellows. Finally he said: 'If I knew you were so funny I'd pay you money just to have you along to amuse me.' But it all rolled off Keckner like water off a duck's back."

The Delaware County league, which exploited Home Run Baker early in the season, has released Long Larry Mulvan, who has been playing here ever since his escape with manager McGraw of the Giants in St. Louis which drew indefinite suspension from New York.

Lowell started out in the Little Old N. E. league and he may yet return, Horatio.

Jesse Burkett recently released just one pitcher, stating that he lacked control. According to Justin, the only control he lacked was the control of his appetite. He says he was canned because he made a protest when Burket was in the line-up.

John D. Rockefeller would give a barrel of money if he could eat a quarter's worth for breakfast.

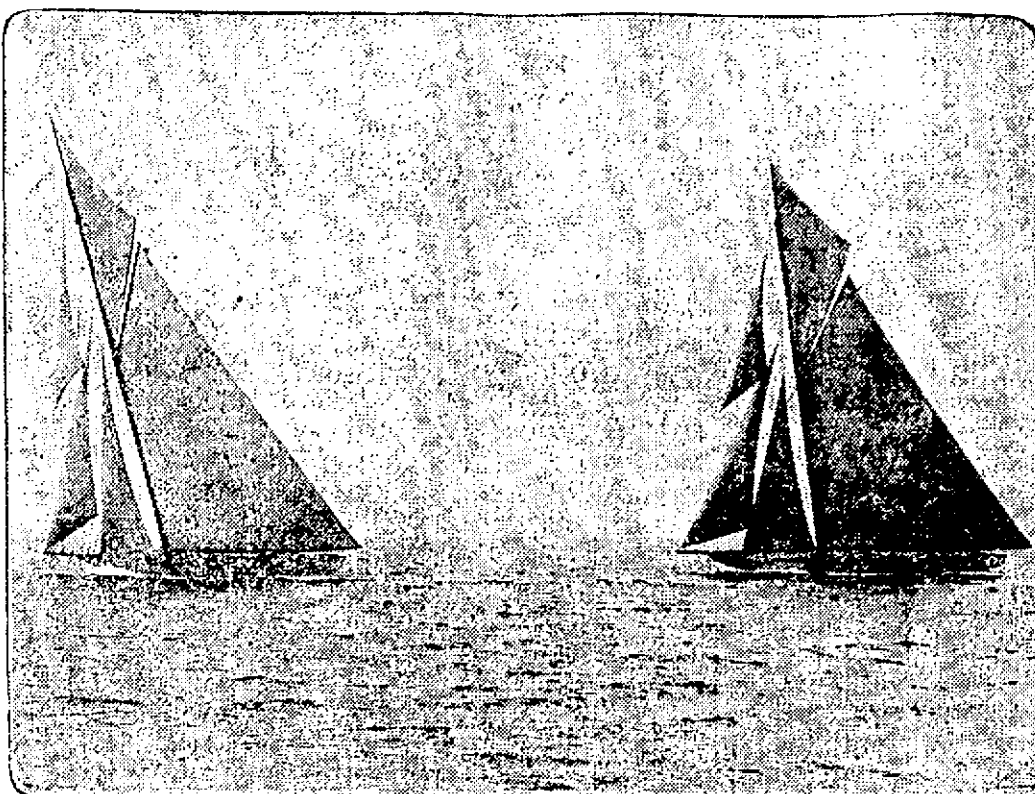

The New England league followers are beginning to take quite a little notice of Danny McGowan, Manchester's second baseman. McGowan is the smallest man in the circuit, a la the Rabbit, Johnny Evers et al, but he is a pretty big lad with the stick and in the field. What's more, he's a hard worker and his play is improving all the time.—Boston Journal.

Our old friend Walter Ahearn has been displaced as manager of the Lowell club. It was hardly his fault that the team did not make a good showing, however. There was dissension in the ranks after "Coke" Ahearn gave up the ghost and it will probably continue until there is a vast change in the club roster.—Haverhill Record.

Nobody has accused your old friend Walter of not making good, and if there was dissension it has disappeared with the appearance on the scene of Manager Keckner.

Tommy Madden, who used to be the speed king of the New England league and whom Billy Hamilton once hailed as the fastest baserunner he ever saw, is playing ball in the New York State league. They say he is as fast as ever, but his batting eye has been somewhat dimmed.

RESOLUTE AND VANITE RESUME BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY—VANITIE MUCH IMPROVED

NEW YORK, July 14.—The cup defense candidates, Resolute and Vanitie, have renewed their battles for supremacy, and in the races held to date Resolute has a slight edge over her rival. Vanitie, however, has shown much improvement, and though she has trailed Resolute in all but one of her encounters to date, it has been because of more skillful managing of the other yacht and not because of superior sailing qualities. In the race off Greenwich, Conn., on the Long Island sound, Resolute defeated Vanitie over a thirty mile course by 1 minute 6 seconds, actual time. This time was increased to 2 minutes 17 seconds on corrected time. In no race of their present series has Resolute enjoyed a wider margin over her rival, and it is safe to say that ere long Vanitie's commander will catch the secret of Resolute's starts and then will give the N. Y. C. Sloop a harder fight. Yachtsmen are watching with keen interest the performances of the sloops. Picture shows finish of Greenwich race, Resolute leading Vanitie over line.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The St. Michael's have an open date for Saturday, July 17, and would like to arrange games with the Lisbons, Buckhorns, Lilies and Maples. Answer through this paper.

The young Merion A. C. would like to play the Red Sox for a quarter ball on the North common Saturday afternoon, July 17, at 2 o'clock. Our lineup is as follows: John King, c.; John Heslin, p.; Arthur Higgins, 1b.; George Reardon, 2b.; Thomas Denny, 3b.; William Hanley, 1b.; John Dalton, cf.; Philip Dailley is our mascot.

The Glendale team has an open date for Saturday, July 17, and would like to arrange a game with any strong team in the city. Send all challenges down to the paper or to the manager, Glendale club, 555 Middlesex street, city.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—With play in the singles matches narrowing down to the final rounds, several star players were to be pitted against each other in today's contests in the Pan-Pacific exposition tennis tournament.

Clarence Griffin of San Francisco, doubles champion of the Pacific northwest, was to meet R. Norris Williams, star of Harvard university, national singles champion and Maurice B. McLaughlin, of San Francisco, former national singles champion, was to play Willis Davis of San Francisco.

McLaughlin and Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles, national doubles champions, were to make their first appearance today in the doubles matches.

BASEBALL WORLD SUSPENDS

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 14.—The Baseball World, a weekly publication, which was alleged to have conducted baseball pools throughout the country, suspended publication yesterday.

RESOLUTE AND VANITIE

NEW YORK, July 14.—Admirers of the Herreshoff yacht Resolute looked for her to win another victory over the Vanitie today in the second of the series of three ocean races off Sandy Hook. The course selected was a 30-mile triangle. The Resolute had already won five of the six matches sailed this season with her rival for the honor of defending the America's cup.

SUBURBAN HANDICAP
NEW YORK, July 14.—The finest field of handicap races raced here in several years were held for the Suburban handicap at the opening day of the Empire City Racing association's meeting at Belmont park today.

The event was for three year olds and upward and the distance a mile and a quarter. Of the 11 entries, L. S. Thompson's Borrow, winner of the Kentucky handicap, was picked as favorite, but the entrants were of such quality and the weights so adjusted that turf followers were puzzled.

The list of entries included August Belmont's Stromboli and Top Hat; R. J. Mackenzie's Buckhorn, winner of the Brooklyn handicap a year ago; R. E. Wilson's Tartar who won the Brooklyn handicap this week; W. J. Webber's Hodge, which ran second in the Kentucky handicap; the Green Tree stable's Gainer; F. B. Lemaire's Norse King; S. L. Parsons' Sharpshooter; J. W. Meservy's Addie M.; and T. J. O'Brien's Sam Jackson.

Borrow carried top weight with 126 pounds. The race was for sweepstakes with $5000 added.

PITCHER FORD CANNED BY FEDS
BUFFALO, N. Y., July 14.—President Robertson of the Buffalo Federal league today confirmed reports that pitcher Russell Ford had been given the unconditional release. Inability to win games without the use of the "emery ball" was given as the reason.

ESTES' CIRCUIT SMASH

WON LOWELL'S FIRST OVERTIME VICTORY OF THE SEASON—SCORE 6 TO 5

Yesterday's game at Spalding park was one of those that fans like to recall when fanning during the winter months, as memory brings back remarkable instances on the diamond in the past. With five innings gone and the score 4 to 1 against Lowell and all indications pointing to defeat, Lowell won three men on base with one out, when Snubber Greenhalge, after having three and two called on him, smashed the ball out to the center field fence for a three-sacker, sending in three runs ahead of him. A moment later when Bowcock hit a grounder to McCleskey, Snubber beat out Jesse's throw to the plate, making the score a tie.

Then again in the first of the ninth with the score a tie and Worcester needed to send in two runs, Gardella sent a grass-cutter directly over third base at a mile a minute pace and good Howard Poney lunged at the flying sphere and knocking it down and himself over, picked up ball and himself and got onto the bag in time to catch the runner at third, spelling Worcester's last and best chance to win.

Finally in the 10th with the first two men out on flies to Pownall, who made pretty catches of both, Essex sent the ball over the left field fence for a home run, winning the game. Some victory that, and the 1000 fans who were present, certainly appreciated the fun, and likewise the good work of Manager Keckner, who pulled hard when things were breaking bad and made his boys fight uphill, with success.

Lohman and Daniels were the opposing pitchers, and while Worcester walloped Lowell twice as hard as the home team hit Daniels, and was aided by several errors on the base side, Lowell pulled out with a majority of runs, and let's the runs that count. At times it looked as if both pitchers might be pulled out, but Lowell's Daniels was entitled to remain on the mound on account of his batting for he hit safely twice, which is something unusual for a pitcher.

In the field Lowell was outplayed by the visitors. Pottenger made Worcester's only error at the very opening of the game, and it resulted in a run. Dee and Estey were the offenders on the Lowell end. Shorty was way off color, while, though Estes made two errors, his homerun at the finish squared accounts.

RANCH 101 HERE FRIDAY

DIG WILD WEST SHOW WITH JESSE WILLARD COMING—THE FEATURES

Scenes from the life of the far west, both past and present, are, it is announced, accentuated in the performance of Miller Bros. & Arlington's 101 Ranch Wild West Show, which Lowell will have an opportunity to see, in conjunction with Jesse Willard, the cowboy world's champion, and his company of sparrers, on Friday at the Fair grounds on Gorham street.

Willard, of course, is the much-discussed, much-heralded offering of the season, and easily ranks first among the interest-arousing features of the big show. Willard is a cowboy by training and instinct, and in the 101 Ranch show he is simply getting back to first principles. He will be seen at both performances in this city, first in his original role as a cowboy, and later in a boxing bout with one of his sparring partners, and in ring costume, when he will illustrate just how he gave Jack Johnson the knockout blow that gave the Kansan the world championship.

Among the other offerings made possible by a big congress of cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, Mexicans and other wild west people, is an attack on a pioneer's train of "prairie schooners" by Sioux Indians led by Chief Iron Bull, whose war experiences date back to the Custer battle and whose profile adorns the new "Buffalo" pickle; the capture and punishment of a horse thief, according to the summary code of the early days on the frontier; a stage coach hold-up, in which a big bunch of Mexicans are utilized; the pony express, showing how the mail was carried by means of relays of fast horses; a buffalo hunt, illustrating the Indian method of stalking the wild bison; Indian sun, green corn, ghost and war dances, led by the great Sioux medicine man, Lone Wolf; a round-up of long-horned cattle, in which the skill of the cowboys and, incidentally, Jess Willard, both as horseman and in handling the larrikin is shown; rough-riding, bull riding, and the dramatic cowgirls, and other exhilarating events. One of the season's novelties is a "silk hat tournament," in which a bunch of cowboys, mounted, wearing high hats and armed with short rolling whips, try to knock off the "tills" of their adversaries. For the purposes of the horseback riding contests, 100 horses have, it is announced, recently arrived from the 101 ranch at Ellis, Oklahoma.

The will be two performances, at 2:15 and 8:15, preceded by a characteristic Wild West parade at 10:30 in the morning.

CUSHING IS CONFIDENT

SPRINGFIELD, July 14.—"In the general lineup the younger men are with me and the older men with Mr. McCall, but I shall be nominated with quite a margin to spare," said Lieut. Gov. Cushing, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, at a fair-sized gathering of leading members of the party in this city at Hotel Kimball last night.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

There is said to be forming in Pawtucketville a company of cavalry for warlike purposes; for what other purpose can it have since the Fourth has passed and St. Patrick's day is so far away?

For several Sundays of late squads of horsemen have been seen riding and charging in the back woods and fields earnestly trying to perfect themselves in the art of horsemanship. Led and tutored by Ed Dean, who from the fact of being an accomplished rider is supposed to be the leader, the young men are fast getting familiar with their work. As the men emerge from the barracks in Fourth avenue they present a noble appearance, and become the targets of small boys' applause and the recipients of the admiring glances of the young ladies. If war with the Kaiser ensues the Pawtucketville troop will not doubt be ready. If it doesn't it will be prepared to uphold the honor of Pawtucketville in its fight for a new bridge, and could lead in an assault upon her traditional enemies. Some have suggested that the troop be employed as auxiliary to the police in running down fruit thieves who are long will begin operations in this district. Officer Frank Marshall will welcome their assistance in this. Others say, since they cannot have a traffic officer at the square, that the troop be detailed at that point. Tom Varnum allows they are all right if they keep off his cabbage. Connie says he's looking 'em over. Tom Murphy, with view of joining the troop, indulged in a little private practice but the horse he mounted has developed spinal trouble. Joe Perkins says the troop couldn't scatter a flock of sheep. And so it goes. Future events may occasion further remarks upon this latest Pawtucketville sensation.

Money and Society

Money is a great thing. It's a necessary commodity. It possesses a power for good and for evil. Used for good, it's a blessing. Used for evil, it's a curse. These are self-evident truths. The gift to acquire money few possess. The disposition to waste it is common, and from it the thrifty profit. Accepting the testimony of those whose wealth is great it then often becomes a burden, and those who possess it not being aware of the serious condition of his health; some, indeed, being ignorant of the nature of his malady so rapidly did it develop. Not since the death of George Coburn has an event so saddened the employees of the Courthouse company who from an association of nearly ten years had learned to esteem him for his unfailing, obliging spirit, and for his attainments, which were such a valuable asset of the paper he represented. The church which he regularly attended and in which he took an active interest, will experience a sense of loss in the absence of an acute loss, too, as we recall the disposition of so many young men neglectful of their churchly and religious duties and obligations. Among his associates wherever his daily vocation called him he will be missed. In the hearts of his intimate friends there is a void, an aching void, caused by his passing which time alone may fill with rare and lasting memories of him who was their friend.

Deep and respectful sympathy is felt with the parents, brother and sister of our late friend. We know how vain were human words to help assuage his sorrow or to bring a grief of this nature; yet those nearest and dearest to Robert Breckenridge perhaps can feel some consolation and take sober pride from the knowledge of the love and esteem in which their late son and brother was held; and in the fact that a life of clean thinking, clean living and earnest purpose was not lived in vain. The Lord giveth. The Lord taketh away; but, blessed be His name, the gift remaineth!

The River

The river for the past week has been offering a spectacle unusual in the summer season. Such a consistent high flow of water is unprecedented so far as the memory of the oldest inhabitant records. It has been a magnificent sight and still is owing to a break in the dam, causing the water to rush unrestricted and filling the rapids below. The river reached its highest mark on Saturday, registering more than seven feet above the dam which is some water for the month of July, and throughout its course took on many characteristics of a genuine spring freshet. July has certainly made a record for herself thus early in her career for rainfall, and with more than two weeks of life remaining has a chance to be held at bay by several inches. The rain has been a welcome and much-needed visitation and has conferred upon us, aside from things beautiful to look at, very material benefits for men to be thankful for.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

SILLY SPOTTY

One upon a time Snowball heard her little mistress say that the next day they were all going to the seashore for the summer so she ran to tell her friend Spotty, the dog, that they were going on a long trip. Spotty was very much pleased and told Snowball that he had heard cook say that all fish came from the water, and you know Spotty is very fond of fish.

The next day Snowball was put into a large basket with her blanket on the bottom and a large slit at the top for air. Spotty had a nice blanket in his basket too and off they started. When they reached the station both the baskets were set down on the floor and in a minute Snowball had her paw out of the slit and was trying her best to get out. Spotty was all in a heap in the very back of his basket, for he was frightened and didn't want to go any further. Soon they were in the train and in a few moments Snowball began to meow to be let out, but Spotty just curled up and went to sleep and refused to come out even after the basket was opened.

"All right," said Snowball, "I am going to have some fun and I think you are very silly to act like this." So Snowball walked about the seats and soon found a little girl who was sitting beside a window looking out. As Snowball thought she looked pleasant she jumped up in her lap. The little girl was startled at first, but as soon as she saw it was a little, fluffy, white kitten, she was delighted.

She gave the kitten some of her lunch and soon Snowball was fast asleep in her new friend's lap. When it was time to leave the train Snowball's mistress put her back in the basket and they soon arrived at their new home. Snowball felt fine and at once went to get Spotty to take a walk, but foolish Spotty stayed in the basket, saying he felt ill, and I guess he did, for he would not even eat the nice fish cook tried to give him for his supper.

"So silly of you to be afraid," said Snowball. "I am awfully hungry so I will eat your dinner as well as my own." Spotty says now that he feels better he will try and not be silly when it comes time to go home.

PLOT TO LYNCH FRANK

MILITIA ORDERED READY AT MACON, GA.—ROADS GUARDED TO STATE PRISON FARM

ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—Three companies of state militia at Macon were ordered held at their armory last night in readiness to proceed to the Milledgeville state farm, where Leo M. Frank is confined.

Gov. Harris announced the action after reports had been circulated that a plan was under way to attack the prison and lynch Frank.

The orders were issued by Adj. Gen. Nash, who, the governor explained, had blanket instructions to call out troops to protect state property.

Roads to Milledgeville from Atlanta, Marietta and other towns were guarded last night by county police. Frank recently began serving a life term for the murder of Mary Phagan, after his sentence of death was commuted by Gov. Staton.

THREE CHILDREN RESCUED

Coal Yard Employees Save Two and Policeman Third in Swift-Running River in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, July 14.—Annie Karalunas, aged 14, and her brothers John and Joseph, aged 13 and 6, respectively, whose home is 67 Brook street, were rescued from drowning in the Spicket river, near the East Haverhill street bridge, yesterday afternoon after they had been swept off their feet by the swift running water. Henry Lange and Fred Cote, employees at a coal yard close by, went into the stream and caught the two boys as they floated down and Policeman Patrick J. Morrissey waded into the water to his shoulders and secured the girl, who had clung to a stationary object.

HEIRS' SALE OF THE TAYLOR PROPERTY IN TWO SEPARATE PARCELS. FIRST PARCEL LOCATED AT NOS. 68-71 EXETER ST., CONSISTS OF A TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 4000 SQ. FEET OF LAND. SECOND PARCEL, AT NO. 67 EXETER ST., IS A COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 4400 SQ. FEET OF LAND.

FIRST PARCEL AT 3 O'CLOCK

An up-to-date two-tenement house with seven rooms, bath and pantry with each.

The flats are well arranged, every room airy and well lighted, excellent closet room, front and back stairs, separate front and back doors, side porch, and good dry cellar. The house is in excellent shape inside and out, it being built but a few years ago for its present owners. The flats rent for $15 each, making a yearly rental of $360. The lot has a large frontage on Exeter street, with an area of about 4000 square feet. Good yard room, all in lawn, with concrete walk around the house.

This parcel should interest the home-seeker, where he could occupy one tenement and have the income of the other.

Terms—$350 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off.

SECOND PARCEL AT 3.15 O'CLOCK

A two-story cottage house with slated roof, having eight rooms, pantry, bath and storeroom. On the first floor are hallway, parlor, sitting room, dining room, kitchen, bath, pantry and side vestibule. On the next floor are three large square chambers, well lighted, also storeroom, and above is a finished attic. This cottage is in splendid shape, inside and out, and is occupied by its present owners, and would easily rent for $15 per month. The lot, which is practically a corner one, has a good frontage, with an area of about 4400 square feet. Large lawn, several fruit trees, cherry, peach and pear and small shrubbery. This little home would have to be seen to be appreciated, and if you want to locate in Centralville, here is your opportunity.

Terms: $250 must be secured to the auctioneer as soon as struck off. Now, then, Mr. Homeowner and speculator, the above two parcels will be offered for absolute sale, regardless of any condition of the weather, and it is up to you to attend the sale, for it is seldom you get an opportunity to purchase this kind of property at absolute sale. The properties are within 15 minutes' walk of Merrimack square, near to many large industries, schools and churches.

All inquiries must be made of the auctioneer, who has full charge.
C. F. KEYES, Auctioneer.

FELL FROM STAGING

LOUIS GINGRAS INJURED WHILE AT WORK IN WILMINGTON—SENT TO HOSPITAL

Louis Gingras, residing at 753 Moody street, suffered a painful accident yesterday afternoon while at his work for the Scannell Boiler Works at Wilmington. Mr. Gingras, with another workman, was stationed on a staging. He was holding a motor in his arms, and was pitched to the ground, a height of about 12 feet, when the staging broke. He received several bad lacerations on the body, but fortunately did not fracture any bones. His companion was uninjured. Mr. Gingras was removed to his home and later to the Lowell hospital for treatment.

WOMAN AND CHILD DEAD

DIED FROM GAS POISONING IN BOSTON—UNANSWERED NOTE ADDRESSED TO S. ORRINGTON, ME.

BOSTON, July 14.—An unsigned note addressed to Edward Powers, South Orrington, Me., is the only clew which Medical Examiner Magrath and the Boston police have to the identity of the woman and child found dead of gas poisoning on the top floor of the building house at 67 Revere street, West End, yesterday afternoon.

The note states the writer's intention of committing suicide by gas, and indicates that family troubles led to the act. No name is signed to the note nor was there anything in the effects of the woman and child which assisted the medical examiner in establishing an identity.

ARGENTINE BEEF

Conditions Governing Competition Are To Be Disclosed at Hearing in Chicago Today

NEW YORK, July 14.—Conditions governing the competition between the meat packers of Chicago and South American concerns shipping Argentine beef to this country are to be disclosed in a hearing before the interstate commerce commission opening here today. A. H. Benjamin of New York, agent of the Compania Sanguinera de Buenos Aires and the frigorificos Uruguayos, has asked the commission to give them facilities to sell beef in New York and elsewhere in the east which will enable them to meet the competition of the American packers.

The eastern trunk line railroads involved in Mr. Benjamin's complaint included the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and the Lehigh Valley.

The complainants asked the interstate commerce commission to direct the railroads to give them a refrigerated service that is owned by the railroads and not by an American packer and that the fleet car service which they formerly enjoyed in New York harbor be restored.

"This is an important matter to the public," Mr. Benjamin said. "It is Argentine beef that is holding down the price of American beef. If there were no supply of Argentine beef here American beef would be selling at least four cents a pound above the present price."

BOY'S BODY RECOVERED

The body of John Wozniak, aged 7 years, who was drowned in the Merrimack river Saturday afternoon, was found floating in the river about a half mile from where the accident occurred, this morning. The gruesome find was made at 5.45 o'clock by Albert Florey, Undertaker A. D. Doucette was notified and the body was removed to his morgue in Moody street and subsequently to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wozniak, 76 West Fourth street.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The labor forward committee, composed of representatives of the Trades & Labor council and various labor organizations of this city, held a meeting last night at their hall in Kneel's building and transacted considerable business. President Frank Warrack occupied the chair and reports of committees showing progress were heard. The finance committee made a report of the finances of the committee and a copy of it will be sent to all local organizations.

Labor Day Celebration
The Trades & Labor council is making arrangements for the celebration of Labor day in this city and according to reports the affair is progressing rapidly. A committee will be appointed at tomorrow evening's meeting and it is predicted this year's celebration will be the best ever.

Open Meeting
An open meeting for the Polish workers of this city will be held Sunday afternoon at 32 Middle street. The meeting is being called for the purpose of recruiting Polish people into labor organizations. The meeting will be held at 2 o'clock and the gathering will be addressed by prominent labor men in their native tongue.

Carpenters

The members of local 49, Carpenters' union, held an important meeting last night. Routine business was transacted and the matter of taking part in the Labor day parade was taken up, but no definite action was taken.

Helme Electric Co.

The plant of the Helme Electric Co. in Lawrence street is now in operation day and night. An additional force of 90 men was put to work on Tuesday evening and it is reported that present conditions at the plant will prevail for about 12 months.

Don Marche

All is now in readiness for the annual outing of the employees of the Don Marche, which will be held tomorrow at Nantasket beach. The trip to the summer resort will be made by electric cars as far as Boston and from there the party will board the steamers for the beach. Dinner will be enjoyed at the Palm Garden and the afternoon will be devoted to sporting events.

Pollard Co.'s Outing

The outing committee of the A. G.

Pollard Co. Employees Mutual Benefit association have completed all arrangements for their 12th annual outing which will be held Thursday at Nantasket beach. Through the courtesy of the officials of the company, the store will be closed all day. The trip to the summer resort will be made by special train and boat. A shore dinner will be served and the afternoon will be devoted to sporting and athletic events.

Saunders' Market

The employees of Saunders' market will enjoy an afternoon and evening at Revere beach tomorrow. The excursionists will leave Merrimack St. at 11.45 o'clock by special electric car.

Arthur Pelletier of Pelletier & LeGoux and Horve Parthenals of the Lowell pharmacy will leave next week on a two-weeks' automobile trip in the course of which they will visit Plattsburg, Albany, N. Y., and Montreal, Quebec.

The following clerks employed at the Talbot Clothing Co. are out on a two-weeks' vacation: Oliver Beauregard, P. J. Coombs, Arthur Wellbrenner, William Ferguson and Robert McIninch.

Miss Marie Louise Bedard and Miss

Aurora Vigeant of Pelletier & LeGoux are spending two weeks at the beach. Sattio Nicolatos of Roy & O'Heir is spending two weeks at Crystal Lake. Walter Doherty of the Caesar Misch store is enjoying a week's vacation.

AFFECTING POLYGAMY

Judge Howell Gives Opinion on Child Born of Plural Wives—Must be Acknowledged by the Father

OGDEN, Utah, July 14.—That children born of plural wives cannot be legally recognized as heirs unless they have been acknowledged by the father as his children, is the construction placed by Judge James A. Howell, on the Utah statutes affecting polygamy. The opinion was brought out in his instructions to the jury considering the case of Albert Geddes, or Eccles against the David Eccles estate by which the 16-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Geddes is endeavoring to establish heirship to the Eccles estate on the ground that David Eccles was his father by a plural marriage in 1893 and that he acknowledged him as his son.

Judge Howell is a Mormon as also are the plaintiff and defendants in the suit. The judge instructed the jury to consider only evidence regarding the alleged plural marriage as affecting the possibility of the acknowledgement having been made. This is the first construction of the status of children of plural marriages since Utah became a state. The court holds that the acknowledgement need not be public but is binding even if made in secret and confidentially.

CAR CRASHED INTO AUTO

DEDHAM, July 14.—An automobile and electric car came together on Washington st. this town yesterday, causing injuries to three men and giving two score persons a good scare. The accident occurred near the Stevens greenhouses, near where a similar accident happened two years ago.

Edwin P. Gilliland was driving the auto, Howard Barry and Stephen Hunt, passengers, were injured. As was Oscar A. Benson, the motorman.

At the foot of a hill a car of the Day State Street Railway, bound for Forest Hills, crashed into the rear of the auto, hurling it across the street, over a board walk and through a fence where it stopped on the brink of a 25-foot embankment. The auto had been run on the car tracks to pass a hay wagon and a farm wagon on either side of the road.

SWALLOWED DIAMOND RING

WORCESTER, July 14.—Henry Lamarc, aged 26, of Boston, was taken last night on complaint of Rudolph Libby, a jeweler at 155A Front street, who accuses Lamarc of stealing a diamond ring and swallowing it when pressed by Libby and the police after running out of the store with the ring. He is held on a charge of drunkenness and larceny.

NEED OF RURAL CREDITS

MYRON T. HERRICK URGES ESTABLISHMENT OF CO-OPERATIVE ORGANIZATION OF FARMERS

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 14.—In an address on "The Need of Rural Credits" before the National Fertilizer association convention today, Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France, urged as a remedy for whatever trouble exists in rural communities, the establishment of co-operative organizations of farmers. The greatest of all the needs of American agriculture is, in Mr. Herrick's opinion, organized selling and purchasing power.

EXTREME HEAT IN ALASKA

JUNEAU, Alaska, July 14.—Extreme heat has prevailed during the last ten days in southeastern Alaska. The weather bureau thermometer has registered as high as 90 degrees in the shade, and the 100 degree mark has been reached by street thermometers. Forest fires are raging along Lynn Canal and the glaciers have been discharging ice at an extraordinary rate. At this time of the year the sun shines 20 of the 24 hours each day and to abnormal heat the usual southwest winds is attributed the excessive heat.

FIRE IN CONCORD, MASS.

CONCORD, July 14.—The explosion of a gas machine used for heating irons resulted late yesterday in a fire which destroyed the laundry on Commonwealth avenue, Concord Junction, conducted by Mrs. Eva Harleaux of Marlboro. The loss is estimated at $300.

THE BRITISH NEED OF MUNITIONS TURNS CHURCH INTO WORKSHOP

SHELL FACTORY IN CHURCH VESTRY

EDINBURGH, July 13.—The Rev. Percival McKenzie, rector of St. James' Scottish church, Goose Green, has turned the little vestry of the church into a factory for the making of war munitions. About a dozen able-bodied men, of the business and professional classes chiefly, have placed their services at the disposal of the rector. The photo shows parishioners at work on submarine periscopes.
